The Antiracist Educator Pranav Patel, 2022-01-12 In a society that privileges whiteness, racist ideas have become normalised throughout our educational institutions and curriculum. We are not born racist or antiracist; these result from the choices we make. Choosing this book means making a conscious choice to learn about how racism is embedded within the UK education system and deciding to fight against it. Choosing this book starts you on your antiracist journey as a teacher. As a teacher, you are in a position of power. It is the school system which is the starting point for how children learn to view the world and accept knowledge, and you have the power to impact change to create a more inclusive and diverse society. Written by Pranav Patel, who has nearly 2 decades of teaching experience and is a TEDx speaker, campaigner and blogger, this book is your call to action. Covering a range of important topics such as unconscious bias, stereotyping, assessment and discrimination, and racialised trauma in childhood, this book shows you how to identify and challenge the racist structures in which we are brought up. How to acknowledge the impact and roles you play in upholding racism. What actions can you take as an ally in your everyday life. Becoming antiracist is not a quick fix; it is a lifelong education for you and the children you teach. Let's begin the journey today.

Assessment for Social Justice Jan McArthur, 2018-03-22 Assessment for Social Justice takes the established idea of assessment for learning and extends it to consider how assessment contributes to social justice within and through higher education Jan McArthur invites the reader to rethink familiar positions on assessment and fairness and seeks to explore the full complexity of a critical theory inspired notion of social justice She positions her work in contrast to more procedural approaches to social justice such as John Rawls's influential theorisation of social justice In contrast McArthur draws on the work of third generation critical theorist Axel Honneth and takes inspiration from Honneth's three realms of mutual recognition in order to reconsider the nature of assessment relationships and practices A further theoretical strand is introduced in the form of social practice theory and particularly the work of Theodore Shatzki McArthur provides a theoretically rigorous understanding of assessment as a social practice and as a vehicle both for and against social justice Together with critical theory this work enables a realizable vision of an alternative approach to assessment in higher education where the underlying aim is greater social justice McArthur argues that students must be nurtured to recognise the social contribution that they can make as a result of engaging with knowledge in higher education rather than defining
