Fragmented Memories and Screening Nostalgia for the Cultural Revolution Jing Meng, 2020-08-19 Fragmented Memories and Screening Nostalgia for the Cultural Revolution argues that films and TV dramas about the Cultural Revolution made after China's accession to the WTO in 2001 tend to represent personal memories in a markedly sentimental nostalgic and fragmented manner This new trend is a significant departure from earlier films about the subject which are generally interpreted as national allegories not private expressions of grief regret or other personal feelings With China entering a postsocialist era the ideological conflation of socialism and global capitalism has generated enough cultural ambiguity to allow a space for the expression of personalized reminiscences of the past By presenting these personal memories in effect alternative narratives to official history on screen individuals now seem to have some agency in narrating and constructing history At the same time such autonomy can be easily undermined since the promotion of the sentiment of nostalgia is often subjected to commodification Sentimental treatments of the past may simply be a marketing strategy Underplaying political issues is also a safer way for films and TV dramas to secure public release in mainland China Meng concludes that the new mode of representing the past is shaped by the current sociopolitical conditions these personal memories and micro narratives can be understood as the defining ways of remembering in China's postsocialist era Fragmented Memories and Screening Nostalgia for the Cultural Revolution takes a comprehensive look at contemporary screen depictions of the Cultural Revolution. The book convincingly ties close readings of the works analysed with broader social and cultural phenomena that already are hot topics of study and debate, offering something original while also being closely engaged with existing scholarship. Jason McGrath, University of Minnesota.

Breaking through the tired dichotomy between personal and collective narratives, individual memory and grand history, this refreshing book sheds much light on film memories of the Cultural Revolution in the post-socialist millennium. In a limpid and engaging style, Jing Meng probes memory's nostalgia and imbrication with the collective destiny and critiques the personal focus aligned with neoliberal economy and commodification. Ban Wang, Stanford University.

Hawthorn Bill Vaughn, 2015-01-01. An engaging introduction to the ancient hawthorn tree and its varied roles in human history. One of humankind's oldest companions, the hawthorn tree is bound up in the memories of every recorded age and the plot lines of cultures across the Northern Hemisphere. In Hawthorn, Bill Vaughn examines the little recognized political, cultural, and natural history of this ancient spiky plant. Used for thousands of years in the impenetrable living fences that defined the landscapes of Europe, the hawthorn eventually helped feed the class antagonism that led to widespread social upheaval. In the American Midwest, hawthorn-inspired hedges on the prairies made nineteenth-century farming economically rewarding for the first time. Later, in Normandy, maze-like hedgerows bristling with these thorns nearly cost the Allies World War II. Vaughn shines light on the full scope of the tree's influence over human events. He also explores medicinal value of the hawthorn, the use of its fruit in the world's first wine, and the symbolic role its spikes and flowers played in pagan beliefs and Christian iconography. As entertaining as it is illuminating, this book is the first full appreciation of the hawthorn's abundant connections with humanity.

Memory, Fluid Identity, and the Politics of Remembering Li Li, 2016-06-21. The Chinese Cultural Revolution is the single most important internal social event in contemporary Chinese history. The plethora of history, literary, and artistic representations inspired by this event are critical to our understanding of the diversified, often contested interpretations of contemporary China. Li Li's critical examination of autobiographic, filmic, and fictional presentations in Memory, Fluid Identity, and the Politics of Remembering. The Representations of the Chinese Cultural Revolution in English-speaking Countries demonstrates that memory works not only reflect memories of those who lived through that period but memories about their past and more importantly about their identity remapping and artistic negotiation in a cross-cultural environment.

Contemporary Chinese Novels in Translation since 1978 Yun Wu, 2024-10-14. This book aims to complement the traditional focus of translation studies, which has primarily centered on translating English into other languages. It presents a comprehensive analysis of the reverse translation trajectory, exploring the movement of Chinese literature into the core English literary domain. The book aims to explore the ideological and sociological dynamics that underlie the translation of contemporary Chinese novels. This is achieved through an examination of the translation selection process, translation paratexts and the roles of translation agents Case studies are employed to illustrate specific linguistic literary and cultural challenges within translation It dissects the cultural and literary implications of translating genres such as women s writing science fiction and Internet literature The argument presented is that the translation of peripheral literature is indispensable in shaping global literature Beyond its literary implications the book identifies the political significance inherent in such reverse translation endeavors It suggests that the translation of Chinese literature holds notable political interest for the Chinese government which aims to reshape China s image and bolster the nation s soft power through literary translation This work will be an essential read to students and scholars of translation studies comparative literature and Chinese studies

Chutzpah! Ou Ning,Austin Woerner,2015-09-10 To Westerners China has often seemed a monolith speaking with one voice whether that of an ancient dynasty a socialist state or an economic powerhouse Chutzpah New Voices from China shatters this illusion giving Western readers a rare chance to listen to the brilliant polyphony of Chinese fiction today Here in the realms of realism and fantasy and portraying worlds lyrical gritty or wildly avant garde sixteen selections three of which are nonfiction by up and coming Chinese writers take readers from the suburbs of Nanjing to the mountains of Xinjiang Province from London s Chinatown to a universe seemingly sprung from a video game In these stories one may encounter a sweet lonely fabric store owner or a lesbian housecleaner a posse of shit talking vo tech students or a human hive mind A jeep driving swordsman girds himself for battle by reading Borges and Nabokov A Beijing raised Kazakh boy hunts for his lost heritage A teenager plots revenge on the bureaucrat responsible for demolishing his home A starving child falls in love with a water spirit These stories collected by Ou Ning and Austin Woerner and offered in English by leading translators of Chinese travel the breadth and depth of China s remarkable literary landscape Drawn from the pages of Chutzpah one of China s most innovative literary magazines this anthology bids farewell to the tired tropes of moonlight and peach blossoms goodbye to the constraints of socialist realism In their place it introduces us to the imaginative power boundless creativity and kaleidoscopic diversity of a new generation of Chinese fiction
