The Landscape Of A Mind:

The Landscape of a Mind Christie, Manson & Woods, 2019 Landscape of the Mind John F. Hoffecker, 2011-05-31 In Landscape of the Mind John F Hoffecker explores the origin and growth of the human mind drawing on archaeology history and the fossil record He suggests that as an indirect result of bipedal locomotion early humans developed a feedback relationship among their hands brains and tools that evolved into the capacity to externalize thoughts in the form of shaped stone objects When anatomically modern humans evolved a parallel capacity to externalize thoughts as symbolic language individual brains within social groups became integrated into a neocortical Internet or super brain giving birth to the mind Noting that archaeological traces of symbolism coincide with evidence of the ability to generate novel technology Hoffecker contends that human creativity as well as higher order consciousness is a product of the superbrain He equates the subsequent growth of the mind with human history which began in Africa more than 50 000 years ago As anatomically modern humans spread across the globe adapting to a variety of climates and habitats they redesigned themselves technologically and created alternative realities through tools language and art Hoffecker connects the rise of civilization to a hierarchical reorganization of the super brain triggered by explosive population growth Subsequent human history reflects to varying degrees the suppression of the mind s creative powers by the rigid hierarchies of nationstates and empires constraining the further accumulation of knowledge The modern world emerged after 1200 from the fragments of the Roman Empire whose collapse had eliminated a central authority that could thwart innovation Hoffecker concludes with speculation about the possibility of artificial intelligence and the consequences of a mind liberated from its organic antecedents to exist in an independent nonbiological form Exploring the Landscape of the Mind Stephen S. Clark, 2017-04-19 This book is based on the premise that humankind is first and foremost the outcome of the process of biological evolution Recognition of this is fundamental to our understanding of who we are and how we behave All living things have evolved the physical and mental attributes that promote their prospects for survival they are good at doing the things that enable them to pass on their genes to succeeding generations and we are no exception Of course through the development of culture we have gained some freedom from our biological origins Nevertheless evolution has constructed the foundation upon which culture is built The first part of the book Ourselves Interacting with the World presents an overview of the main capabilities that evolution has endowed us with and that enable us to interact with the environment in advantageous ways This includes our senses which act as windows on the world and also of great importance our emotions and ability to remember Our ability to think is perhaps the crowning achievement of our evolutionary journey and of course we must be able to act in a timely and effective manner The second part of the book Living Together traces the history of how we became social creatures To be truly human we had to be capable of sharing and cooperation We also needed to be able to control our aggressiveness and talent for deception We settled down making the transition from hunter gatherers to urban dwellers and agreed upon values and norms of behavior that enhanced our ability to get along Ultimately we came to see good and bad as a morality of right and wrong further augmenting group cohesiveness In the final part of the book Challenges and Opportunities attention turns to a consideration of the constraints and possibilities that must be considered in looking to the future These realities can be seen to play out in four social arenas the pursuit of fairness the seeking of justice the interplay of political beliefs and good government and ultimately a united society that is at the same time a true community Our quest for these things will be greatly aided by a deep knowledge and appreciation of our evolutionary past and the indelible imprint it has left upon us It may even lead us to that most elusive of all things happiness The French Mind on the Landscape Germ N. T.

The Landscape of a Mind Tohon, 2005 A torrent s course does not depend on the water it is latent in the mountain s topography What controls a man s destiny There is no virtue without vice just as there is no gold without impurity Therefore when one acquires a virtue does he not acquire a vice too Such are the musings and reflections in The Landscape of a Mind In this profoundly introspective collection of thoughts gathered in journal entries and correspondence with friends Tohon questions the essence of human nature the obscure workings of the human mind and the heart and mulls over the meaning of good and evil the implications of the self and ego and the concepts of free will and choice destiny and fate A considerable amount of ground to cover but Tohon s personalised and conversational tone as well as his use of an approach that is very much rooted in the Eastern philosophies makes this piece an enjoyable exchange of thoughts ideas and beliefs between humanists and philosophers on a very much global level

The Mind's Staircase Robbie Case, 2013-04-15 The shortcomings of Piaget s theory of intellectual development are well known Less clear is what sort of theory should be devised to replace it This volume describes the current main contenders including neo Piagetian neo connectionist neo innatist and sociocultural models Its contributors conclude that none of these models are adequate because each one implies a view of the human mind which is either too general too particular or too modular A collaborative program of research seven years in the making is then described which gives support to a newly emerging synthesis of these various positions

Space and the 'March of Mind' Alice Jenkins, 2007-01-18 This book is about the idea of space in the first half of the nineteenth century It uses contemporary poetry essays and fiction as well as scientific papers textbooks and journalism to give a new account of nineteenth century literature's relationship with science In particular it brings the physical sciences physics and chemistry more accessibly and fully into the arena of literary criticism than has been the case until now Writers whose work is discussed in this book include many who will be familiar to a literary audience including Wordsworth Coleridge and Hazlitt some well known in the history of science including Faraday Herschel and Whewell and a raft of lesser known figures Alice Jenkins draws a new map of the interactions between literature and science in the first half of the nineteenth century showing how both disciplines were wrestling with the same central political and intellectual concerns regulating access to knowledge organising knowledge in productive ways and formulating the relationships of old and new knowledges Space has become a subject of enormous critical interest in literary and cultural studies Space and the March of Mind gives a wide ranging account of how early nineteenth century writers thought about and thought with space Burgeoning mass access to print culture combined with rapid scientific development to create a crisis in managing knowledge Contemporary writers tried to solve this crisis by rethinking the nature of space Writers in all genres and disciplines from all points on the political spectrum returned again and again to ideas and images of space when they needed to set up or dismantle boundaries in the intellectual realm and when they wanted to talk about what kinds of knowledge certain groups of readers wanted needed or deserved This book provides a rich new picture of the early nineteenth century's understanding of its own culture

The Physics of the Mind Phil Mollon, 2025-10-09 The Physics of the Mind New Perspectives for Psychotherapists Healers and Seekers is aimed at psychotherapists psychoanalysts healers and anyone interested in the interface of physics and the mind Both are interesting topics even more so when combined Phil Mollon's expertise is within psychology and over his long career he came to realise the importance of physics to the field In particular the branches that place mind and consciousness in the foreground of how we might understand the universe and our place within it There is a deep organising principle operating at all levels of the universe It gives rise to life and is apparent within the human mind in dreams and creativity A key lesson from quantum physics is that consciousness and the human mind are inextricably involved in the emergence of what we can observe and experience of our matter based realm In other words the behaviour of the quantum realm is shaped by our observation of it Just as we think of space time as shaped by gravitational forces and massive bodies so we can conceptualise mind space The latter contains mathematical correlithms of thought emotion and memory whereby what is similar attracts more of the same in a manner analogous to gravity These have effects within the mind and in the wider life field For example severe and repeated childhood trauma creates the equivalent of black holes in the mind space Metaphysics posits that our matter based universe is subtended within an infinite unified field of intelligence and creativity We are contained within a vast mind The principle is that unlimited guidance and knowledge is available via meditation and intuition requiring only that we seek It is never thrust upon us This is a book filled with extraordinary ideas to dip into wherever curiosity and intuition lead It is the author s fervent wish that what is within will stimulate thought and awareness and spark continuing creative concepts concerning our place in this cosmos The Development of the Mediated Mind Joan M. Lucariello, Judith A. Hudson, Robyn Fivush, Patricia J. Bauer, 2004-07-19 In this work the contributors examine ways in which cognition is embedded in everyday meaningful activities and the role of social context and cultural symbol symptoms such as language and text influence children s developing concepts and thought

Tales From The Mind Of A Schizophrenic Vincent Macraven, 2011-02-04 Hearing those stories through your eyes went straight to my core Rebecca Rosenblat B Sc Hons Psych Cert LC ADL EFT Psychotherapist Relationship Sexuality Therapist Tv Host Media Personality Author Ten Ways to Weave the World: Matter, Mind, and God, Volume 1 Ross Thompson, 2022-12-20 The idea of an ideological war between science and religion Thompson argues is founded on a mistake But this does not mean that there is nothing at stake For behind the ill conceived conflict lie complex issues about the nature of mind consciousness experience subjectivity quality value and the like all of which need to be disentangled and assessed in their own right Outgrowing Materialism leads the reader through a sequence of five Worlds each of which offers a distinct way of understanding or failing to understand these issues and where God might belong or not Writing accessibly but with a sharp eye for detail Thompson sheds new light on the familiar territory of materialism dualism and structural realism and evaluates the growing attraction of the multiverse He argues that dualism mechanized the material world then materialism exorcised the mental ghost from the machine and finally this machine is evaporating into pure mathematics Outgrowing Materialism is half of Ten Ways to Weave the World Matter Mind and God The sequel Embodying Mind discusses five Worlds that precede and follow those discussed here However Outgrowing Materialism stands in its own right as a critique of the modern science v religion dilemma

The World in My Mind, My Mind in the World Igor Aleksander, 2013-11-19 Not consciousness but knowledge of consciousness that is what this book communicates in a fascinating way Consciousness is the thread that links the disappearing gorilla with the octopus suffering from a stomach ache and the person under anaesthetic with a new born baby How these are different yet illustrative of consciousness is revealed in this accessible book by one of the world's leading thinkers and neural computing engineers Igor Aleksander addresses this enigmatic topic by making us understand the difference between what happens to us when thinking consciously and when sort of thinking when dreaming or when not conscious at all as when sleeping anaesthetised or knocked out by a blow on the head The book also tackles the larger topics of free will choice God Freud what is the unconscious inherited traits and individuality while exploding the myths and misinformation of many earlier mind hijackers He shares the journey towards building a new model of consciousness with an invitation to understand 5 axioms or basic ideas which we easily recognise in ourselves

The Creative Mind in Coleridge's Poetry Kathleen M. Wheeler, 1981 Five of Coleridge's major poems are given fresh scrutiny in this arresting study One of its unusual features is the attention given the Preface to Kubla Khan the Gloss to The Ancient Mariner and other prose accompaniments to the poems usually dismissed as extraneous Devices such as these the author argues are strategically employed by Coleridge in an effort to engage the reader in a fully imaginative response Kathleen Wheeler elucidates the texts in terms of aesthetic experience and also in terms of the philosophical principles that inform them showing how Coleridge's theories of mind and imagination function within the poems and shape their design A subtle and gifted reader of poetry she enriches our understanding of poems we thought we knew well and provides insights along the way into the creative process
