environmental policy making However a closer examination of their environmental policy over many decades finds no evidence that these approaches have worked So does it matter which level of government makes policy Can cooperation between sub national governments protect the environment Building on comparative case studies on air and water pollution and making use of extensive historical material Inger Weibust questions how governance structure affects environmental policy performance in the US Switzerland Canada and the European Union The research breaks new ground by studying formal and informal environmental cooperation It analyzes whether federal systems with more centralized policy making produce stricter environmental policies and debates whether devolution and the establishment of subsidiaries will lead to less environmental protection An essential insight into the complexities of policy making and governance structures this book is an important contribution to the growing debates surrounding comparative federalism and multi level governance
