Women and Industry in the Balkans Chiara Bonfiglioli, 2019-09-19 Women's emancipation through productive labour was a key tenet of socialist politics in post World War II Yugoslavia Mass industrialisation under Tito led many young women to join traditionally feminised sectors and as a consequence the textile sector grew rapidly fast becoming a gendered symbol of industrialisation consumption and socialist modernity By the 1980s Yugoslavia was one of the world's leading producers of textiles and garments The break up of Yugoslavia in 1991 however resulted in factory closures bankruptcy and layoffs forcing thousands of garment industry workers into precarious and often exploitative private sector jobs Drawing on more than 60 oral history interviews with former and current garment workers as well as workplace periodicals and contemporary press material collected across Croatia Macedonia Serbia Bosnia Herzegovina and Slovenia Women and Industry in the Balkans charts the rise and fall of the Yugoslav textile sector as well as the implications of this post socialist transition for the first time In the process the book explores broader questions about memories of socialism lingering feelings of attachment to the socialist welfare system and the complexity of the post socialist era This is important reading for all scholars working on the history and politics of Yugoslavia and the Balkans oral history memory studies and gender studies

Metropolis Philip Kerr, 2019 A portrait of Bernie Gunther in his twenties He's young but he's seen four bloody years of trench warfare And he's not stupid So when he receives a promotion and a ticket out of Vice squad he knows he's not really leaving behind the criminal gangs the perverse sex clubs and the laundry list of human corruption It's 1928 and Berlin is a city on the edge of chaos where nothing is truly verboten But soon a new wave of shockingly violent murders sweeps up society's most vulnerable prostitutes and wounded ex soldiers begging on the streets As Bernie Gunther sets out to make sense of multiple murders with different MOs in a city that knows no limits he must face the fact that his own police HQ is not immune The Nazi party has begun to infiltrate the Alex Berlin's central office just as the shakey Weimar government makes a last desperate attempt to control a nation edging toward the Third Reich It seems like the only escape for most Berliners is the theater and Bernie's no exception As he gets deeper into the city's sordid underground network he seeks comfort with a make up artist who is every bit a match for his quick wit and increasingly sardonic view of the world But even this space can't remain untouched not with this pervasive feeling that everything is for sale in Berlin if you're man enough to kill for it reality immigrants often face a glass ceiling that excludes us from full participation With irony in this multicultural nation we are made to feel like uncomfortable outcasts burdened by our pasts You may not want to hear our stories because they highlight bitter truths that even in an open armed country refugees endure judgement and distance But acknowledging these stories is the first step toward positive change By reading about our intersecting struggles you become part of the solution helping to shift perspectives and bring us in from the margins Our histories make some uncomfortable but are essential to share if we hope to build a more inclusive society
