The Little Of Conflict Transformation:

Little Book of Conflict Transformation John Lederach, 2015-01-27 This clearly articulated statement offers a hopeful and workable approach to conflict that eternally beleaguering human situation John Paul Lederach is internationally recognized for his breakthrough thinking and action related to conflict on all levels person to person factions within communities warring nations He explores why conflict transformation is more appropriate than conflict resolution or management But he refuses to be drawn into impractical idealism Conflict Transformation is an idea with a deep reach Its practice says Lederach requires both solutions and social change It asks not simply How do we end something not desired but How do we end something destructive and build something desired How do we deal with the immediate crisis as well as the long term situation What disciplines make such thinking and practices possible This title is part of The Little Books of Justice and Peacebuilding series

Women, Gender Equality, and Post-Conflict Transformation Joyce P. Kaufman, Kristen P. Williams, 2016-10-04 The end of formal hostilities in any given conflict provides an opportunity to transform society in order to secure a stable peace This book builds on the existing feminist international relations literature as well as lessons of past cases that reinforce the importance of including women in the post conflict transition process and are important to our general understanding of gender relations in the conflict and post conflict periods Post conflict transformation processes including disarmament demobilization and reintegration DDR programs transitional justice mechanisms reconciliation measures and legal and political reforms which emerge after the formal hostilities end demonstrate that war and peace impact and are impacted by women and men differently By drawing on a strong theoretical framework and a number of cases this volume provides important insight into questions pertaining to the end of conflict and the challenges inherent in the post conflict transition period that are relevant to students and practitioners alike Religion and Public Policy Sumner B. Twiss, Marian Gh. Simion, Rodney L. Petersen, 2015-02-26 This book pivots around two principal concerns in the modern world the nature and practice of human rights in relation to religion and the role of religion in perennial issues of war and peace It articulates a vision for achieving a liberal peace and a just society firmly grounded in respect for human rights while working in tandem with the constructive roles that religion can play even amid cultural difference It explores topics including the status and justification of human rights the meaning and significance of religious liberty whether human rights protections ought to be extended to other species how the comparative study of religious ethics ought to proceed and the nature limits and future development of just war thinking Featuring a group of distinguished contributors this is a distinctive contribution that shows a multifaceted and original exploration of cutting edge issues with regards to the aforementioned themes

From Suffering to Solidarity Andrew P. Klager, 2016-04-28 As experiences of suffering continue to influence the responses of identity groups in the midst of violent conflict a way to harness their narratives stories memories and myths in transformative and non violent ways is needed From Suffering to Solidarity explores the historical seeds of Mennonite peacebuilding approaches and their application in violent conflicts around the world. The authors in this book first draw out the experiences of Anabaptists and Mennonites from the sixteenth century origin through to the present that have shaped their approaches to conflict transformation and inspired new generations of Mennonites to engage in relief development and peacebuilding to alleviate the suffering of others whose experiences today reflect those of their ancestors. Authors then explore the various peacebuilding approaches, methods, and initiatives that have emerged from this Mennonite narrative and its preservation and dissemination in subsequent generations. Finally, the book examines how this combined historical sensitivity and resulting peacebuilding theory and practice have been applied in violent conflicts around the world, noting both successes and challenges. Ultimately, From Suffering to Solidarity attempts to answer a question: How can a robust historical infrastructure be used to inspire empathetic solidarity with the Other and shape nonviolent ways of transforming conflict to thrust a stick in the spokes of the cycle of violence.

Expanding the Edges of Narrative Inquiry Laura E. Reimer, Katerina Standish, Chuck Thiessen, 2019-11-29. This captivating book presents innovative answers to the question why storytelling. Each chapter represents leading edge narrative research designs from Arthur V Mauro Institute for Peace and Justice in central Canada, one of the world's leading academic programs for Peace and Conflict Studies (PACS) and a major contributor to PACS scholarship. The authors are candid and offer inspiration for other scholars seeking groundbreaking ideas for their own research design while offering profound expansions to the current PACS literature. The scholarship reflects a diversity of ideas, passions, approaches, disciplinary roots, and topic areas. Each chapter explores different and critical issues in the field of PACS through various forms of storytelling while providing recent original research designs for the future development of the field and the education of its practitioners and academics. This volume, co-edited by three of the early graduates of the program, presents and explores a number of these issues across the broad spectrum of Peace and Conflict Studies. Contributors to the book are recognized scholars and practitioners in their respective fields. The book has a wide audience targeting those particularly interested in tackling and understanding old conflicts in new ways and for those seeking to learn at the growing edges of PACS at the undergraduate, graduate, and post graduate levels.

Protecting Human Rights and Building Peace in Post-Violence Societies Nasia

Hadjigeorgiou, 2020-02-20. This book critically examines the relationship between protecting human rights and building peace in post-violence societies. It explores the conditions that must be present and strategies that should be adopted for the former to contribute to the latter. The author argues that human rights can aid peacebuilding efforts by helping victims of past violence to articulate their grievance and by encouraging the state to respond to and provide them with a meaningful remedy. This usually happens either through a process of adjudication whereby human rights can offer guidance to the judiciary as to the best way to address such grievances or through the passing and implementation of human rights laws and policies that seek to promote peace. However, this positive relationship between human rights and peace is both qualified and context specific Through an interdisciplinary and comparative analysis of four case studies the book identifies the conditions that can support the effective use of human rights as peacebuilding tools Developing these the book recommends a series of strategies that peacebuilders should adopt and rely on Winner of the Constantinos Emilianides Award in Law for 2020 joint conferment The Ashgate Research Companion to Religion and Conflict Resolution Dr Lee Marsden,2012-12-28

This companion provides a comprehensive overview of the latest research in religion and conflict resolution and brings together leading scholars in the field who examine the contribution religious actors have made and are making towards peace and conflict resolution The twenty three essays are grouped in to five thematic sections religious traditions and conflict key debates on religious conflict resolution religion international relations and security religion and conflict resolution the peacemakers The companion is aimed at academics and practitioners interested in conflict resolution international security and religion and international relations A-Z of Mediation Marian Roberts,2013-11-28 If you are in search of a concise yet authoritative overview of mediation as a process of dispute resolution then you need look no further Marian Roberts A Z of Mediation succinctly captures the concepts applications debates and critiques that are shaping this rapidly expanding field Expertly organised into just over 80 entries the book combines theory research and practitioner experience to provide a wealth of insight and analysis The book s unique A Z format makes it an ideal point of reference Numerous cross references are in place to guide you through the material and highlight the field s connecting strands The key classic and contemporary readings are also systematically signposted topic by topic drawn from an extensive multidisciplinary literature Whether you are studying training or already in practice this book provides an invaluable source of clarity as well as a comprehensive map of the field Business and Peace-Building Carol Bond,2018-07-04 In a world struggling to adapt to seismic social and environmental changes the time is now for businesses to prioritise creating local conditions of peace This book builds on original research foregrounding peace as a core business outcome for natural resources industries Especially in non warlike situations where natural resources industries have exacerbated or caused conflict foregrounding peace as a core business outcome can bring substantial benefits Peace is a concept external and internal stakeholders understand Consequently research shows that when natural resources sector CSR professionals start reframing their day to day decisions in terms of peace outcomes they are more likely to create efficient and cost effective solutions to environmental social and economic business challenges This book provides both theory and practical suggestions for how to reframe day to day CSR activities of natural resources companies as peace focused business decisions Especially in the remote and rural regions of the world where natural resources industries have the greatest impact businesses can lead the way in contributing to conditions of peace while bringing much needed resources to market Peacebuilding and the Arts Jolyon Mitchell,Giselle Vincett,Theodora Hawksley,Hal Culbertson,2019-11-19 Ending violent conflict requires societies to take leaps of political imagination Artistic communities are often uniquely placed to help promote new thinking by enabling people to see things differently In place of conflict's binary divisions artists are often charged with exploring the ambiguities and possibilities of the excluded middle Yet their role in peacebuilding remains little explored This excellent and agenda setting volume provides a ground breaking look at a range of artistic practices and the ways in which they have attempted to support peacebuilding a must read for all practitioners and policy makers and indeed other peacemakers looking for inspiration Professor Christine Bell FBA Professor of Constitutional Law Assistant Principal Global Justice and co director of the Global Justice Academy The University of Edinburgh UK Peacebuilding and the Arts offers an impressive and impressively comprehensive engagement with the role that visual art music literature film and theatre play in building peaceful and just societies Without idealizing the role of the arts the authors explore their potential and limits in a wide range of cases from Korea Cambodia Colombia and Northern Ireland to Uganda Rwanda South Africa and Israel Palestine Roland Bleiker Professor of International Relations University of Queensland Australia and author of Aesthetics and World Politics and Visual Global Politics Peacebuilding and the Arts is the first publication to focus critically and comprehensively on the relations between the creative arts and peacebuilding expanding the conventional boundaries of peacebuilding and conflict transformation to include the artist actor poet novelist dramatist musician dancer and film director The sections on the visual arts music literature film and theatre include case studies from very different cultures contexts and settings but a central theme is that the creative arts can play a unique and crucial role in the building of peaceful and just societies with the power to transform relationships heal wounds and nurture compassion and empathy Peacebuilding and the Arts is a vital and unique resource which will stimulate critical discussion and further research but it will also help to refine and reframe our understanding of peacebuilding While it will undoubtedly become mandatory reading for students of peacebuilding and the arts its original approach and dynamic exploratory style should attract a much wider interdisciplinary audience Professor Anna King Professor of Religious Studies and Social Anthropology and Director of Research Centre of Religion Reconciliation and Peace WCRRP University of Winchester UK This volume explores the relationship between peacebuilding and the arts Through a series of original essays authors consider some of the ways that different art forms including film theatre music literature dance and other forms of visual art can contribute to the processes and practices of building peace This book breaks new ground by setting out fresh ways of analysing the relationship between peacebuilding and the arts Divided into five sections on the Visual Arts Music Literature Film and Theatre Dance over 20 authors offer conceptual overviews of each art form as well as new case studies from around the globe and critical reflections on how the arts can contribute to peacebuilding As interest in the topic increases no other book approaches this complex relationship in the way that Peacebuilding and the Arts does By bringing together the insights of scholars and practitioners working at the intersection of the arts and peacebuilding this book develops a series of unique critical perspectives on the interaction of diverse art forms with a range of peacebuilding endeavours

Transforming conflict through social and economic development Sandra

Buchanan,2016-05-16 Transforming conflict through social and economic development examines lessons learned from the Northern Ireland and Border Counties conflict transformation process through social and economic development and their consequent impacts and implications for practice and policymaking with a range of functional recommendations produced for other regions emerging from and seeking to transform violent conflict It provides for the first time a comprehensive assessment of the region s transformation activity largely amongst grassroots actors enabled by a number of specific funding programmes namely the International Fund for Ireland Peace I II and III and INTERREG I II and IIIA These programmes have been responsible for a huge increase in grassroots practice which to date has attracted virtually no academic analysis this book seeks to fill this gap In focusing on the politics of the socioeconomic activities that underpinned the elite negotiations of the peace process key theoretical transformation concepts are firstly explored followed by an examination of the social and economic context of Northern Ireland and the border counties The three programmes and their impacts are then assessed before considering what policy lessons can be learned and what recommendations can be made for practice This is underpinned by a range of semi structured interviews and the author s own experience as a project promoter through these programmes in the border counties for more than a decade The book will be essential reading for students practitioners and policymakers in the fields of peace and conflict studies conflict transformation peacebuilding post agreement reconstruction and the political economy of conflict and those interested in contemporary developments in the Northern Ireland peace process

Strategies of Peace Daniel Philpott,Gerard Powers,2010-03-24 How can a just peace be built in sites of genocide massive civil war dictatorship terrorism and poverty In Strategies of Peace the first volume in the Studies in Strategic Peacebuilding series fifteen leading scholars propose an imaginative and provocative approach to peacebuilding Today the dominant thinking is the liberal peace which stresses cease fires elections and short run peace operations carried out by international institutions western states and local political elites But the liberal peace is not enough the authors argue A just and sustainable peace requires a far more holistic vision that links together activities actors and institutions at all levels By exploring innovative models for building lasting peace a United Nations counter terrorism policy that also promotes good governance coordination of the international prosecution of war criminals with local efforts to settle civil wars increasing the involvement of religious leaders who have a unique ability to elicit peace settlements and many others the authors advance a bold new vision for peacebuilding

Conflict Resolution and Peacebuilding in Laos Stephanie Phetsamay Stobbe,2015-06-19 Using the case study of Laos a small landlocked country in Southeast Asia that has seen some of the world's most brutal forms of poverty and violence this book examines the power of traditional and indigenous conflict resolution systems as a tool for social justice It explores how the conflict resolution mechanisms build infrastructures that support social harmony and address larger scale conflicts within communities nations and international arenas The book discusses how over centuries foreign powers have polarised and used the ethnic groups of Laos to support their own agendas and how in spite of this the Lao people have consistently managed to recreate the peace and harmony that support their social relationships whether that is within groups or between many distinct groups Through the development and use of appropriate grassroots conflict resolution structures that do not require a formal court system and exists outside the political arena they have been successful in resolving conflicts within and across cultural groups The book shows that the conflict resolution systems of Laos are embedded in the fabric of ordinary everyday life and operate independently of the hierarchical structures that dominate governing institutions Highlighting how peace continues to work its way into existence through elaborate mediation systems and rituals that bring people together this book will be of use to students and scholars of Southeast Asian Politics Peace Studies and War and Conflict Studies Critical Feminist Justpeace Karie Cross Riddle,2024-10-25 In Critical Feminist Justpeace Karie Cross Riddle presents an intersectional revision to conflict transformation arguing that we need complementary theories and practices of gender conscious peacebuilding for regions and conflicts that formal peacebuilding institutions and agendas cannot reach Introducing a novel theoretical framework and drawing on fieldwork in Manipur India Riddle makes the case that we need norms and processes for feminist peacebuilding that can flexibly respond to the particularities of national and local politics and social context Original and insightful Riddle's theoretical framework serves as a flexible guide for women's local peacebuilding work Resolving Water Conflicts Workbook Lynette de Silva,Chris Maser,2021-11-25 This book works to build trust consensus and capacity to enhance understanding through a water conflict management framework designed to bolster collaborative skills Built on case studies analysis and hands on real life applications it addresses issues of water insecurity of marginalized systems and communities global water viability institutional resilience and the inclusion of faith based traditions for climate action The authors assess the complexities of climate challenges and explain how to create sustainable effective and efficient water approaches for an improved ecological and socioeconomic future within the UN's Sustainable Development Goals Interactive Justice Emanuela Ceva,2016-05-12 Contemporary societies are riddled with moral disputes caused by conflicts between value claims competing for the regulation of matters of public concern This familiar state of affairs is relevant for one of the most important debates within liberal political thought should institutions seek to realize justice or peace Justice driven philosophers characterize the normative conditions for the resolution of value conflicts through the establishment of a moral consensus on an order of priority between competing value claims Peace driven philosophers have concentrated perhaps more modestly on the characterization of the ways in which competing value claims should be balanced with a view to establishing a modus vivendi aimed at containing the conflict Interactive Justice addresses an important question related to this debate on what terms should the parties interact during their conflict for their interaction to be morally acceptable to them Although largely unexplored by political philosophers this is a main area of concern in conflict management Building on a proceduralist interpretation of relational concerns of justice the author develops a liberal normative theory of interactive justice for the management of value conflict in politics grounded in the fundamental values of fair hearing and procedural equality This book innovatively builds a bridge between works in political philosophy and peace studies to propose a fresh lens through which to view the normative responses liberal institutions ought to give to value conflict in politics and moves beyond the apparent dichotomy between pursuing end state justice through conflict resolution or peace through conflict containment

International Intervention, Identity and Conflict Transformation Timea Spitka, 2015-12-22 This book addresses the challenges of international intervention in violent conflicts and its impact on groups in conflict When the international community intervenes in a violent internal conflict intervening powers may harden divisions constructing walls between groups or they may foster transformation soften barriers and build bridges between conflicting groups This book examines the different types of external processes and their respective contributions to softening or hardening divisions between conflicting groups It also analyses the types of conflict resolution strategies including integration accommodation and partitioning and investigates the conditions under which the international community decides to pursue a particular strategy and how the different strategies contribute to solidification or transformation of group identities The author uses three case studies Bosnia and Herzegovina BiH Northern Ireland and Israel Palestine to reveal how different types of external interventions impact on the identities of conflicting groups The volume seeks to address how states and international organizations ought to intervene in order to stimulate the building of bridges rather than walls between conflicting groups In doing so the book sheds light on some of the pitfalls in international interventions and highlights the importance of united external process and inclusive identity strategies that promote transformation and bridge differences between conflicting groups This book will be of much interest to students of intervention peace and conflict studies ethnic conflict security studies and IR

Explaining and Resisting Trumpism Post-2020 Laura Finley, Matthew Johnson, 2021-12-21 This edited volume sheds light on why even though he lost the 2020 election more than 74 million people nearly half of the American population voted for Donald Trump In his four years President Trump was a divisive figure Authored by scholars and activists from an array of disciplinary areas and backgrounds this book addresses why certain groups of voters found Trump appealing how the Trump campaign utilized fear and conspiracy theories to woo voters lessons Democrats should learn from the 2020 election and the role activism had in the election and in the continuation or amelioration of Trumpism
