

Political Cartoon - Use the cartoon to help answer the following questions.

1. Who is talking to Uncle Sam?
2. What is Uncle Sam intending to do?
3. Why is Uncle Sam being told he's playing with dynamite?
4. How is Uncle Sam helping Britain?

Hot Text - Answer the question below.

This excerpt is from an educational journal published in 1938.

The conflict is still sharpening throughout the world between two political systems. The <sup>1</sup>one system represents government by freedom of choice exercised by the individual citizens. In the other, an opposing system, <sup>2</sup>individual freedom and initiative are all made subordinate to the totalitarian state. In this conflict the part which education plays in each ideology is crucial. Democracy cannot succeed unless those who express their choice are prepared to choose wisely. <sup>3</sup>The real safeguard is education. It has been well said that <sup>4</sup>no system of government gives so much to the individual or exacts so much as a democracy.

-President Roosevelt, September 1938

English Learners Left Behind Kate Menken, 2008-01-01. This book explores how high stakes tests mandated by No Child Left Behind have become de facto language policy in U.S. schools, detailing how testing has shaped curriculum and instruction and the myriad ways that tests are now a defining force in the daily lives of English Language Learners and the educators who serve them.

New Directions in Assessing Historical Thinking Kadriye Ercikan, Peter Seixas, 2015-02-20. New technologies have radically transformed our relationship to information in general and to little bits of information in particular. The assessment of history learning, which for a century has valued those little bits as the centerpiece of its practice, now faces not only an unprecedented glut but a disconnect with what is valued in history education More complex processes historical thinking historical consciousness or historical sense making demand more complex assessments At the same time advances in scholarship on assessment open up new possibilities For this volume Kadriye Ercikan and Peter Seixas have assembled an international array of experts who have collectively moved the fields of history education and assessment forward Their various approaches negotiate the sometimes conflicting demands of theoretical sophistication empirically demonstrated validity and practical efficiency Key issues include articulating the cognitive goals of history education the relationship between content and procedural knowledge the impact of students language literacy on history assessments and methods of validation in both large scale and classroom assessments New Directions in Assessing Historical Thinking is a critical research oriented resource that will advance the conceptualization design and validation of the next generation of history assessments
