The New Death Shannon Lee Dawdy, Tamara Kneese, 2022-04-15 There is perhaps no object as uncanny as the corpse or more subject to elaborate taboos and few topics yield as much cross cultural anxiety as human mortality Yet beliefs and practices around death never stand still The New Death brings together scholars who are intrigued by today's rapidly changing death practices and attitudes New and different ways of treating the body and memorializing the dead are proliferating across global cities What are the beliefs values and ontologies entwined with these emergent death practices Are we witnessing a shifting relationship between the living and the dead Using ethnographic historical and media based approaches the contributors to this volume focus on new attitudes and practices around mortality and mourning from the possibilities of digitally enhanced afterlives to industrialized necro waste the ethics of care the meaning of secular rituals and the political economy of death Together the chapters coalesce around the argument that there are two major currents running through the new death reconfigurations of temporality and of intimacy Some aspects of the new death represent a remaking of older ideas and practices But whether they draw on tradition or on evolving technologies people are reaching for new memorial objects to keep the dead present in their lives and new rituals to manage the timing and tempo of death Pushing back against the folklorization endemic to anthropological studies of death practices and the whiteness of death studies as a field the chapters strive to override divisions between the Global South and the Anglophone world focusing instead on syncretization globalization and magic within the mundane

Emerging Traditions

Vicki Briault Manus, 2012-07-10 The monograph explores the linguistic impact of the colonial and postcolonial situations in South Africa on language policy on literary production and especially on the stylistics of fiction by indigenous South Africans writing in English A secondary concern is to investigate the present place of English in the multilingual spectrum of South African languages and to see how this worldly English relates to Global English in the South African context The introduction presents a socio linguistic overview of South Africa from pre historic times until the present including language planning policies during and after the colonial era and a cursory review of how the difficulties encountered in implementing the Language Plan provided for by the new South African constitution impinge on the development of black South African English Six chapters track the course of English in South Africa since the arrival of the British in 1795 considered from the point of view of the indigenous African population The study focuses on ways in which indigenous authors indigenize their writing innovating and subverting stylistic conventions including those of African orature in order to bend language and genre towards their own culture and objectives Each chapter corresponds to a briefly outlined historical period that is largely reflected in linguistic and literary developments A small number of significant works for each period are discussed one of which is selected for a case study at the end of each chapter where it is subjected to detailed stylistic analysis and appraised for the degree of indigenization or other linguistic or socio historic influences on style The methodology adopted is a linguistic approach to stylistics focusing on indigenization of English inspired by the work of Chantal Zabus in her book The African Palimpsest Indigenization of Language in the West African Europhone Novel 2007 1991 The conclusion reappraises the original hypothesis that the specific characteristi Reconstructing Law and Justice in a Postcolony Nonso Okafo,2016-04-08 Drawing on data from a cross section of postcolonial nations across the world and on a detailed case study of Nigeria this book examines the experience of recreating law and justice in postcolonial societies The author s definition of postcolonial societies includes countries that have emerged from external colonial rule such as Nigeria and India as well as societies that have overcome internal dominations such as Afghanistan and Iraq Suggesting that restructuring a system of law and justice must involve a consideration of the traditions customs and native laws of a society as well as the official often foreign rules this volume examines how ethnically complex nations resolve disputes whether criminal or civil through a combination of formal and informal social control systems This book is unique in its concern with how the average citizens of a postcolonial society can play more active parts in their nation s law and justice and how modern and increasingly urban societies can learn from indigenous peoples and institutions which are more informal in their approaches to problem solving The concluding chapter looks at the possibility of an increased role for civil as opposed to criminal response in the social control system of a postcolonial society Setswana Grammar Manual Tshepo Dioka,2022-05-03
