The Age Of Imperialism 12 Case Study:

American Foreign Relations Reconsidered Gordon Martel, 2002-11 Brings together 12 scholars of US foreign relations Each contributor provides a concise summary of an important theme in US affairs since the Spanish American War US policy process economic interests relations with the Third World and the nuclear arms race have been highlighted

Explaining the History of American Foreign Relations Michael J. Hogan, Thomas G. Paterson, 2004-01-19 Originally published in 1991 Explaining the History of American Foreign Relations has become an indispensable volume not only for teachers and students in international history and political science but also for general readers seeking an introduction to American diplomatic history This collection of essays highlights a variety of newer innovative and stimulating conceptual approaches and analytical methods used to study the history of American foreign relations including bureaucratic dependency and world systems theories corporatist and national security models psychology culture and ideology Along with substantially revised essays from the first edition this volume presents entirely new material on postcolonial theory borderlands history modernization theory gender race memory cultural transfer and critical theory The book seeks to define the study of American international history stimulate research in fresh directions and encourage cross disciplinary thinking especially between diplomatic history and other fields of American history in an increasingly transnational globalizing world

Case Studies on Modern European Economy Tibor Iván Berend, 2013 The last two centuries have been the scene of dramatic change throughout Europe And one of the main causes of these tremendous and spectacular changes was the economy These transformations were achieved by people scientists and political thinkers inventors and entrepreneurs educators skilled and educated workers Who not only invented machines and computers but were able to renew economic and political systems This volume therefore presents a new approach to the period by looking at case studies to understand how these changes came about and the impact they had on modern Europe Ivan Berend presents the spectacular history of modern European economy as a chain of small events actions and the ideas of individuals as the influence of institutions and bold entrepreneurs The essays are grouped into six chapters and discuss the power of entrepreneurship the power of institutions economic regimes and the permanent renewal of capitalism the power of ideas and inventions pioneering companies from the rise of industrial cities to post industrial suburbanization bubbles great depressions and economic cycles All of the single episodes and personal stories offer a cross section of the complex and interrelated history of modern Europe Case Studies on Modern European Economy will be essential reading for students of economic and modern European history

World History through Case Studies David Eaton, 2025-01-23 This innovative textbook demystifies the subject of world history through a diverse range of case studies Each chapter looks at an event person or place commonly included in comprehensive textbooks from prehistory to the present and from across the globe from the Kennewick Man to gladiators and modern day soccer and globalization and digs deeper examining why historians disagree on the subject and why their debates remain relevant today By taking the approach of unwrapping the textbook David Eaton reveals how historians think making it clear that the past is not nearly as tidy as most textbooks suggest Provocative questions like whether ancient Greece was shaped by contact with Egypt provide an entry point into how history professors may sharply disagree on even basic narratives and how historical interpretations can be influenced by contemporary concerns By illuminating these historiographical debates and linking them to key skills required by historians World History through Case Studies shows how the study of history is relevant to a new generation of students and teachers

Environments of Empire Ulrike Kirchberger, Brett M. Bennett, 2020-02-14 The age of European high imperialism was characterized by the movement of plants and animals on a historically unprecedented scale The human migrants who colonized territories around the world brought a variety of other species with them from the crops and livestock they hoped to propagate to the parasites invasive plants and pests they carried unawares producing a host of unintended consequences that reshaped landscapes around the world While the majority of histories about the dynamics of these transfers have concentrated on the British Empire these nine case studies focused on the Ottoman French Dutch German and British empires seek to advance a historical analysis that is comparative transnational and interdisciplinary to understand the causes consequences and networks of biological exchange and ecological change resulting from imperialism Contributors Brett M Bennett Semih Celik Nicole Chalmer Jodi Frawley Ulrike Kirchberger Carey McCormack Idir Ouahes Florian Wagner Samuel Eleazar Wendt Alexander van Wickeren Stephanie Zehnle

Geopolitics and the Quest for Dominance Jeremy Black, 2015-11-25 History and geography delineate the operation of power not only its range but also the capacity to plan and the ability to implement Approaching state strategy and policy from the spatial angle Jeremy Black argues that just as the perception of power is central to issues of power so place and its constraints and relationships is partly a matter of perception not merely map coordinates Geopolitics he maintains is as much about ideas and perception as it is about the actual spatial dimensions of power Black's study ranges widely examining geography and the spatial nature of state power from the 15th century to the present day He considers the rise of British power geopolitics and the age of Imperialism the Nazis and World War II and the Cold War and he looks at the key theorists of the latter 20th century including Henry Kissinger Francis Fukuyama and Samuel P Huntington Philip Bobbitt Niall Ferguson and others

The British Military Revolution of the 19th Century Daniel R. LeClair, 2019-11-11 From the Crimean War through the Second Boer War the British Empire sought to solve the Great Gun Question to harness improvements to ordnance small arms explosives and mechanization made possible by the Industrial Revolution The British public played a surprising but overlooked role offering myriad suggestions for improvements to the civilian led War Office Meanwhile politicians and army leaders argued over control of the country's ground forces in a decades long struggle that did not end until reforms of 1904 put the military under the Secretary of State for War Following the debate in the press voters put pressure on both Parliament and the War Office to modernize ordnance and military administration The Great Gun

Question was as much about weaponry as about who ultimately controlled military power Drawing on ordnance committee records and contemporary news reports this book fills a gap in the history of British military technology and army modernization prior to World War I Comprehensive Dissertation Index, 1861-1972: History Xerox University Microfilms, 1973 Notes on India Robert Bohm, 1982 Bohm challenges the Western view of India as a country of spiritual fatalistic people incapable of launching a full scale revolution that would put them in charge of their own lives Case Studies in Environmental Archaeology Elizabeth Jean Reitz, Lee A. Newsom, Sylvia J. Scudder, 1996 This volume contains case studies in environmental archaeology that apply data obtained from various disciplines including zooarchaeology archaeobotany human biology and geoarchaeology to explore important anthropological issues Studies include geological and biological data from sites located in North America the Caribbean basin and South America Rather than critiquing or advocating specific environmental techniques each study demonstrates how and why the information obtained from their use is important to anthropologists and archaeologists Design, Technology and Communication in the British Empire, 1830-1914 Annie Tindley, Andrew Wodehouse, 2016-11-30 This book is an innovative interdisciplinary study of the nature of design as a form of communication within and across Britain and its empire in the long nineteenth century In this period Britain had developed from the world's first industrial nation into the Workshop of the World but how were technological innovations translated and communicated across the imperial territories How were designs turned into reality This book explores these themes incorporating archival case study technologies such as trains sugar manufacture and agricultural technologies Using a four part framework we firstly examine the identification of innovation opportunities and how these translated to engineering specifications The realization of conceptual designs through collaboration and their subsequent manufacture and distribution as finished products are then reviewed Using the authors expertise in the fields of historical and design engineering this study contributes real world case studies to design theory A Concise Economic History of the World Rondo E. Cameron, 1993 This classic book offers a broad sweep of economic history from prehistoric times to the present and explores the disparity of wealth among nations Now in its fourth edition A Concise Economic History of the World includes expanded coverage of recent developments in the European Union transition economies and East Asia

Resources in Education, 1999-10 Science and society in southern Africa Saul Dubow, 2017-03-01 This collection dealing with case studies drawn from South Africa Zimbabwe Mozambique and Mauritius examines the relationship between scientific claims and practices and the exercise of colonial power It challenges conventional views that portray science as a detached mode of reasoning with the capacity to confer benefits in a more or less even handed manner That science has the potential to further the collective good is not fundamentally at issue but science can also be seen as complicit in processes of colonial domination Not only did science assist in bolstering aspects of colonial power and exploitation it also possessed a significant ideological component it offered a means of legitimating colonial authority by counter poisoning Western rationality to native superstition and it served to enhance the self image of colonial or settler elites in important respects This innovative volume ranges broadly through topics such as statistics medicine eugenics agriculture entomology and botany

Computational Literacy for the Humanities Zef Segal,Nurit Melnik,2025-06-23 Computational Literacy for the Humanities provides an introduction to mathematics and programming that is specifically designed for use by those engaged in the humanities Linking mathematical concepts and computational skills the chapters in this book explore humanistic questions from diverse fields such as art history and literature The book helps to advance computational and digital literacy by showing that each mathematical concept has a history and each technique has a meaning Rather than viewing mathematics and computer programming as purely instrumental they are integrated into the process of achieving greater understanding of humanistic phenomena Algorithms data statistics and networks are taught critically within the book whilst the authors also make a concerted effort to expose the internal biases of these tools They also demonstrate the applicability of quantification and computation for the promotion of diversification and inclusivity within the humanities All exercises are designed as an opportunity to gain hands on mathematical and computational experience whilst critically exploring and interpreting humanistic phenomena Computational Literacy for the Humanities shows readers how to engage with data in a way that is challenging yet meaningful and empowering It will be of interest to scholars and students working across the humanities and should be of particular interest to those working in digital humanities

Imperial Lineages and Legacies in the Eastern Mediterranean Rhoads Murphey,2016-07-07 The comparative study of empires has traditionally been addressed in the widest possible global historical perspective with comparison of New World empires such as the Aztecs and Incas side by side with the history of imperial Rome and the empires of China and Russia in the medieval and modern periods Surprisingly little work has been carried out focusing on the evolution of state control and imperial administration in the same territory approached in a rigorous and historically grounded fashion over a wide extent of historical time from late antiquity to the twentieth century The empires of Rome Byzantium the Ottomans and the latter day imperialists in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries all inherited or seized and sought to develop overlapping parts of a common territorial base in the Eastern Mediterranean and all struggled to contain control or otherwise alter the political cultural and spiritual allegiances of the same indigenous population groups that were brought under their rule and administration The task undertaken in Imperial Lineages and Legacies in the Eastern Mediterranean is to investigate the balance between continuity and change adopted at various historical conjunctures when new imperial regimes were established and to expose common features and shared approaches to the challenge of imperial rule that united otherwise divergent societies and imperial administrations The work incorporates the contributions by twelve scholars each leading practitioners in their respective fields and each contributing their particular insights on the shared theme of imperial identity and legacy in the Mediterranean World of the pagan Christian and Muslim eras Islands and the British Empire in the Age of Sail Douglas Hamilton, John McAleer, 2021 Islands are not just geographical units or physical facts their importance and significance arise from the human activities associated with them The maritime routes of sailing ships the victualling requirements of their sailors and the strategic demands of seaborne empires in the age of sail as well as their intrinsic value as sources of rare commodities meant that islands across the globe played prominent parts in imperial consolidation and expansion This volume examines the various ways in which islands and groups of islands contributed to the establishment extension and maintenance of the British Empire in the age of sail Thematically related chapters explore the geographical topographical economic and social diversity of the islands that comprised a large component of the British Empire in an era of rapid and significant expansion Although many of these islands were isolated rocky outcrops they acted as crucial nodal points providing critical assistance for ships and men embarked on the long distance voyages that characterised British overseas activities in the period Intercontinental maritime trade colonial settlement and scientific exploration and experimentation would have been impossible without these oceanic islands They also acted as sites of strategic competition contestation and conflict for rival European powers keen to outstrip each other in developing and maintaining overseas markets plantations and settlements The importance of islands outstripped their physical size the populations they sustained or their individual economic contribution to the imperial balance sheet Standing at the centre of maritime routes of global connectivity islands offer historians of the British Empire fresh perspectives on the intercontinental communication commercial connections and territorial expansion that characterised that empire Routledge Library Editions: Education Mini-Set H History of Education 24 vol set Various, 2021-07-14 Mini set H History of Education re issues 24 volumes which span a century of publishing 1900 1995 The volumes cover Education in Ancient Rome Irish education in the 19th century schools in Victorian Britain changing patterns in higher education secondary education in post war Britain education and the British colonial experience and the history of educational theory and reform Learning Directory ,1970

The Age Of Imperialism 12 Case Study: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous captivating novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of popular books, exploring the fascinating narratives that have enthralled audiences this year. The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This poignant tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover masterfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reid's "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This captivating historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reid's captivating storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. The Age Of Imperialism 12 Case Study : Delia Owens' "Where the Crawdads Sing" This captivating coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens crafts a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of engaging stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a exceptional and suspenseful novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
