

A woman's legs are the central focus, wearing a short, frayed pink dress and bright pink high-heeled sandals. She is holding a dark purple shopping bag. The background is a bright blue sky with soft white clouds. The title 'Venus Envy' is written in a large, flowing, pink script across the middle of the image.

Making the Body Beautiful Sander L. Gilman, 1999 Nose reconstructions have been common in India for centuries South Korea Brazil and Israel have become international centers for procedures ranging from eyelid restructuring to buttock lifts and tummy tucks Argentina has the highest rate of silicone implants in the world Around the globe aesthetic surgery has become a cultural and medical fixture Sander Gilman seeks to explain why by presenting the first systematic world history and cultural theory of aesthetic surgery Touching on subjects as diverse as getting a nose job as a sweet sixteen birthday present and the removal of male breasts in seventh century Alexandria Gilman argues that aesthetic surgery has such universal appeal because it helps people to pass to be seen as a member of a group with which they want to or need to identify Gilman begins by addressing basic questions about the history of aesthetic surgery What surgical procedures have been performed Which are considered aesthetic and why Who are the patients What is the place of aesthetic surgery in modern culture He then turns his attention to that focus of countless human anxieties the nose Gilman discusses how people have reshaped their noses to repair the ravages of war and disease principally syphilis to match prevailing ideas of beauty and to avoid association with negative images of the Jew the Irish the Oriental or the Black He examines how we have used aesthetic surgery on almost every conceivable part of the body to try to pass as younger stronger thinner and more erotic Gilman also explores some of the extremes of surgery as personal transformation discussing transgender surgery adult circumcision and foreskin restoration the enhancement of dueling scars and even a performance artist who had herself altered to resemble the Mona Lisa The book draws on an extraordinary range of sources Gilman is as comfortable discussing Nietzsche Yeats and Darwin as he is grisly medical details Michael Jackson and Barbra Streisand's decision to keep her own nose The book contains dozens of arresting images of people before during and after surgery This is a profound provocative and engaging study of how humans have sought to change their lives by transforming their bodies scholarly study explores the conflicting forces of assimilation and cultural heritage in literary portrayals of Jewish American identity In Passing Fancies in Jewish American Literature and Culture Judith Ruderman takes on the fraught question of who passes for Jewish in American literature and culture In today s contemporary political climate religious and racial identities are being reconceived as responses to culture and environment rather than essential qualities Many Jews continue to hold conflicting ideas about their identity seeking deep engagement with Jewish history and the experiences of the Jewish people while holding steadfastly to the understanding that identity is fluid and multivalent Looking at carefully chosen texts from American literature Ruderman elaborates on the strategies Jews have used to pass from the late nineteenth century to the present nose jobs renaming clothing changes religious and racial reclassification and even playing baseball While traversing racial and religious identities has always been a feature of America s nation of immigrants Ruderman shows how the complexities of identity formation and deformation are critically relevant during this important cultural moment

Academic Instincts Marjorie Garber, 2009-01-10 In this lively and provocative book cultural critic Marjorie Garber who has written on topics as different as Shakespeare dogs cross dressing and real estate explores the pleasures and pitfalls of the academic life Academic Instincts discusses three of the perennial issues that have surfaced in recent debates about the humanities the relation between amateurs and professionals the relation between one academic discipline and another and the relation between jargon and plain language Rather than merely taking sides the book explores the ways in which such debates are essential to intellectual life Garber argues that the very things deplored or defended in discussions of the humanities cannot be either eliminated or endorsed because the discussion itself is what gives humanistic thought its vitality Written in spirited and vivid prose and full of telling detail drawn both from the history of scholarship and from the daily press Academic Instincts is a book by a well known Shakespeare scholar and prize winning teacher who offers analysis rather than polemic to explain why today's teachers and scholars are at once breaking new ground and treading familiar paths. It opens the door to an important nationwide and worldwide conversation about the reorganization of knowledge and the categories in and through which we teach the humanities. And it does so in a spirit both generous and optimistic about the present and the future of these disciplines. The Book Trade in Canada, 2004

Amalia Mesa-Bains Laura E. Pérez, Maria Esther Fernández, 2023-01-24 Amalia Mesa Bains Archaeology of Memory is the first retrospective exhibition of the work of longtime Bay Area artist Mesa Bains. Presenting work from the entirety of her career for the first time, this exhibition, which features nearly 60 works in a range of media including fourteen major installations, celebrates Mesa Bains's important contributions to the field of contemporary art locally and globally. For over forty-five years, Mesa Bains has worked to bring Chicana art into the broader American field of contemporary art through innovations of sacred forms such as altars, home altars, ofrendas, offerings to the dead, descansos, roadside resting places, and capillas, home yard shrines. She expanded her installations from domestic spaces to include laboratories, library forms, gardens, and landscapes, focusing attention on the politics of space to highlight colonial erasure of the preexisting and still surviving cultural differences in colonized Indigenous and Mexican American communities. Many of these works offer a feminist perspective on the domestic life of immigrant and Mexican American women across different historical periods, most notably the four-part installation series Venus Envy, which was created over multiple decades and will be displayed in its entirety for the first time at BAMPFA. Standing at the juncture of cultural diversity, environmentally centered spirituality, culled from ancestral non-Western worldviews, and intersectional feminism, Mesa Bains has been heralded as one of the most prominent voices in feminist Chicana art of her generation.

Decolonial Voices Arturo J. Aldama, Naomi Quiñonez, 2002-04-04 The interdisciplinary essays in Decolonial Voices discuss racialized subaltern feminist and diasporic identities and the aesthetic politics of hybrid and mestiza or cultural productions. This collection represents several key directions in the field. First, it charts how subaltern cultural productions of the US-Mexico borderlands speak to the intersections of local hemispheric and globalized power relations of the border imaginary. Second, it recovers the Mexican women's and Chicana literary and cultural heritages that have been ignored by Euro-American canons and patriarchal exclusionary practices. It also expands the field in postnationalist directions by creating an interethnic comparative and transnational dialogue between Chicana and Chicano, African American, Mexican feminist, and U.S. Native American cultural vocabularies. Contributors include Norma Alarcón, Arturo J. Aldama, Frederick Luis Aldama, Cordelia Chávez, Candelaria Alejandra Elenes Ramírez, García Mar, a Herrera Sobek, Patricia Penn Hilden, Gaye T. M. Johnson, Alberto Ledesma, Pancho McFarland, Amelia Mar, a de la Luz Montes, Laura Elisa Pérez, Naomi Quiñonez, Sarah Ramirez, Rolando J. Romero, Delberto Dario Ruiz, Vicki Ruiz, Jos David Saldivar, Anna Sandoval, and Jonathan Xavier Inda.

Ecological Borderlands Christina Holmes, 2016-10-13 Environmental practices among Mexican American women have spurred a reconsideration of ecofeminism among Chicana feminists. Christina Holmes examines ecological themes across the arts Chicana activism and direct action groups to reveal how Chicanas can craft alternative models for ecofeminist processes Holmes revisits key debates to analyze issues surrounding embodiment women's connections to nature and spirituality's role in ecofeminist philosophy and practice By doing so she challenges Chicanas to escape the narrow frameworks of the past in favor of an inclusive model of environmental feminism that alleviates Western biases Holmes uses readings of theory elaborations of ecological narratives in Chicana cultural productions histories of human and environmental rights struggles in the Southwest and a description of an activist exemplar to underscore the importance of living with decolonializing feminist commitment in body nature and spirit

Imagery, Ritual, and Birth

Anna M. Hennessey, 2018-12-11 Every human being is born and has gone through a process of birth Yet the topic of birth remains deeply underrepresented in the humanities overshadowed by a scholarly focus on death This book explores how imagery is used ritualistically in religious secular and nonreligious ways during birth through analysis of a wide variety of art iconography poetry and material culture Objects central to the book's study include religious figurines paintings about birth and other items representative of pregnancy crowning or giving birth that have an historical or original meaning connected to religion Contemporary artists are also creating new art in which they represent birth and mothering as nonreligious events that are sacred or divine Framed through the concept of social ontology which examines the nature of the social world and studies how people create meaning out of the various objects images and processes that make up human social life the book theorizes a social ontology of birth focusing on how the meaning of imagery undergoes metamorphosis between the spheres of religion secularity nonreligion and the sacred when used during birth as a rite of passage Included in the study are more
