Scholars in the Marketplace. The Dilemmas of Neo-Liberal Reform at Makerere University, 1989-2005

Mahmood Mamdani, 2007 Scholars in the Marketplace is a case study of market based reforms at Uganda's Makerere University. With the World Bank heralding neoliberal reform at Makerere as the model for the transformation of higher education in Africa, it has implications for the whole continent. At the global level, the Makerere case exemplifies the fate of public universities in a market oriented and capital friendly era. The Makerere reform began in the 1990s and was based on the premise that higher education is more of a private than a public good. Instead of pitting the public against the private and the state against the market, this book shifts the terms of the debate toward a third alternative than explores different relations between the two. The book distinguishes between privatisation and commercialisation, two processes that drove the Makerere reform. It argues that whereas privatisation, the entry of privately sponsored students, is compatible with a public university where priorities are publicly set, commercialisation, financial and administrative autonomy for each faculty to design a market responsive curriculum, inevitably leads to a market determination of priorities in a public university. The book warns against commercialisation of public universities as the subversion of public institutions for private purposes.

Information Technology and Managing Quality Education

Arthur Tatnall, Omponye Coach Kereteletswe, Adrie Visscher, 2011-03-10. This book constitutes the refereed post proceedings of the 9th IFIP WG 3.7 Conference on Information Technology in Educational Management ITEM 2010 held in Kasane, Botswana, in July 2010. The 22 revised full papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected. The papers cover a wide range of topics addressing the utilization of ICT at different levels of education, from primary education to higher education, such as identifying and satisfying learning needs, strategic management, school management, information systems, open source software, and the relationship between ICT and organizational performance.

Situation Analysis of the Gender Terrain at Makerere University, 2007

Government Handbook, Uganda, 2005 Cases on Leadership in Adult Education, Modise, Oitshepile MmaB, 2015-07-17

Strong leadership is the cornerstone of advancement. Nowhere is this more important than in the field of education, where students undergo training to effectively overcome obstacles and challenges, whether in the classroom or in the workforce. Cases on Leadership in Adult Education highlights real world examples of students inspired and invigorated to higher levels of achievement in both their professional and academic lives, as well as instances of leadership gone wrong and examples of what not to do when put in charge of an organization. Featuring case studies covering a wide range of disciplines, this book is a valuable resource for instructors of adult education in universities and community colleges, practitioners in the education field, adult students of various backgrounds, and managers or leaders seeking improvement within their respective organizations. This authoritative reference source features chapters on a broad scope of education and training issues.

including but not limited to agricultural training leadership styles lifelong learning management issues poverty reduction rehabilitation programs trends in teaching culture and vocational training COVID-19 and Education in Africa Lydia Namatende-Sakwa, Sarah Lewinger, Catherine Langsford, 2022-11-18 With comprehensive examples from researchers across East Africa West Africa and Southern Africa the book examines how primary secondary and tertiary education was affected by the pandemic and how its effects are shaping the future of education in Africa This book addresses diverse issues relating to COVID 19 and education including the gendered classed and disability related effects of the pandemic African educators and students experiences with different remote learning technologies and the outcomes of government interventions in education such as prolonged school closures The chapters and case studies highlighted in the volume represent the voices of African educators students and parents as they share their experiences of the pandemic and their perspectives on how learning should be optimised to better manage future disruptions to education This book is the first of its kind to comprehensively examine the effects of COVID 19 on education in Africa and will be essential reading for researchers academics and scholars of African education international and comparative education and education policy Government Handbook 2006 , Brain Degeneration and Dementia in Sub-Saharan Africa Seggane Musisi, Stanley Jacobson, 2015-04-14 Stemming from a 2012 conference entitled Brain Degenerations and Emerging Mental Health Challenges in Sub Saharan Africa this book is aimed at both the general practitioner interested in CNS disorders and the specialist who would like to know more about CNS pathology in Africa By employing a broad definition of what brain degeneration means the authors are able to touch upon everything from dementias and CNS malignancy to traumatic brain injury and CNS infective processes This book draws from and builds upon the original conference presentations and incorporates the most up to date science behind brain degeneration as well as actual case reports Each of the book's six sections offer the reader a deeper understanding of brain degeneration as it exists in Sub Saharan Africa Research Universities in Africa Nico Cloete, Ian Bunting, 2018-11-09 From the early 2000s a new discourse emerged in Africa and the international donor community that higher education was important for development in Africa Within this zeitgeist of converging interests a range of agencies agreed that a different collaborative approach to linking higher education to development was necessary This led to the establishment of the Higher Education Research and Advocacy Network in Africa Herana to concentrate on research and advocacy about the possible role and contribution of universities to development in Africa This book is the final publication to emerge from the Herana project The project has also published more than 100 articles chapters reports manuals and datasets and many presentations have been delivered to share insights gained from the work done by Herana Given its prolific dissemination it seems reasonable to ask whether this fourth and final publication will offer the reader anything new This book is certainly different from previous publications in several respects First it is the only book to include an analysis of eight African universities based on the full 15 years of empirical data collected by the project Second previous books and reports were published mid project This book has benefited from an extended gestation period allowing the authors and contributors to reflect on the project without the distractions associated with managing and participating in a large scale project For the first time some of those who have been involved in Herana since its inception have had the opportunity to at least make an attempt to see part of the wood for the trees Different does not necessarily mean new An emphasis on the newness of the data and perspectives presented in this book is important because it shows that it is more than a historical record of a donor funded project Rather each chapter in this book brings to a lesser or greater extent something new to our understanding of universities research and development in Africa African Journal of Political Science ,2004 Evolution of Information Technology in Educational Management Arthur Tatnall,Adrie J. Visscher,Andrew Finegan,Christopher O'Mahony,2009-04-05 Evolution of Information Technology in Educational Management As the editors of this volume we are very happy to publish a selection of the papers that were presented at the eighth Conference of Working Group 3 7 of the International Federation for Information Processing which was held in July 2008 The focus of Working Group 3 7 is on ITEM Information Technology in Educational Management for more information please visit our website <http://item.wceruw.org> and the theme of its 2008 conference was on the Evolution of Information Technology in Educational Management Our Working Group started its activities officially we were not an IFIP Working Group at that time in 1994 in Israel so it made sense to look at how ITEM has evolved over the years and to reflect on what its future may be The conference took place in Darwin northern Australia which even during the Australian winter is a very pleasant location for having a conference The town of Darwin was given its name by the Captain of the Beagle the ship on which Darwin travelled when he made the investigations on which he based his Theory of Evolution who came to the area and named the town after the giant of science he admired Makerere University in Transition 1993-2000 Nakanyike Musisi,Nansozi K. Muwanga,2003 Makerere University was first established as a colonial university and its challenge is to consolidate and improve on previous bold reforms The Partnership for Higher Education in Africa commissioned case studies of higher education provision in Tanzania Uganda Kenya Mozambique Nigeria Ghana and South Africa as part of its effort to stimulate enlightened equitable and knowledge based national development and to provide guides to understanding Makerere University has shown tremendous resilience from its establishment as a colonial university through the economic hardships political instability and mismanagement that began in the 1970s It has embarked on an impressive road to recovery involving numerous bold reforms The challenge now is to harness sustain improve and consolidate these changes In association with Partnership for Higher Education in Africa Uganda Fountain Publishers The Humble Beginnings of Makerere University James N. M. B. Rugiireheh-Runaku,1995 Inventory of Geographical Research at Makerere University, 1947-1972 B. W. Langlands,1972 The Sustainability of Higher Education in Sub-Saharan Africa Peter Neema-Abooki,2024-07-02 This book delves into the role of higher education as a means of sustainable development in Sub

Saharan Africa Contributions from across the region examine the strategies and technological advances available to enable students to deal with an uncertain future and are organised under two key themes Curriculum and Teaching and Higher Education and Innovations The volume brings together theoretical and practical perspectives relating them to international benchmarks while maintaining the specificities of the African context It will be of interest to students and scholars as well as practitioners whose work interrogates higher education quality assurance and sustainable development goals The Social Background of Makerere [i.e. Makerere] University Students and the Potential for Cost Sharing Muhammad K. Mayanja,1998 Enabling Collaborative Governance through Systems Modeling Methods Carmine Bianchi,Luis F. Luna-Reyes,Eliot Rich,2020-07-08 This volume constitutes a first approximation for the use of systems approaches and dynamic performance management as tools for collaborative governance The chapters examine models and simulations used in some specific systems approaches which contribute to facilitating problem focus and collective understanding of collaborative governance especially in the area of performance management The explicit connection between resources and outcomes promoted by this view helps managers to understand better how to improve policy and to create positive outcomes that create public value Profiles of African Scientists ,1996 Directory of Ugandan Professional Women ,1999
