Men and Women Making Friends in Early Modern France Lewis C. Seifert, Rebecca M. Wilkin, 2016-03-03 Today the friendships that grab people's imaginations are those that reach across inequalities of class and race The friendships that seem to have exerted an analogous level of fascination in early modern France were those that defied the assumption inherited from Aristotle and patristic sources that friendships between men and women were impossible Together the essays in Men and Women Making Friends in Early Modern France tell the story of the declining intelligibility of classical models of male friendship and of the rising prominence of women as potential friends The revival of Plato's friendship texts in the sixteenth century challenged Aristotle's rigid ideal of perfect friendship between men In the seventeenth century a new imperative of heterosociality opened a space for the cultivation of cross gender friendships while the spiritual friendships of the Catholic Reformation modeled relationships that transcended the gendered dynamics of galanterie Men and Women Making Friends in Early Modern France argues that the imaginative experimentation in friendships between men and women was a distinctive feature of early modern French culture The ten essays in this volume address friend making as a process that is creative of self and responsive to changing social and political circumstances Contributors reveal how men and women fashioned gendered selves and also circumvented gender norms through concrete friendship practices By showing that the benefits and the risks of friendship are magnified when gender roles and relations are unsettled the essays in this volume highlight the relevance of early modern friend making to friendship in the contemporary world THE CHOICE IS ONE Aditi Srivastava, 2024-11-28 This book is about the choices that decide our goodness in life We are surrounded everyday by these choices but due to lack of power of making decision and confidence unable to choose the best for us Even if we choose from those whether good or bad there is no such as bad choices sometimes becomes a great lesson to move ahead with good choices In this book I have mentioned the rules which are prominent part of experiences of my life that most of them have the common in their state of mind this helps how to manage those choices and makes them best avoiding procrastination I am proud of my choice and follow MY GOOD CHOICE MY GOOD LIFE The Book Monthly James Milne, 1908 Making Friends with Anxiety Sarah Rayner, 2022-09-15 Does anxiety have a hold on you and your life Do panic and worry tend to dominate every moment You're not alone Making Friends with Anxiety is here to help In this friendly and supportive little book bestselling author Sarah Rayner draws on her own experience of living with an anxiety disorder and shares the life changing coping techniques that have helped her manage her anxiety and panic at home at work and in all areas of life Packed with bite size tips this must have handbook has already helped thousands of anxiety sufferers across the world Sarah takes you by the hand as a friend and explains what causes worry and panic to become such a problem for many of us including The seven elements that commonly contribute to anxiety from negative thinking to fear of the future How our bodies physically respond to stress and worry and how to calm yourself down during a panic attack Tips on how to be kind to

Interactions Between Iranian and American Literatures Naghmeh Esmailpour, 2024-05-14. Introducing narrative mobility as a new approach in comparative studies of Iran and the US, this book reinterprets the politics and aesthetics of relations between the nations through an analysis of Iranian and American authors. The book focuses specifically on three authors: Simin Daneshvar, Shahriar Mandanipour and Don DeLillo, who each employ narrative mobility to rethink intercultural negotiation, addressing parallel issues in America and Iran from different but complementary perspectives. The book analyzes the employment of parallel narrational techniques, presenting physically and virtually mobile characters who embody their respective countries as they move from one culture to another. The strange affinity between Iran and the US is ultimately revealed by viewing literary works as a contact zone through which the complicated relations and shared history of the two nations can be renegotiated. On a more theoretical level, the book reflects on the role of literature, in particular the novel, as a transnational medium as a bridge between nations in a period of globalization. With its focus on cross-cultural connections, the book will be of interest to anyone studying or researching comparative literature, US-Iran relations and cultural studies generally.
