Dare to Invent the Future Clapperton Chakanetsa Mavhunga, 2023-11-21. A rallying manifesto for the innovative problem solving we need to build a better, more verdant and sustainable planetary existence. Academics are letting Africa down. With all that we know, what do we have to show for it? Whose lives have been changed for the better by it? What have we done for and with our communities lately? In this provocative book, the first in a trilogy, Clapperton Chakanetsa Mavhunga argues that our critical thinkers must become actual thinkers. Taking its title from one of Thomas Sankara's most inspirational speeches, Dare to Invent the Future looks for moments in Africa's story where precedents of critical thought and knowledge in service of problem solving are evident to inspire readers to dare to invent such a knowledge system. Mavhunga revisits insights from Edward Wilmot Blyden, Booker T. Washington, Aimé Césaire, Frantz Fanon, Amílcar Cabral, Julius Nyerere and Thomas Sankara to illustrate how the academic disciplines have been and could be deployed in the service of and through problem solving, building on what people are doing and know. At its core, he writes, knowledge in the service of and through problem solving derives from reading the past for new questions, doing due diligence in the present and contriving an anticipatory approach toward the future. Questioning the fundamental premises of Western and white knowledge production, especially regarding science and technology, Mavhunga proposes in this book refreshingly new approaches to thinking that stem from African realities in the hopes of inspiring a generation that will run toward, not away from, problems to solve them.

Water is Life Hellum, Anne, Kameri-Mbote, Patricia, 2015-10-19. This book approached water and sanitation as an African gender and human rights issue. Empirical case studies from Kenya, Malawi, South Africa and Zimbabwe show how coexisting international national and local regulations of water and sanitation respond to the ways in which different groups of rural and urban women gain access to water for personal domestic and livelihood purposes The authors who are lawyers sociologists political scientists and anthropologists explore how women cope in contexts where they lack secure rights and participation in water governance institutions formal and informal The research shows how women as producers of family food rely on water from multiple sources that are governed by community based norms and institutions which recognise the right to water for livelihood How these common pool water resources due to protection gaps in both international and national law are threatened by large scale development and commercialisation initiatives facilitated through national permit systems is a key concern The studies demonstrate that existing water governance structures lack mechanisms which make them accountable to poor and vulnerable water users on the ground most importantly women The findings thus underscore the need to intensify measures to hold states accountable not just in water services provision but in assuring the basic human right to clean drinking water and sanitation and also to protect water for livelihoods Water Politics David L.

Feldman,2017-02-27 As the world faces another water crisis it is easy to understand why this precious and highly disputed resource could determine the fate of entire nations In reality however water conflicts rarely result in violence and more often lead to collaborative governance however precarious In this comprehensive and accessible text David Feldman introduces readers to the key issues debates and challenges in water politics today Its ten chapters explore the processes that determine how this unique resource captures our attention the sources of power that determine how we allocate use and protect it and the purposes that direct decisions over its cost availability and access Drawing on contemporary water controversies from every continent from Flint Michigan to Mumbai Sao Paulo and Beijing the book argues that cooperation and more equitable water management are imperative if the global community is to adequately address water challenges and their associated risks particularly in the developing world While alternatives for enhancing water supply including waste water re use desalination and conservation abound without inclusive means of addressing citizens concerns their adoption faces severe hurdles that can impede cooperation and generate additional conflicts African Edible Insects As Alternative Source of Food, Oil, Protein and Bioactive Components Abdalbasit Adam Mariod,2020-01-10

The harvesting processing and consumption of edible insects is one of the main keys to the sustainability of food chains on the African continent Insects are the largest and most successful group of animals on the planet and it is estimated that they comprise 80% of all animals This makes edible insects extremely important to the future survival of large populations across Africa and the world Insects offer a complete animal protein that includes all 9 essential amino acids and are very competitive with other protein sources They are also a good source of beneficial unsaturated fats and many insects have a perfect Omega 3 6 balance African Edible Insects As Alternative Source of Food Oil Protein and Bioactive Components comprehensively outlines the importance of edible insects as food and animal feed and the processing of insects in Africa The text also highlights indigenous knowledge of edible insects and shows the composition and nutritional value of these insects plus presents reviews of current research and developments in this rapidly expanding field All of the main types of edible insects are covered including their nutritional value chemical makeup and harvesting and processing details The various preparation technologies are covered for each insect as are their individual sensory qualities and safety aspects A key aspect of this work is its focus on the role of insects in edible oils and gelatins Individual chapters focus on entomophagy in Africa and the various key aspects of the continent's growing edible insect consumption market As it becomes increasingly clear that the consumption of insects will play a major role in the sustainability of food chains in Africa this work can be used as a comprehensive and up to date singular source for researchers looking for a complete overview on this crucial topic

The Top Books of the Year Zimsec Chemistry Paper November 2014 The year 2023 has witnessed a noteworthy surge in literary brilliance, with numerous captivating novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of popular books, exploring the captivating narratives that have enthralled audiences this year. Zimsec Chemistry Paper November 2014 : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This poignant tale of love, loss, and resilience has gripped readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover masterfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph. Zimsec Chemistry Paper November 2014 : Taylor Jenkins Reid's "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reid's captivating storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Zimsec Chemistry Paper November 2014 : Delia Owens' "Where the Crawdads Sing" This captivating coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens crafts a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of engaging stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Paffenbarger, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and suspenseful novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
