

USF APPLICATION ESSAY SAMPLE

Prompt: What matters to you, and why?

I believe that there is only a short list of things that is supposed to really matter. They have been signed off on, supported by culture, and usually comes as a result of several years of evolution. Certain things such as family, friendship or perseverance are included among these things. Of course, there is nothing really wrong about them, but I feel that I belong to a generation that is raised by movies and television, with video games and comic books on the side.

What really matters to me is that all of the important things that I feel are important are the very same ones that are viewed as important by anybody else, regardless of the generation in which they belong to. I feel that personification is extremely important, a figure that I can look up to. For me, it is Steve Rogers.

Well, Steve Rogers is Captain America, and he is not thing but a character in a comic book. However, I was looking for personification, and I see it in him. I believe that friendship is something that is important and should be valued by anyone. Friends are an extension of anyone's family. Captain America commits to his friends as he fights against the Winter Solider. He throws his shield aside to avoid striking his friend, and more.

Also, perseverance is not really common in my generation. We just give up in times of adversity. However, everytime I look at Captain America, I refuse to back down. Before turning into a super soldier, he also did his best. All he did was standing for what's right, and that is what I would like to stand for as well.

I know that the personification of my understanding is a person who is not real. However, if his personality and character can influence me to become a better person, I would still continue to look at him the way I am viewing him now.

Spy Schools Daniel Golden, 2024-08-06 An expos revealing how academia has become the center of foreign and domestic espionage and why that is troubling news for our nation s security Grounded in extensive research and reporting Pulitzer Prize winning journalist Daniel Golden's Spy Schools reveals how academia has emerged as a frontline in the global spy game. In a knowledge based economy universities are repositories of valuable information and research where brilliant minds of all nationalities mingle freely with few questions asked. Intelligence agencies have always recruited bright undergraduates but now in an era when espionage increasingly requires specialized scientific or technological expertise they're wooing higher level academics not just as analysts but also for clandestine operations. Golden uncovers unbelievable campus activity from the CIA placing agents undercover in Harvard Kennedy School classes and staging academic conferences to persuade Iranian nuclear scientists to defect to a Chinese graduate student at Duke University stealing research for an invisibility cloak and a tiny liberal arts college in Marietta Ohio exchanging faculty with China's most notorious spy school. He shows how relentlessly and ruthlessly this practice has permeated our culture not just inside the US but internationally as well. Golden blows the lid off this secret culture of espionage and its consequences at home and abroad. Whether you are a teacher student or parent Daniel Golden's closely researched account of the assault on our academic freedoms by home grown intelligence services is timely and shocking. John le Carr. It's real life Spy vs Spy a fascinating book. Washington Post
