Teaching Through The Storm A Journal Of Hope:

Teaching Through the Storm Karen Hale Hankins, 2003-01-01 In this beautifully written narrative a first grade teacher takes us into her classroom during an emotionally stormy year Ride the storm with Hankins as she struggles to address the pressing emotional needs of her disparate students while also meeting their need for literacy development Teaching Through the Storm Karen Hale Hankins, 2003 This title describes the dilemmas of classroom life in an attempt to provide a counterpoint to those who have spun education and politics together as if platitudes were solutions It presents an insider perspective on the buoyant hopes of teachers and the sometimes stark realities they face Autobiography on the Spectrum Beth A. Myers, 2019-05-24 Autobiography on the Spectrum challenges prevailing notions about autism by offering a critically unconventional perspective the viewpoint of adolescents who are themselves on the spectrum Examining a year long inquiry Myers highlights the autobiographical works of the students through writing photography poetry art and more She argues that autistic youth are not being accurately depicted in current research not because they are unable to represent their own experiences but because their experiences are not always valued In contrast this book explores how autistic youth can and do represent themselves and shows educators how to create a space for the voices of these students Offering a deep look into a world that is rarely seen Autobiography on the Spectrum is a critical resource for teacher preparation and professional learning in any field that interacts with individuals with autism or other disabilities A powerful counternarrative to deficit perspectives that characterize autism in terms of deficiency and disease Curt Dudley Marling professor emeritus Boston College This book needs to be in the hands of teachers everywhere Douglas Biklen dean emeritus Syracuse University School of Education and co producer of Academy Award nominated documentary Autism is a World This important book illustrates many ways educators can expand how they listen to autistic children and adolescents Paula Kluth consultant author and independent scholar Creating Educational Justice Cheryl Fields-Smith, 2025-03-12 A thoughtful research based discussion of Black homeschool experiences as models for educational improvement in K 12 public education

Tep Vol 29-N3 Teacher Education and Practice, 2016-09-20 Teacher Education and Practice a peer refereed journal is dedicated to the encouragement and the dissemination of research and scholarship related to professional education The journal is concerned in the broadest sense with teacher preparation practice and policy issues related to the teaching profession as well as being concerned with learning in the school setting The journal also serves as a forum for the exchange of diverse ideas and points of view within these purposes As a forum the journal offers a public space in which to critically examine current discourse and practice as well as engage in generative dialogue Alternative forms of inquiry and representation are invited and authors from a variety of backgrounds and diverse perspectives are encouraged to contribute Teacher Education Practice is published by Rowman Littlefield Democratic Education in Practice Matthew Knoester, 2015-04-25 The Mission Hill School founded by MacArthur Award winner Deborah Meier and colleagues in 1997 is a small public school that has rethought almost everything about the process of teaching and learning Beyond richly describing and evaluating this high achieving school the author argues that democratic education is increasingly difficult in this era of testing and standardization and that a school such as Mission Hill must be continually thoughtful innovative and courageous in counteracting systemic inequality This in depth examination is essential reading for anyone interested in how to better understand seemingly intractable problems related to urban public education in the United States Book Features An exemplary model of democratic education that shows the inner workings of a largely teacher governed school A rare example of an urban school implementing Dewey influenced progressive pedagogy In depth descriptions of an anti racist and culturally relevant pedagogy and curriculum A close examination of successful practices including shared decision making intensive problem solving and looking at student work Matthew Knoester is a National Board Certified Teacher and former teacher at the Mission Hill School in Boston He received his Ph D in Curriculum and Instruction from the University of Wisconsin Madison and is currently Assistant Professor of Education at the University of Evansville Matthew Knoester has done us an enormous favor by showing us in detail what could be one example of how schools can be the building blocks for democracy recreating community for all to taste feel hear and see From the Foreword by Deborah W Meier This is exactly the kind of book that is so necessary at this time Schools can be respectful responsive and caring places Matthew Knoester gives us a detailed picture of such a school If more people would read books such as this the national debate on education would be all the better for it Michael W Apple John Bascom Professor of Curriculum and Instruction and Educational Policy Studies University of Wisconsin Madison Knoester s account of the Mission Hill School captures the habits of mind needed if public schools are to be truly democratic in spirit and in practice centered on the children and as Deborah Meier so powerfully advocates protected from those policies and social forces that accept and perpetuate disengagement and inequality in our children s education Linda McSpadden McNeil Professor of Education Rice University author of Contradictions of School Reform To those who have never seen the Mission Hill School in Boston it may sound like a magical place The good news is that it is real and Knoester shows us through his compelling narrative how and why they have been able to achieve so much For educators students and parents this book will be a source of inspiration At a time when our policymakers and many so called reformers are actively undermining support for public education this important book will serve as a reminder that we can do a much better job at educating all children Pedro Noguera Executive Director Metropolitan Center for Urban Education New York University

Raising Race Questions Ali Michael, 2015 Conversations about race can be confusing contentious and frightening particularly for White people Even just asking questions about race can be scary because we are afraid of what our questions might reveal about our ignorance or bias Raising Race Questions invites teachers to use inquiry as a way to develop sustained engagement with challenging racial questions and to do so in community so that they learn how common their questions actually are It lays out both a process for getting to questions that lead to growth and change as well as a vision for where engagement with race questions might lead Race questions are not meant to lead us into a quagmire of guilt discomfort or isolation Sustained race inquiry is meant to lead to anti racist classrooms positive racial identities and a restoration of the wholeness of spirit and community that racism undermines Book Features Case studies of expert and experienced White teachers who still have questions about race Approaches for talking about race in the K 12 classroom Strategies for facilitating race conversations among adults A variety of different resources useful in the teacher inquiry groups described in the book Research with teachers not on teachers including written responses from each teacher whose classroom is featured in the book In Raising Race Questions Ali Michael is an excavator determined to dig into every unexplored crevice of White teachers experiences with race in order to unearth the complex realities of racism and schooling and a model of reflective inquiry willing to lay herself and her assumptions bare in service to the reader s consciousness and her own This book grew my consciousness in multiple ways and that is the greatest gift an author can give me Paul Gorski founder EdChange associate professor George Mason University Ali Michael has a gift for getting people talking This must read book captures her magic and shares useful strategies for teachers and schools working to develop their racial proficiency As a White teacher engaged in this work I ve watched these tools help educators support one another as they make mistakes reflect and grow together Lynn Eckerman Teacher Independence Charter School Philadelphia PA

A Critical Inquiry Framework for K-12 Teachers JoBeth Allen,Lois Alexander,2015-04-25 This dynamic book provides powerful ideas to guide pedagogy and a curriculum model for helping students connect with issues in their lives while meeting standards Vivid portraits of K12 classrooms illustrate how teachers used a human rights framework to engage students in critical inquiry of relevant social issues such as immigration rights religious tolerance racial equality countering the effects of poverty and respect for people with disabilities The book shows how a group of teachers worked together to develop a critical content framework using the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child Chapters highlight lively classroom and community action projects

Exploring Single Black Mothers' Resistance Through Homeschooling Cheryl Fields-Smith, 2020-03-05 This book expands the concept of homeplace with contemporary Black homeschooling positioned as a form of resistance among single Black mothers Chapters explore each mother s experience and unique context from their own perspectives in deciding to homeschool and developing their practice It corroborates many of the issues that plague the education of Black children in America including discipline disproportionality frequent referrals to special education services teachers low expectations and the marginalization of Black parents as partners in traditional schools This book demonstrates how single mothers experience the inequity in school choice policies and also provides an understanding of how single Black mothers experience home school partnerships within traditional schools Most importantly this volume challenges stereotypical characterizations of who homeschoools and why

Repositioning Educational Leadership James H. Lytle, Susan L. Lytle, Michael C. Johanek, Kathy J. Rho, 2018 This groundbreaking volume encourages today s educational leaders to reposition the way they think about leadership and its challenges Experienced school and district leaders reveal how they conceptualize their roles how they learn by posing and solving problems of practice and how they cope with increasing expectations and complexity in their work This compilation of compelling narratives demonstrates the power and efficacy of what can happen when school district and other educational leaders position themselves as inquirers bringing forth broader social justice and equity implications Readers see how leadership can illuminate and improve many aspects of institutional life and create intellectually demanding and rich learning environments for both adults and children At its heart Repositioning Educational Leadership is an invitation to practitioners and scholars to make space for new critical questions and perspectives This book nurtures an expanded discourse about leadership generated by leaders themselves and arising from some of the most vexing and often invisible aspects of their important work This book unpacks a smorgasbord of real life work situations that will allow the reader to reflect on these experiences and extract the best practices of leadership Daniel A Domenech executive director AASA Provides invaluable insights into what the complex work of leading from an inquiry stance looks like in different contexts Irma Zardoya NYC Leadership Academy This book is a key contribution to the reinvention of the field of educational leadership and it is crucial for preparing future leaders Michael A Copland deputy superintendent Bellingham WA Public Schools

Simmons, Elyse Schwedler, 2014-04-15 This honest clearly written and accessible book shows how to use Family Dialogue Journals FDJs to increase and deepen learning across grade levels Written by K 12 teachers who have been implementing and studying the use of weekly journals for several years it shares what they have learned and why they have found FDJs to be an invaluable tool for forming effective partnerships with families Learn from first hand accounts how students write weekly about one big idea they have studied ask a family member a related question and then solicit their writing in the journal Through these journal entries they share their family knowledge with classmates while actively engaging with the curriculum In turn teachers extend the academic discussion by writing to each family and incorporating their funds of knowledge into classroom lessons writing about everything from the use of thermometers to life in Michoacán Mexico Family participation in the FDJs is remarkably high across ages ethnicities and economic realities This is an incredibly readable book that is highly useful for teachers teacher educators and university researchers interested in this powerful practice The descriptions of the classrooms are riveting and exemplify the kind of teaching we would all like to see in every classroom Kathy Schultz dean and professor Mills College Family Dialogue Journals is a beautiful socially conscious book offering so much wisdom for curriculum classroom norms and creating learning focused contexts Readers will be immersed in classroom contexts teachers decisionmaking processes and practical advice about how to foster a humble genuine ongoing dialogue built upon mutual respect and openness with their students and students families Family Dialogue Journals doesn t just demonstrate the power of interpersonal relationships it links those dialogues and relationships directly to curriculum and supporting students critical literacies of both community and academic ways of knowing and being Family Dialogue Journals is a beautiful socially conscious book offering so much wisdom for curriculum classroom norms and creating learning focused contexts Stephanie Jones professor University of Georgia

Inquiry as Stance Marilyn Cochran-Smith, Susan L. Lytle, 2015-04-25 In this long awaited sequel to Inside Outside Teacher Research and Knowledge two leaders in the field of practitioner research offer a radically different view of the relationship of knowledge and practice and of the role of practitioners in educational change In their new book the authors put forward the notion of inquiry as stance as a challenge to the current arrangements and outcomes of schools and other educational contexts They call for practitioner researchers in local settings across the United States and around the world to ally their work with others as part of larger social and intellectual movements for social change and social justice Part I is a set of five essays that conceptualize inquiry as a stance and as a transformative theory of action that repositions the collective intellectual capacity of practitioners Part II is a set of eight chapters written by eight differently positioned practitioners who are or were engaged in practitioner research in K 12 schools or teacher education Part III offers a unique format for exploring inquiry as stance in the next generation a readers theatre script that juxtaposes and co mingles 20 practitioners voices in a performance oriented format Together the three parts of the book point to rich possibilities for practitioner inquiry in the next generation Contributors Rebecca Akin Gerald Campano Delvin Dinkins Kelly A Harper Gillian Maimon Gary McPhail Swati Mehta Rob Simon and Diane Waff Cochran Smith and Lytle once again prove themselves to be among the best at melding theory and practice Instead of merely making the case for practitioner inquiry they go the next step to show us exactly what this genre brings to our field rigor relevance and passion The interplay of conceptual clarity and powerful exemplars make this a text we will read well into the next decade Gloria Ladson Billings University of Wisconsin Madison Once again Marilyn Cochran Smith and Susan Lytle point the way to new and hopeful understandings of practitioner research Rather than blame teachers for all that is wrong with education they and their fellow authors remind us that if school reform is to have any chance of fulfilling its stated goal of equal opportunity for all students teachers must have a significant voice in research policy and practice With its focus on social justice and its view of practitioner research as transformative this is a powerful and welcome sequel to their classic Inside Outside Sonia Nieto Professor Emerita University of Massachusetts Amherst Inquiry as Stance should be a blockbuster This brilliant sequel re calibrates relationships between practitioner inquiry and social justice Carole Edelsky Professor Emerita Arizona State University This optimistic and generous book is sure to become a central reference for teacher researchers in K 16 schools and their colleagues and supporters throughout the system Elyse Eidman Aadahl Director National Programs and Site Development National Writing Project University of California Berkeley This view of the intellectual and personal work of teaching is a major counter to the contemporary emphasis on testing and packaged curricula Cynthia Ballenger reading specialist Cambridge Public Schools Once again Cochran Smith Lytle and their colleagues bring us an invaluable book on the enormous possibilities of practitioner research Luis C Moll College of Education University of Arizona

Learning In Small Moments Daniel Meier, 1997 Chronicles the ups and downs of two young first grade teachers in an urban public school Through rich detailed portraits excerpts from teacher journals student work and lived memories and recollections Daniel Meier shows that the heart of teaching and learning in our culturally diverse urban schools is tied to the overall quality of human interaction in the classroom I know that every classroom teacher will read this with bated breath perhaps even with a small knot in the pit of their stomach at times What will the kids do next Will it have a happy ending I think parents too regardless of race or class will recognize their teachers their children and their schools in this account From the Foreword by Deborah Meier I tell the story of our year together because teachers educators parents and others are always in need of personal direct accounts from the classroom I hope readers will see and hear and feel the voices in this story according to their own experiences and hopes and dreams for our children and schools From the Introduction Literacy Research Methodologies, Third Edition Marla H.
