

A young man and woman are lying on their stomachs on a patch of green grass. The man, on the right, has curly brown hair and is wearing a dark grey t-shirt. The woman, on the left, has straight brown hair and is wearing a white tank top. They are both looking at each other with soft expressions. The title 'THE FAULT IN OUR STARS' is overlaid on the right side of the image in a stylized font. The word 'THE' is in white, 'FAULT' is in blue, 'IN OUR' is in white, and 'STARS' is in blue. The background is a close-up of the grass.

Reading Children's Literature: A Critical Introduction - Second Edition Carrie Hintz, Eric L. Tribunella, 2019-03-28

Reading Children's Literature offers insights into the major discussions and debates currently animating the field of children's literature. Informed by recent scholarship and interest in cultural studies and critical theory, it is a compact core text that introduces students to the historical contexts, genres, and issues of children's literature. A beautifully designed and illustrated supplement to individual literary works assigned, it also provides apparatus that makes it a complete resource for working with children's literature during and after the course. The second edition includes a new chapter on children's literature and popular culture, including film, television, and merchandising, and has been updated throughout to reflect recent scholarship and new offerings in children's media.

The New Heroines Katheryn Wright, 2016-03-21 This book explores how the next generation of teen and young adult heroines in popular culture are creating a new feminist ideal for the 21st century. Representations of a teenage girl who is unique or special occur again and again in coming-of-age stories. It's an irresistible concept: the heroine who seems just like every other but under the surface she has the potential to change the world. This book examines the cultural significance of teen and young adult female characters: the New Heroines in popular culture. The book addresses a wide range of examples, primarily from the past two decades, with several chapters focusing on a specific heroic figure in popular culture. In addition, the author offers a comparative analysis between the New Woman figure from the late 19th and early 20th century and the New Heroine in the 21st century. Readers will understand how representations of teenage girls in fiction and nonfiction are positioned as heroic because of their ability to find out about themselves by connecting with other people, their environment, and technology.

Teenage Time Pamela Thurschwell, 2025-07-24 Adolescence has been codified as an unpredictable, experimental, and liminal time. Teenage Time reads this phase as queer in its framing and disruption of developmental narratives of modernity, showing that the identity of the teenager as it has been culturally perceived in different epochs, developing since the 1940s, has shaped the temporal imaginary of the 20th and 21st century. From the conception of the teenager after the Second World War through notions of rebellion and consumption peaking in the 1980s and 1990s to representations of their precarious futures amidst the political, social, economic, and environmental uncertainties of today, Pamela Thurschwell exposes British and American representations of the adolescent as both destructive and recursive in their disturbance of narrative and teleology in literature, film, and sub-cultural history. Calling on theories of queer temporality, time studies, psychoanalysis, and Marxist accounts of modernity, this book traces how the teenager is out of time and time travelling, commodified, anarchic, futureless, precarious, with an uneven distribution of time in relation to race, and how they confront dystopias in Young Adult catastrophe literature. Covering a wide range of works, this book features contemporary and YA fiction such as The Member of the Wedding, American Pastoral, Sula, The Hate U Give, The Fault in Our Stars, How I Live Now, Never Let Me Go, The Hunger Games, and They Both Die at the End, and films including Donnie Darko The Breakfast Club Back to the Future Say Anything and Ghost World Original and conceptually sophisticated Thurschwell demonstrates how adolescence is formed in dialogue with a crisis in and of historical time revealing the promise and destruction of the modern teenager Focus On: 100 Most Popular American Romantic Drama of astrology among Jews was associated mainly with the name of Abraham Ibn Ezra 1089-1167. His scientific corpus deals with mathematics, astronomy, scientific instruments and tools, and the Jewish calendar, but especially with astrology. This volume is the first product of a larger enterprise: a scientific edition of all twelve Ibn Ezra's astrological treatises, and offers a critical Hebrew text of the two versions of Ibn Ezra's Sefer ha Te'amim (the Book of Reasons) accompanied by an annotated translation and commentary. The two treatises presented here were designed by Ibn Ezra to offer reasons, explanations, or meanings of the raw astrological concepts formulated in the introduction to astrology that Ibn Ezra entitled Reshit Hokhmah (Beginning of Wisdom).
