

JANUARY ... DOES IT BRING YOU JOY?

- 1 January is the time for renewal on many fronts. It's the time of the year to re-evaluate everything. If something or someone doesn't bring you joy, it's pretty pointless carrying on with it. If we want the best, we must do our best. We must keep our family space safe and secure so that we are thriving as a people and as a nation. 5
- 2 In order to live their best lives, people are spreading themselves thinner and thinner with multiple streams of income. In the process we earn more but live less, we lose our focus of what is important.
- 3 With social media, keeping up with other Instagrammers are having a devastating effect on self-perception. Everything appears to be real perfect, but the fabric of our society is frazzled. Use January to take stock and start navigating new ways of doing things. Instead of multiple streams of sole sessions, travel more, and connect with people and places that bring you joy. 10

Teacher Training 2013 English Question Paper:

English Language Teacher Education Minh Hue Nguyen, 2019-07-16 This book examines a range of complex issues concerning the professional experience i.e. practicum in English language teacher education with regard to curriculum design and implementation as well as professional learning. Drawing on a sociocultural perspective it explores the context of the professional experience preservice teachers as learners of English language teaching and the activity of learning to teach English language in connection with interrelated contextual and personal issues. Contextual issues such as policies, curricula, university-school partnerships and mentoring relations are investigated in relation to personal issues such as the beliefs, expectations, prior educational experiences, previous teaching experiences and cultural/linguistic backgrounds of preservice teachers. In turn, the book addresses professional learning issues including professional identity development, emotional experiences and pedagogical learning in depth. The book delves into the qualitative, fine-grained aspects of the professional experience while also making valuable conceptual contributions through a sociocultural analysis of the professional learning experience which can also be applied to research in other teacher education contexts. The findings presented here hold practical implications for English language teacher education in terms of developing a knowledge base for English language teaching and an effective model of professional experience to prepare English language teachers for working in today's expanded, diverse and dynamic neoliberal contexts.

Handbook of Research on Teachers of Color and Indigenous Teachers Conra D. Gist, Travis J. Bristol, 2022-10-15 Teachers of Color and Indigenous Teachers are underrepresented in public schools across the United States of America with Black Indigenous and People of Color making up roughly 37% of the adult population and 50% of children but just 19% of the teaching force. Yet research over decades has indicated their positive impact on student learning and social and emotional development particularly for Students of Color and Indigenous Students. A first of its kind, the Handbook of Research on Teachers of Color and Indigenous Teachers addresses key issues and obstacles to ethnoracial diversity across the life course of teachers' careers such as recruitment and retention, professional development and the role of minority-serving institutions. Including chapters from leading researchers and policy makers, the Handbook is designed to be an important resource to help bridge the gap between scholars, practitioners and policy makers. In doing so, this research will serve as a launching pad for discussion and change at this critical moment in our country's history. The volume's goal is to drive conversations around the issue of ethnoracial teacher diversity and to provide concrete practices for policy makers and practitioners to enable them to make evidence-based decisions for supporting an ethnoracially diverse educator workforce now and in the future.

Developing Reflective TESOL Practitioners Through Teacher Education Andrzej Cirocki, Mark Wyatt, Xuesong (Andy) Gao, 2024-06-26 This textbook provides insights from Asian contexts into how reflective practice is nurtured on Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) and English Language Teaching (ELT) teacher education programmes. There is increasing recognition worldwide that given the centrality of reflective practice to teachers ongoing professional development supporting teachers to become reflective practitioners should be integral to teacher education programmes Consequently tertiary level courses in areas such as TESOL and ELT tend to promote reflective practice supported by theoretical input from the burgeoning literature on reflection much of which is produced in the West Relatively under represented in the literature are global perspectives on reflective practice there are consequently relatively few accounts as to how reflective practice is embedded in teacher education programmes in different parts of the world including Asia Hence this book addresses a gap Contributing authors from fourteen countries provide insights into the ways in which teachers are helped to grow as reflective practitioners on their teacher education programmes in their unique contexts This textbook showcases how reflective teaching practices are developed supported by frameworks for critical reflection and in interaction with local educational policies These distinctive accounts aid readers in reflecting on the ways in which reflective practice is supported in their own teacher education contexts and in considering ways of enhancing the reflective dimension of their programmes This textbook showcases innovative reflective activities and can be used as a principal text or as supplemental reading on a range of TESOL and ELT teacher education courses

Diversity in Mathematics Education Alan Bishop, Hazel Tan, Tasos N Barkatsas, 2014-09-20 This book presents a research focus on diversity and inclusivity in mathematics education The challenge of diversity largely in terms of student profiles or contextual features is endemic in mathematics education and is often argued to require differentiation as a response Typically different curricula text materials task structures or pedagogies are favoured responses but huge differences in achievement still result If we in mathematics education seek to challenge that status quo more research must be focussed not just on diversity but also on the inclusivity of practices in mathematics education The book is written by a group of experienced collaborating researchers who share this focus It is written for researchers research students teachers and in service professionals who recognise both the challenges but also the opportunities of creating and evaluating new inclusive approaches to curriculum and pedagogy ones that take for granted the positive values of diversity Several chapters report new research in this direction The authors are part of or have visited with the mathematics education staff of the Faculty of Education at Monash University in Melbourne Australia The chapters all focus on the ideas of development in both research and practice recognising that the current need is for new inclusive approaches The studies presented are set in different contexts including Australia China the United States and Singapore

Language Teacher Education and Technology Jeong-Bae Son, Scott Windeatt, 2017-06-29 Language teachers competencies in computer assisted language learning CALL are a crucial factor affecting their own implementation of CALL However there is still a concern that many language teachers are not adequately prepared to make effective use of CALL or to identify and evaluate potential CALL solutions This can be the result of many different factors and raises the question of how to train teachers to develop their CALL knowledge and skills to a greater degree The discussion of approaches to training language teachers in the use of technology adopted in areas of Australia the UK and the US provides valuable insights for those already involved in this area and inspiration for those who have some interest in carrying out this kind of training but as yet have little or no experience This book explores the current status of CALL teacher education and discusses issues and challenges CALL teacher educators face in their own contexts Specifically it looks at postgraduate CALL courses offered at different universities to find ways of improving CALL teacher training It represents the first overview of a topic that is relevant to most postgraduate courses in Applied Linguistics or TESOL across the globe The use of technology for language learning and teaching is increasingly common but as is so often the case training for teachers in how to use that technology remains limited to a large extent by lack of expertise among trainers
