clean and renewable energy in developing countries reached 10.9 billion in 2019, a 23.6% decrease from 2018. This decline occurred even before the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic. Over a longer five-year moving average, average annual commitments decreased for the first time since 2008, from 17.5 billion in 2014 to 16.6 billion in 2015. Although developing countries achieved a record of 245.7 watts per capita in installed renewable energy generating capacity in 2020, small island developing States, least developed countries, and landlocked developing countries have lagged behind. It would take least developed countries and landlocked developing countries nearly 40 years and small island developing States almost 15 years to reach the same level of progress as the average developing country in 2020. The 2023 SEDRC conference, titled Sustainable Development and Education, aims to redefine the understanding of research in the continent's development and the role of researchers. The conference focusses on applied research discussions and its dissemination. Researchers from research institutions, academicians, postgraduate students, politicians, and industry representatives will be the primary audience for the conference proceedings.

War, Women and Post-conflict Empowerment Josephine Beoku-Betts, Fredline A. M'Cormack-Hale, 2022-01-13. Since the 1991-2002 civil conflict ended in Sierra Leone, the country has failed to translate the accomplishments of women's involvement in bringing the war to an end into meaningful political empowerment. This is in marked contrast to other post-conflict countries which have increased the political participation of women in elected and appointed office, increased the representation of women in leadership positions, and enacted constitutional reforms promoting women's rights. Written by Sierra Leonean and Africanist scholars and experts from a broad range of disciplines, this unique volume analyses the historical and contextual factors influencing women's political, economic, and social development in the country. In drawing on a diverse array of case studies from health to education, refugees to international donors, the contradictions, successes, and challenges of women's lives in a post-conflict environment are revealed, making this an essential book for anyone involved in women and development.

The Diverse Facets of Corruption in Sierra Leone Emmanuel Saffa Abdulai, Ina Kubbe, 2024-07-15. This edited volume delves into Sierra Leone's complex post-conflict landscape. It posits that the nation's path to peace and stability hinges on robust anticorruption measures. The chapters explore Sierra Leoneans' unique perception of corruption, reflecting its political, economic, legal, and socio-cultural dimensions. Moving away from mere theoretical abstraction, the book pulls together fascinating practical discussions on the success and challenges of anti-corruption tools used in Sierra Leone. Approaches used to explain corruption in this postwar fragile democratic country include issues like non-conviction based asset recovery and how it works, unexplained wealth, exposes lifestyle offences, accountability of the judiciary, and how judicial institutions can become a predator, the role of the media in the fight against corruption, the part of culture and history in engraining corruption, patrimonialism as an explanation of corruption, and social norms and sociological exposition to explain corruption.

The Political Economy of Heaven and Earth in Ghana Charles Prempeh,2023-09-30 In March 2017 the president of Ghana Nana Addo Dankwa Akufo announced his intention to build a national cathedral to the people of Ghana The announcement elicited watertight counter arguments that morphed into two a priori re litigated assumptions First Ghana is a secular country and second religion and state formation are incompatible Informed by a frustrating paradox of an overwhelming religious presence and concurrent pervasive corruption in the country public conversation reached a cul de sac of conviction without compromising In The Political Economy of Heaven and Earth in Ghana Charles Prempeh deploys the national cathedral as an entry point to provide both interdisciplinary and autoethnographic understanding of religion and politics The book shows the capacity of religion when properly cultivated and curated as a worldview to answer the why questions of life will foster personal moral collective and ontological responsibility All this is needed to stem the tide against corruption commodity fetishism environmental degradation illegal mining galamsey heritage destruction and religious exploitation Prempeh recuperates a historical fact about the mutual inclusivity between religion and politics politics helping to manage differences while religion provides a transcendental reason for unity to be forged for human flourishing Separating the two is therefore ahistorical and an obvious threat to the intangible virtues that answers why and how questions for public governance

Community Participation in School Management Kazuro Shibuya,2022-09-12 Nobody denies that trust in schools is key to success in generating any educational outcomes However trust is often eroded resulting in conflicts alienation and differentiation among school level stakeholders This book analyses school based management SBM of education through the lens of relational trust in the context of Ghana revealing how community participation in school management leads to educational outcomes Conducting quantitative analysis of headteacher questionnaires from public basic schools and qualitative analysis of case study schools in the Akatsi South District of Ghana Shibuya offers critical insights into building sustainable relationships between individual households and geographical school communities He argues it is critical to highlight relational trust as an analytical tool to examine relationships between actors and factors in school management The research finds that trust in schools is a two way mechanism and the mutuality of expectations and obligations among stakeholders is essential if children s learning outcomes are to improve With its mixed methods approach this book will be a valuable resource for scholars in comparative education those in educational development and those interested in African contexts

Transforming Healthcare in Africa Robert Dibie,2025-01-14 The current available books and literature that shed light on health policies in many African countries are limited Transforming Healthcare in Africa A Comparative Analysis by Professor Robert Dibie examines the key players in the health system game in many African countries It explores the regulatory regimes that impact the health systems such as the Ministry of Health It also provides few case studies of the relationship between the government the environment and their citizens Apart from filling the gap in the healthcare policy in African literature the authors also seek to examine the impacts of weak health policies and the inability to effectively formulate solid initiatives for capacity building that could lead to enhanced healthcare delivery for all their citizens Thus Dibié's book provides evidence to inform scholarly discussion on the best approaches to strengthen healthcare delivery and public health capacity in many African countries The book also sought to answer six research questions 1 How is healthcare delivery perceived by African countries 2 How are healthcare policies implemented in urban and rural regions or local governments in African countries 3 To what extent are current health services delivered to respond to all citizens needs in African countries 4 What is the current capacity for rural or local governments to effectively engage in health service delivery 5 How can citizens living in rural and urban regions be empowered in the health development delivery system and 6 Which is the best evidence based management system adopted to improve affordable healthcare system in many African countries It also fills the gap in the literature of health systems in Africa
