The Kazan Journey Into An Emerging Land:

The Kazan David F. Pelly, Christopher C. Hanks, 1991-01-01 The Old Way North David F. Pelly, 2009-09 In the spring of 1912 Anishinaabe guide Billy Magee received a letter from future conservationist Ernest Oberholtzer asking Magee to accompany him on a journey. Soon after the two set off on a five month canoe expedition following the old way north a largely unmapped territory that would test both their endurance and their friendship. Tracing the route of the Oberholtzer Magee expedition The Old Way North transports readers through the history of this challenging wilderness and introduces them to the mapmakers fur traders and trappers missionaries and Native peoples who relied on this corridor for trade and travel. Through Oberholtzer's journals along with historical records personal interviews with Dene and Inuit and present day canoeing accounts wilderness and conservation writer David Pelly reconstructs the many tales hidden in this land.

The Thelon David F. Pelly, 1996-06-30 David Pelly tells the Thelon's story exploring the mystery of Man's relationship with this special place in the heart of Canada's vast Arctic barrenlands. From Thanadelthur and Telaruk to J. W. Tyrrell John Hornby and Eric Morse the history is detailed complete and exciting. The Thelon is the setting for a compelling Canadian adventure tale with all its drama intrigue joy and tragedy. But the writer goes beyond that to contemplate the significance of the Thelon wilderness and to examine its uncertain future. It is the richness of human experience layered on top of the natural splendour of the river valley and its wildlife that really sets the Thelon apart. The place has a history both Native and non Native which gives it standing beyond the intrinsic value of wilderness itself. David Pelly writes as one who has been there time and again. He knows the Thelon from personal experience. As a freelance writer for 20 years he has travelled many parts of the Arctic but claims that nowhere draws me back more powerfully than the Thelon. Idleness, Water, and a Canoe Jamie Benidickson, 1997-01-01 This book describes the cultural significance of two centuries of recreational paddling in Canada illustrating through contemporary interviews and published sources what the experience of canoeing has meant to the sport's participants. Arctic Landscapes and Traditions 3-Book Bundle David F. Pelly, 2017-02-06 From an explorer of the North's cultural landscape comes the stories and history of remote corners of our North. David F. Pelly gives a rare in depth account of Inuit history based on oral testimony and historical records. Includes Ukkusiksalik. The People's Story. Ukkusiksalik now a national park was in earlier times the principal hunting ground for several Inuit families and was criss crossed by missionaries Mounties and traders. David F. Pelly presents the stories of Inuit elders and historical records to provide a complete history of this extraordinary corner of our northern landscape. Uvajuq: The Origin of Death The Inuit story of Uvajuq oo va yook is rooted in a time when people and animals lived in such harmony and unity that they could speak to each other. The legend of Uvajuq as told here was collected from a group of Inuit elders in the Nunavut community of Cambridge Bay 300 kilometres north of the Arctic Circle. The Thelon A River Sanctuary David Pelly tells the story of the Thelon exploring the mystery of humankind's relationship with this special place in the heart of Canada's vast Arctic Barren Lands. The earth was explored surveyed described illustrated and categorized Travelogues became world bestsellers Modern technology accompanied the travelers and adventurers clocks a postal and telegraph system surveying equipment and cameras The world grew together faster and faster Previously unknown places became better known the highest peaks the coldest spots the hottest deserts and the most remote cities Knowledge about the white spots of the earth was systematically collected Those who made a name for themselves in the 19th century are still read today Alexander von Humboldt or Charles Darwin made the epoch a scientific heyday Ida Pfeiffer or Isabelle Bird Bishop traveled to distant continents and took their readers at home on insightful journeys Hermann V mb ry or Sir Richard Burton got to know the most remote languages and regions There are countless travel reports about a fascinating century which with surveying and exploration also brought colonial conquest and exploitation into the world In ten individual studies the authors explore travelers from all over the world and analyze their successes The unifying element of all the studies is the experience of distance and its communication by means of travelogues to the armchair travelers who have stayed at home This volume will be of value to students and scholars both interested in modern history social and cultural history and the history of science and technology Film and Ethics Jacqui Miller, 2014-08-26 This book forms part of the multi disciplinary Studies in Ethics Series from Liverpool Hope University It explores the slipperiness of ethics as a concept and demonstrates the multiplicity of intellectual inquiry within contemporary Film Studies At first glance ethics is not necessarily a subject conventionally associated with film Film is often regarded as a form of lowbrow popular culture either offering bland entertainment or deliberately setting out to shock or more cynically generate box office revenue through gratuitous inclusion of sex and violence Certainly there have always been a minority of films based on the stereotypically ethical subject of religion but these have often generated the most controversy from the studio system decree that it was blasphemous to represent the corporeal body of Christ to the furore surrounding Martin Scorsese s The Last Temptation of Christ 1988 This book shows that from the silent era to the present day film has been inherently concerned with ethical issues In this light the definition of ethics that informs the volume and is taken as the starting point of each of the chapters is the notion of personal or institutional motivation most usually because a character or industry figure makes a decision or choice based on their own moral or ethical code Once this is defined the ethical dimension to films is immediately evident This book takes as its central theme the difficulty of decisions refracted through personal ethical codes and thus recognises that what counts as ethics or morality is always subjective Some of the chapters explore films which take conventionally good ethical standpoints others investigate why bad decisions were made at least one explores the celebration of practices invoking popular disgust but all the contributions study ethical decisions within film that represent the strongly felt convictions of those involved and moreover address aspects of filmmaking which force the spectator to be an active and reciprocal participant in the creation of meaning thus implicitly acknowledging that ethics are subjective and in perpetual flux rather than fixed objective truths Railway News, Finance and Joint-stock Companies'
