Selected Training Practices for Military Operations in Urban Terrain (MOUT) Robert H. Sulzen, 1997 The Army and Marine Corps both consider Military Operations in Urban Terrain MOUT to be a central part of future training and together have a joint MOUT Advanced Concept Technology Demonstration ACTD underway Training facilities for military and law enforcement agencies include firing ranges mock towns or villages and shoot houses Makeshift facilities for dry fire drills include engineer tape staked out on the ground and rooms in any building available Training in Close Quarter Combat CQC is offered in Army and Marine Corps training courses Training time was mostly allocated to live fire and live simulation Team dry fire drills were often extensively practiced before team live fire but considered as a part of the safety training required as a part of live firing Before team live fire training Army units usually conduct individual marksmanship training In many cases standards were set for individual qualification before soldiers could participate in team live fire Live simulation was both with the multiple integrated laser engagement system MILES and Simunition Law enforcement agencies including Military Police and Marines were more likely to use Simunition Those using Simunition who also had experience with MILES preferred Simunition for live simulation training DITC
