Understanding Careers Metaphors Of Working Lives:

Understanding Careers Kerr Inkson, Nicky Dries, John Arnold, 2014-11-10 In the hotly anticipated second edition of Understanding Careers Kerr Inkson has teamed up with Nicky Dries and John Arnold to take readers on a fascinating journey through the field of Career Studies. Interdisciplinary in nature, the text brings together and critiques a range of perspectives allowing for a broader and more holistic understanding of the field. Theory and practice receive comprehensive coverage of all the key theories and cutting edge research is related to the real world through over 50 case studies. A new Careers in Practice section contains chapters devoted to self development, career counselling and organizational practices. International perspective contains examples, cases, research references and statistics from a range of countries. Use of metaphor: the text is structured around commonly used metaphors for careers helping students relate to the ideas presented and providing a framework for analysis and comparison. Ideal reading for students considering their own career and personal development as well as those studying career development, career guidance or human resource management within a psychology, education, counselling or business degree.

Career Development as a Partner in Nation Building Australia Wendy Patton, 2019-07-15 Despite examples of vocational guidance practice being evident in Australia since the mid 1800s there remains a spasmodic and patchwork approach to practice across the country For decades it is a field which has been paradoxically boosted and challenged by changing economic and political agendas Repeated international national and State reviews emphasise the vital nature of a systemic national approach to career development however authors repeatedly lament the lack of a sustained focus on career activity as a major national priority There is no broad comprehensive historical reckoning of the history of career development theory and practice in Australia since this early period Career development theory and practice in Australia has been forged in partnership with developments in an international context In documenting the shared history with other countries the author significantly adds to the body of knowledge on career development as a field in Australia and internationally The book provides new understandings about the historical development of this field of knowledge and in particular the challenging and cyclical nature of its policy history

International Handbook of Career Guidance James A. Athanasou, R. van Esbroeck, 2008-08-02 The International Handbook of Career Guidance represents a project of international professional cooperation It is intended as a catalyst for reform and was designed to support the development of career guidance in the years to come Working for over four years from Belgium and Australia we had the privilege to collaborate with over 50 colleagues throughout the world to produce this Handbook In every instance we selected key researchers who have an established reputation in the field of career development They agreed to be involved and we are grateful for their support in this major effort In this handbook we have tried to bring together a collection that summarises the diverse aspects of career guidance It is a synthesis of the domain of career and vocational guidance firstly for an international readership and secondly it is designed to act as a reference for academics researchers and professionals in the expanding field of career development For this reason the Handbook includes coverage of the background and history of guidance right through to poignant issues relating to careers in the modern world of work Policy issues relating to the provision of careers services as well as professional issues relating to career education career counselling career assessment program evaluation and research methodologies are covered Organizational Management Carolina Machado, Joao Paulo Davim, 2016-03-15 Organizations are increasingly facing continuous and highly complex changes that require more proactive strategies policies and management practices Conscious of this reality this book provides information and debate on principles strategies models techniques methodologies and applications of organizational management in the field of industry commerce and services Organizational Management communicates the latest developments and thinking on the organizational management subject world wide and seeks cultural and geographic diversity in studies and uses of organizational management that have a special impact on organizational communications change processes and work practices With an emphasis on the way organizations define and develop their management policies and practices in order to acquire more competitive advantages in the global market this book is crucial to any practitioner or researcher of current organizational management Green Skills Research in South Africa Eureka Rosenberg, Presha Ramsarup, Heila Lotz-Sisitka, 2019-12-05 This book proposes transformative realist methodology for skills research and planning through an analysis of case studies of the changing world of work new learning pathways and educational system challenges Studies of the green economy and sustainability transitions are a growing field internationally

however there are few books that link this interest to the development of skills This book draws on and showcases the experience and insights of researcher practitioners who are at the cutting edge in this emerging field internationally and in South Africa The context for this book is South Africa but application is worldwide In many ways indicative of the global picture South Africa is in the grip of economic and environmental imperatives searching for safe and just transitions The authors present a new embedded transitioning systems model for studying skills for a sustainable just future This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of sustainable development ecological economics and skills planning
