Multidisciplinary Humane Perspectives on Education Lawrence Ogbo Ugwuanyi, 2024-01-16 While the majority of mankind access education and while different ideologies and philosophies may motivate education educational delivery and attainment it is important to discuss how through these humanity may become more human by realising its full potential This book addresses issues such as equality inclusiveness cosmopolitan worldviews and conflicting pressures in education in a manner that makes every member of the human community accountable to the others through education Education and Development in Zimbabwe Edward Shizha, Michael T. Kariwo, 2012-01-01 The book represents a contribution to policy formulation and design in an increasingly knowledge economy in Zimbabwe It challenges scholars to think about the role of education its funding and the egalitarian approach to widening access to education The nexus between education democracy and policy change is a complex one The book provides an illuminating account of the constantly evolving notions of national identity language and citizenship from the Zimbabwean experience The book discusses educational successes and challenges by examining the ideological effects of social political and economic considerations on Zimbabwe s colonial and postcolonial education Currently literature on current educational challenges in Zimbabwe is lacking and there is very little published material on these ideological effects on educational development in Zimbabwe This book is likely to be one of the first on the impact of social political and economic meltdown on education The book is targeted at local and international academics and scholars of history of education and comparative education scholars of international education and development undergraduate and graduate students and professors who are interested in educational development in Africa particularly Zimbabwe Notwithstanding the book is a valuable resource to policy makers educational administrators and researchers and the wider community Shizha and Kariwo s book is an important and illuminating addition on the effects of social political and economic trajectories on education and development in Zimbabwe It critically analyses the crucial specifics of the Zimbabwean situation by providing an in depth discourse on education at this historical juncture The book offers new insights that may be useful for an understanding of not only the Zimbabwean case but also education in other African countries Rosemary Gordon Senior Lecturer in Educational Foundations University of Zimbabwe Ranging in temporal scope from the colonial era and its elitist legacy through the golden era of populist universal elementary education to the disarray of contemporary socioeconomic crisis covering elementary through higher education and touching thematically on everything from the pernicious effects of social adjustment programmes through the local deprofessionalization of teaching this text provides a comprehensive wide ranging and yet carefully detailed account of education in Zimbabwe This engagingly written portrayal will prove illuminating not only to readers interested in Zimbabwe s education specifically but more widely to all who are interested in how the sociopolitical shapes education how ideology policy international pressures economic factors and shifts in values collectively forge the historical and contemporary character of a country s education Handel Kashope Wright Professor of Education University of British Columbia

Student Teacher's Perceptions of the Pre-Service Mathematics Programme in a Primary Teachers' College in Zimbabwe Barnabas Muyengwa, 2013 This case study investigated the perceptions of the third year student teachers of the first year pre service Mathematics programme at Seke Teachers College in Zimbabwe Student background characteristics of gender age teaching experience and Mathematics specialisation were the independent variables also investigated Data was collected from 278 third year students enrolled for the general Diploma in Education course using questionnaires with a five point Likert type 33 item rating scale and open ended items The data so collected were analysed both quantitatively and qualitatively The findings indicated that although the programme was able to provide students with a foundation in subject knowledge more could be done to improve on training in teaching methods and provision of resources From the variables investigated gender was found to have an effect on students perceptions of the programme but teaching experience was found to have no effect The possible relationship between the independent variables of age and Mathematics specialisation and the dependent variable of students perception of the programme was indicated in too few items to warrant a definite conclusion Implications for the improvement of the programme are that there is need for the college to revisit some aspects of the structure and organisation of the programme There is also need for further research involving all primary teachers colleges

Now That the Dust Has Settled Athanasio Dzadagu, 2015-03-26 In this book I try to explore why one section of the Catholic Community connected with the late Archbishop Chakaipa was overtaken by great remorse when he died while another went into jubilation This leads me into the examination of what kind of person Archbishop Chakaipa was I do this in the context of his family background and his priestly and Episcopal ministries He was of the Unendoro clan with a history tracing back to Karanga roots In his Seminary years he wrote five Shona novels which became very influential in developing Shona literacy He earned enduring respect across the entire Zimbabwean nation for this achievement Within Church circles Archbishop Chakaipas name is synonymous with the policy of self reliance which was his signal achievement in the Archdiocese of Harare He was determined to see the development of indigenous Zimbabwean writers frustrated that the world of ideas in Zimbabwe was dominated by Eurogenic of European origin missionaries In his view such Eurogenic intellectual domination undermined Zimbabwean and African independence In the book I argue that while Archbishop Chakaipa was a hero indeed one deserving of canonisation as a Catholic saint true respect for him should also acknowledge his negative qualities Occasional Papers ,1993 Annual Report of the Secretary for Education for the Year Ended ... Zimbabwe. Zimbabwe. Ministry for Education, Sport and Culture,1996 New Leaders, New Dawns? Chris Brown,David Moore,Blair Rutherford,2022-06-17 In late 2017 and early 2018 South Africa and Zimbabwe both experienced rapid and unexpected political transitions In Zimbabwe Robert Mugabe the only leader the country had ever known was replaced in a soft coup by his erstwhile vice president Emmerson Mnangagwa Over a twelve day period in February 2018 South African president Jacob Zuma was prematurely forced from office by his former deputy president Cyril Ramaphosa. The widespread popular rejoicing that accompanied their arrival compounded the shock of these sudden transitions. New Leaders New Dawns explores these political transitions and the way they were received. Contributors consider how the former liberation heroes Mugabe and Zuma could have fallen so low, the underlying reasons for their ouster, what happened to their liberation movements, turned ruling parties and perhaps most importantly, what the rise to power of Ramaphosa and Mnangagwa foreshadowed. Bringing together fourteen leading international scholars of southern Africa and adopting a political economy framework, this volume argues that the changes in leadership are welcome but insufficient. While the time had come for Zuma and Mugabe to go, there is little in the personal histories or early policy actions of Ramaphosa and Mnangagwa that suggests they will be capable of addressing the profound social, economic and political problems both countries face. New Leaders New Dawns reveals that despite what these new leaders may have promised, a new dawn has not yet arrived in southern Africa.

Oral Tradition in Southern Africa Ngwabi Bhebe, 2002 An Investigation of Secondary School Language Teachers' Conceptions of Literacy and how These Conceptions Relate to Literacy Instruction in Zimbabwe Albert Natsa, 1994 In the Realms of Gold Roland Oliver, 2013-10-16. The core of the book is Oliver's account of his research travels throughout tropical Africa from the 1940s to the 1980s, his efforts to train and foster African graduate students to teach in African universities, his role in establishing conferences and journals to bring together the work of historians and archaeologists from Europe and Africa, his encounters with political and religious leaders, scholars, soldiers and storytellers, and the political and economic upheavals of the continent that he witnessed. Re-living the Second Chimurenga Fay Chung, 2006. This retrospective offers a first-hand account on internal conflicts in ZANU during the 1970s which resulted in the defeat of its left wing. Chung's narratives include her experiences in two guerrilla camps. She recalls her encounters with the charismatic Josiah Tongogara, a legendary military commander during Zimbabwe's liberation war, known as the second chimurenga, who died at the threshold to Independence. The personal recollection of a transition to national sovereignty concludes with an incisive analysis of developments after Independence. It ends with Chung's vision for the Zimbabwe of the future. Fay Chung served within the Ministry of Education in post-colonial Zimbabwe for a total of fourteen years, at the end as the Minister of Education and Culture. Her autobiographical account has the childhood experiences in colonial Rhodesia as a point of departure. Like many other Zimbabwean intellectuals, she joined the liberation struggle. From the mid 1970s, she worked within the ZANU organised educational sphere.
