Loss After Wounded Knee Julie Dobrow, 2025-11-04 A dual biography of two activists whose marriage challenged the gender and racial norms of their time Like any set of star crossed lovers Elaine and Charles came from different worlds Elaine an acclaimed childhood poet from a remote corner of the Massachusetts Berkshires traveled to the Dakota Territories to teach Native American students undaunted by society s admonitions Charles a Dakota Sioux from Minnesota educated at Dartmouth and Boston University Medical School was considered by his Euro American mentors the epitome of an assimilated Indian But when they met just ahead of the Wounded Knee Massacre in 1890 the magnetic pull of love brought them together despite the tremendous odds stacked against them Love and Loss After Wounded Knee offers a dual biography of Elaine Goodale and Oh ye Sa Dr Charles Alexander Eastman exploring their individual lives as well as their highly publicized interracial marriage Both well known in their own time Elaine as a poet journalist and advocate for Indian education and Charles as writer public speaker and ardent activist for Indian rights their marriage started with a shared vision to work on behalf of Indians In the face of extreme prejudice financial burden and personal tragedy however the marriage began to unravel Dobrow paints an intimate emotional portrait of the Eastmans lives drawn from Elaine and Charles's letters, papers and hundreds of accounts of the Eastmans' lives from newspapers. Along the way she skillfully illuminates the shifting late 19th and early 20th century definitions of Indigenous identity and reveals how the Eastmans' legacies reflect changing American attitudes toward gender, interracial relationships and biracial children. The result is a compelling new history that wedges the private and the political and Native America and the United States of America entwined yet separated, inextricable yet never fully joined, just like Elaine and Charles themselves. The American Contractor, 1913 The Journal of the National Education Association, National Education Association of the United States, 1927 Journal of the National Education Association, 1927 Bulletin - Bureau of Education, United States Bureau of Education, 1933 Starting to Teach Latin Steven Hunt, 2023-03-09 This book for teachers provides both practical up-to-date guidance and a theoretical overview on a number of key topics in Latin teaching. Updated throughout, this new edition includes information about and analysis of recent Latin textbook publications and curriculum developments across the globe. Using a wealth of interviews, observations and pupil transcripts, Steven Hunt utilizes case study evidence of excellent practice in teaching and learning from a wide variety of institutions, from outreach programmes, community schools and academies in the UK and USA. Offering practical advice on topics such as essay writing, teaching controversial topics including women, slavery, ethnicity and social hierarchy, making use of primary sources and using ICT to advance language skills, this book also engages with broader questions of approach and theory. These include a survey of the three main approaches to Latin teaching: grammar translation, communicative and reading approaches, explanation of cognitive and social approaches to learning and analysis of the differences between intrinsic and extrinsic motivation. Moreover, traditional arguments about the value and purpose of learning Latin at school level are re-examined in the light of current educational thinking and government policy making. This book is invaluable for trainees, newly qualified teachers and more experienced practitioners looking for practical ideas and strategies to motivate and engage learners of Latin. Encyclopedia of Historians and Historical Writing Kelly Boyd, 2019-10-09 The Encyclopedia of Historians and Historical Writing contains over 800 entries ranging from Lord Acton and Anna Comnena to Howard Zinn and from Herodotus to Simon Schama. Over 300 contributors from around the world have composed critical assessments of historians from the beginning of historical writing to the present day, including individuals from related disciplines like Jürgen Habermas and Clifford Geertz, whose theoretical contributions have informed historical debate. Additionally, the Encyclopedia includes some 200 essays treating the development of national, regional and topical historiographies from the Ancient Near East to the history of sexuality. In addition to the Western tradition, it includes substantial assessments of African, Asian and Latin American historians and debates on gender and subaltern studies.
