

Sea Creatures

Most of the world's animals live in the sea. The sea itself covers more than two-thirds of the planet's surface. Sea Creatures vary greatly in shape, size and form. Most, however, fall into two groups; Vertebrates and Invertebrates. Vertebrates are animals that have a backbone, like people do. Invertebrates have no bones at all.

Sharks

Altogether, there are more than 360 different species (types) of shark. Sharks are closely related to rays.

Jellyfish

Jellyfish are invertebrates with simple body structures, closely related to corals. More than 90% of a jellyfish is water. Jellyfish hunt other animals with their stinging tentacles.

Squid

Squid swim in open water and hunt fish and small sea creatures. They are closely related to Octopuses but, unlike them, have ten tentacles instead of eight. Both are cephalopods (type of invertebrates).
