Diversity in Japanese Education Naoko Araki,2017-06-09 No one is born fully formed it is through self experience in the world that we become what we are Paulo Freire Diversity in Japanese Education explores self experience of individual learners and educators in Japan The word diversity is not limited to one s ethnic background Here diversity refers to one s pedagogical experiences and life experiences to the norms beliefs and values that impact such relations These experiences and relations are fluid as they are shaped and reshaped in global and glocal settings They are also reflected in praxis of English language learning and teaching in Japan The authors educational backgrounds vary but they all share the common ground of being educators in Japan Through being involved in learning and or teaching English language in Japan they have witnessed and experienced diversity in their own pedagogical context The book focuses on shifting critical and reflexive eyes on qualitative studies of pedagogical experiences rather than presenting one fixed view of Japanese education

Realizing Autonomy Kay Irie, Alison Stewart, 2011-11-25 Realizing Autonomy Practice and Reflection in Language Education Contexts presents critical practitioner research into innovative approaches to language learner autonomy Writing about experiences in a range of widely differing contexts the authors offer fresh insights and perspectives on the challenges and contradictions of learner autonomy

Language in Language Teacher Education H. R. Trappes-Lomax, Gibson Ferguson, 2002-01-01 This volume explores the defining element in the work of language teacher educators language itself The book is in two parts The first part holds up to scrutiny concepts of language that underlie much practice in language teacher education yet too frequently remain under examined These include language as social institution language as verbal practice language as reflexive practice language as school subject and language as medium of language learning The chapters in the second part are written by language teacher educators working in a range of institutional contexts and on a variety of types of program including both long and short courses both pre service and in service courses and teacher education practice focusing variously on metalinguistic awareness for teachers language improvement and classroom communication The unifying factor is that collectively they illuminate how language teacher educators research their practice and reflect on underlying principles
