Lipstick Jihad Azadeh Moaveni,2007-03-31 As far back as she can remember Azadeh Moaveni has felt at odds with her tangled identity as an Iranian American In suburban America Azadeh lived in two worlds At home she was the daughter of the Iranian exile community serving tea clinging to tradition and dreaming of Tehran Outside she was a California girl who practiced yoga and listened to Madonna For years she ignored the tense standoff between her two cultures But college magnified the clash between Iran and America and after graduating she moved to Iran as a journalist This is the story of her search for identity between two cultures cleaved apart by a violent history It is also the story of Iran a restive land lost in the twilight of its revolution Moaveni's homecoming falls in the heady days of the country's reform movement when young people demonstrated in the streets and shouted for the Islamic regime to end In these tumultuous times she struggles to build a life in a dark country wholly unlike the luminous saffron and turquoise tinted Iran of her imagination As she leads us through the drug soaked underground parties of Tehran into the hedonistic lives of young people desperate for change Moaveni paints a rare portrait of Iran's rebellious next generation The landscape of her Tehran ski slopes fashion shows malls and cafes is populated by a cast of young people whose exuberance and despair brings the modern reality of Iran to vivid life

Stuck Moving Peter Benson, 2023-04-11 AUTHOR S NOTE This book is unconventional A self conscious experiment in form that draws together two vernaculars anthropological thought and the pop culture of my youth It is a fraught exercise I write as a White guy about angst and alienation in the privileged spaces of anthropology and higher education I appreciate the irony I hope nonetheless that my experiences with and critical perspectives on social conventions the culture of liberalism and ableism in academia might be useful I seek to expand possibilities of anthropological representation while challenging epistemological aesthetic and professional norms in my discipline It bothers me that anthropology can be so sanctimonious I take aim at the ableist conceit that anthropologists are non characters studying a messy world Much of my life has been a mess My work has been undertaken amid struggles with pregnancy loss bipolar disorder and drug addiction I have deep regrets about my participation in an exploitative field I have deep regrets about many things I have hurt people and been hurt by people I hope my stories and reflections add to what others have already written about a more open honest and self deprecating anthropology
