QUESTION I have a 1994 Ford Taurus with 100,000 miles. The car has been running fine for the last 10 years. Recently, the car has been running rough and the engine is shaking. The car is also making a knocking sound. What could be the problem?

ANSWER The most likely cause of the engine shaking and knocking sound is a bad spark plug. The spark plug is responsible for igniting the fuel mixture in the combustion chamber. If the spark plug is worn or fouled, it will not ignite the fuel properly, causing the engine to run rough and shake. The knocking sound is likely caused by the engine misfiring. To fix the problem, you should replace the spark plug. If the problem persists, you may need to check the timing belt and the oil level.
