Boaz, 2021-02-18 Banning Black Gods is a global examination of the legal challenges faced by adherents of the most widely practiced African derived religions in the twenty first century including Santeria Lucumi Haitian Vodou Candomblé Palo Mayombe Umbanda Islam Rastafari Obeah and Voodoo Examining court cases laws human rights reports and related materials Danielle N Boaz argues that restrictions on African diaspora religious freedom constitute a unique and pervasive form of anti Black discrimination Emphasizing that these twenty first century cases and controversies are not a new phenomenon but rather a reemergence of colonial era ideologies and patterns of racially motivated persecution Boaz focuses each chapter on a particular challenge to Black religious freedom She examines issues such as violence against devotees restrictions on the ritual slaughter of animals limitations on the custodial rights of parents and judicial refusals to recognize these faiths as protected religions Boaz introduces new issues that have never been considered as a question of religious freedom before such as the right of Palo Mayombe devotees to possess remains of the dead and she brings together controversies that have not been previously regarded as analogous such as the right to wear headscarves and the right to wear dreadlocks in schools Framing these issues in comparative perspective and focusing on transnational and transregional issues Boaz advances our understanding of the larger human rights disputes that country specific studies can overlook Original and compelling this important new book will be welcomed by students and scholars of African diaspora religions and discerning readers interested in learning more about the history of racial discrimination The Law Reports, 1928 Cases Argued and Decided in the Supreme Court of the United States United States. Supreme Court, 1921 United States Reports United States. Supreme Court, 1944

Racial Profiling Steven J. Muffler, 2006 In recent years racial profiling has drawn the attention of state and federal governments In this book racial profiling is defined as the practice of targeting individuals for police or security interdiction detention or other disparate treatment based primarily on their race ethnicity or national origin in the belief that certain minority groups are more likely to engage in unlawful behaviour Assertions that law enforcement personnel at all levels unfairly target certain racial and ethnic groups particularly but not exclusively for traffic stops and searches have raised concerns about violations of the Constitution The major debate on racial profiling centres on whether the practice should be prohibited entirely and whether data on traffic stops and searches should be collected to determine if the practice is occurring This book gathers presents the major issues available data and analyses important to understanding on the most dangerous and divisive practices of our time Rulers, Nomads, and Christians in Roman North Africa Brent D.

Shaw, 2024-10-28 The studies collected in this volume cover three broad areas of the history of North Africa as part of the Roman Empire Studies devoted to the history of political institutions are followed by ones that detail aspects of interactions between nomad and sedentarist communities in the African provinces The book concludes with two studies on African christianity In all of these special attention is given to the indigenous institutions economies and beliefs that informed the confrontation between African and Roman The studies in general argue for a strongly interactionist approach to historians reconstruction of the history of the period and the region a perspective that would emphasise the continuous conflict between the two world of African and Roman Records and Briefs of the United States Supreme Court, 1832 A
