

COMMUNIQUÉ 23 MARS TRACTAGE JOP

JOP : zone de non-droit syndical !

Samedi 23 mars, dans le cadre de la journée de formation des volontaires des Jeux Olympiques et Paralympiques (JOP) à l'Arena de la Défense, des militant-es de nos organisations ont distribué un tract informant les participant-es de l'état du droit du travail quant à leurs conditions d'intervention aux JOP : le travail fourni va s'effectuer dans des conditions de subordination, y compris pour certain-es au bénéfice d'une société commerciale, il devrait donc relever du salariat et des droits qui y sont attachés .

Alors qu'une quinzaine de militant-es, signalé-es par des chasubles, distribuait tranquillement les informations syndicales à l'extérieur du périmètre de l'événement, iels ont été approché-es au bout de vingt minutes de tractage par différents services de police. Les policier-ères ont d'abord pris leurs informations puis les ont interpellé-es de nouveau pour leur demander de partir et d'enlever leurs chasubles. Lors de cette interpellation, nos militant-es ont fait l'objet d'un contrôle d'identité et leurs sacs ont été fouillés sans qu'aucun motif légitime ne soit invoqué. Des tracts ont été saisis. Certain-es policier-ères ont intimidé les militant-es, notamment en menaçant de les emmener au commissariat et de poursuites judiciaires. L'un des policiers s'est vanté de ne « pas avoir peur de faire des erreurs judiciaires » et de « s'en foutre de la loi, on verra devant le juge ».

Les volontaires ont par ailleurs réagi avec bienveillance à la diffusion de nos tracts, certain-es s'arrêtant pour discuter avec nous et nous remerciant de notre présence. Nous dénonçons la démesure du dispositif de sécurité et le comportement des policier-ères contre une action d'information sur les droits des « bénévoles ».

Le gouvernement prétend que les JOP sont une fête populaire mais s'en sert pour bafouer nos droits fondamentaux, à commencer par celui de la libre expression pourtant garantie constitutionnellement. Il est inadmissible que les organisations syndicales, associatives ou politiques soient intimidées et ne puissent exercer leur droit à communiquer et informer dans l'espace public.

Public Participation in African Constitutionalism Tania Abbiate, Markus Böckenförde, Veronica Federico, 2017-11-22 During the last decade of the 20th century Africa has been marked by a constitutional wind which has blown across the continent giving impetus to constitutional reforms designed to introduce constitutionalism and good governance One of the main features of these processes has been the promotion of public participation encouraged by both civil society and the international community This book aims to provide a systematic overview of participation forms and mechanisms across Africa and a critical understanding of the impact of public participation in constitution making processes digging beneath the rhetoric of public participation as being at the heart of any successful transition towards democracy and constitutionalism Using case studies from Central African Republic Egypt Kenya Libya Malawi Morocco Senegal Somalia South Africa South Sudan Tanzania Tunisia Zambia and Zimbabwe the book investigates various aspects of participatory constitution making from conception to processes and specific contents that trigger ambivalent dynamics in such processes The abstract glorification of public participation is questioned as theoretical and empirical perspectives are used to explain what public participation does in concrete terms and to identify what lessons might be drawn from those experiences This is a valuable resource for academics researchers and students with an interest in politics and constitution building in Africa as well as experts working in national offices international organizations or in national and international NGOs

Youth between Participation and Exclusion Johannes Frische, 2025-03-06 While the role of youth in the Arab Spring is acknowledged their living conditions remain critical Johannes Frische offers a fresh perspective on Tunisia's post revolutionary transition by examining employment and income strategies in disadvantaged urban areas He reveals a grim reality young people face structural unemployment informality and precariousness Focusing on the low income suburb of Ettadhamen in Greater Tunis he highlights the impact of sociospatial segregation economic stagnation and social marginalization This close up on youth's everyday life challenges the notion of youth as a simple transitional phase instead exposing their ongoing struggle with precarity and exclusion

Interpretations of the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea by International Courts and Tribunals Angela Del Vecchio, Roberto Virzo, 2019-04-25 This book addresses current developments concerning the interpretation of the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea UNCLOS on the part of international courts and tribunals. It does so from different perspectives by focusing on the jurisprudence of international and regional bodies such as the International Court of Justice ICJ, the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea ITLOS, the European Court of Justice ECJ and the European Court of Human Rights ECtHR as well as international arbitral tribunals and the World Trade Organization WTO Dispute Settlement Body. The various contributions offer in-depth analyses of issues ranging from the interaction between the sources of the International Law of the Sea to various substantial procedural and institutional aspects of the regulatory framework established by UNCLOS. The book also focuses on the reference by international courts and tribunals in Law of the Sea cases to both general principles and rules concerning interpretation codified in the Vienna Conventions on the Law of Treaties.

The Camp Colman Hogan, Marta Marin-Dòmine, 2021-02-03 The camp is nothing if not diverse in kind, scope and particularity in sociological and juridical configuration. In texture, iconography and political import, adjectives of camp specificity embrace a spectrum from extermination and concentration to detention migration deportation and refugee camps And while the geographic range covered by contributors is hardly global it is broad Chile Rwanda Canada the US Central Europe Morocco Algeria South Africa France and Spain And yet is to so characterize the camp to run the risk of diffusing what in origin is a concentration into a paratactical series of identity particularisms While The Camp does not seek to antithetically promulgate a universalist vision it does aim to explore the imbrication of the particular and the universal to analyze the structure of a camp or camps and to call attention the role of the listener in the construction of the testimony For by naming what cannot be said is not every narrative of internment and exclusion a potential site of agency articulating the inner splitting of language that Giorgio Agamben defines as the locus of testimony to bear witness is to place oneself in one's own language in the position of those who have lost it to establish oneself in a living language as if it were dead or in a dead language as if it were living

The International Legal System in Quest of Equity and Universality Laurence Boisson de

Chazournes, Vera Gowlland-Debbas, 2021-10-18 Georges Abi Saab began his writing and teaching at a time when the process of decolonization and thereafter the quest for emancipation began to make its far reaching impact on the international scene producing significant changes in the international environment both quantitatively in increasing the number of nation States and qualitatively in changing patterns of interests and claims This was bound to result in new pressures on the international legal system itself and in a questioning of the traditional Eurocentric content of international law In his work and teaching Professor Abi Saab viewed the dynamics of international law as a function of two driving forces the emergence of the third world and the sense of injustice In his view the first driving force the emergence of the third world raised the problem of exclusion exclusion from participation in the elaboration of international law and the decision making process and exclusion as beneficiaries of the resulting rules of international law At the same time this new force introduced diversity into the international scene reflecting the richness of the international community in its different facets This process remains relevant today reflecting the contemporary problem of exclusion of new actors as well as their quest for participation The second driving force the sense of injustice posed a teleological problem for him that of defining community values in order that they capture the different facets of justice whether formal or distributive So long as there is no effective organic structure international law in his view will continue to remain effectiveness oriented reflecting rather than impacting on the structures of power Nevertheless it is undeniable that there is an on going process of development of community values and interests as Georges Abi Saab wrote with reference to international crimes law like all social phenomena is a continuous unfolding a continuous process of elaboration He has also considered that the dynamics of the international legal process itself can be captured from the perspective of international organizations as vehicles for change in the international system From his early writings Georges Abi Saab approached the United Nations Charter as a blueprint both normative and institutional for a certain type of international society International institutions with all their imperfections continue for him to be the means of realization of the law of cooperation which lies at the heart of his concept of the international system The themes selected for this volume in honour of Professor Georges Abi Saab are intended to reflect his unique and pioneering contribution to the field of international law The contributors are drawn from what he has always considered to be his large family of former students in his forty years of teaching Georges Abi Saab has acted as mentor to generations of students from all over the world who have benefited from his vision insights originality and creative and stimulating use of language The contributors also include colleagues and friends who share a similar vision of the international legal system

Locally Led Peacebuilding Stacey L. Connaughton, Jessica Berns, 2019-09-09 The authors of this edited volume present a case for why locally led peacebuilding matters and how it can have measurable and meaningful impact even beyond preventing political violence This book contributes a set of local voices to a global problem how to prevent armed conflict and lead to lasting peace The authors argue that locally led peacebuilding by community based organizations both formal and informal plays a crucial role in preventing violence and cultivating peace one that is complementary to peacebuilding work done by local state and national governments within countries and between nation states Through the case studies presented Locally Led Peacebuilding presents evidence for how and why locally led peacebuilding can prevent violence and invites practitioners and scholars to critically examine the implications of locally led initiatives From these examples we all have an opportunity to learn about creating implementing researching and funding locally led peacebuilding
