Undp And Human Development Report:

Human Development Report 1994 United Nations Development Programme,1994 This is the fifth edition of the Human Development Report Each edition includes a section on a specific issue in human development and this issue focuses on a new development paradigm As with previous editions it provides unique tables updated and derived from a set of Human Development indicators

Human Development Report 2005 United Nations Development Programme,2005 The Human Development Report 2005 examines the scale of the challenge facing the world at the start of the ten year countdown to the 2015 Millennium Development Goals mark The Report focuses on three pillars of cooperation each of which is in urgent need of renovation The first pillar is international aid the Millennium Development Goals MDGs project has been compromised by chronic and sustained under financing allied to problems in aid quality The second pillar is international trade Under the right conditions trade can act as a powerful catalyst for human development The development round of World Trade Organization talks launched in 2001 provided northern governments with an opportunity to create those conditions The third pillar is that of security violent conflict is a source of systematic human rights violation and a barrier to progress towards the MDGs that must be overcome

The Skeptical Environmentalist Bjørn Lomborg,2001-08-30 The Skeptical Environmentalist challenges widely held beliefs that the environmental situation is getting worse and worse The author himself a former member of Greenpeace is critical of the way in which many environmental organisations make selective and misleading use of the scientific evidence Using the best available statistical information from internationally recognised research institutes Bjørn Lomborg systematically examines a range of major environmental problems that feature prominently in headline news across the world His arguments are presented in non technical accessible language and are carefully backed up by over 2500 footnotes allowing readers to check sources for themselves Concluding that there are more reasons for optimism than pessimism Bjørn Lomborg stresses the need for clear headed prioritisation of resources to tackle real not imagined problems The Skeptical Environmentalist offers readers a non partisan stocktaking exercise that serves as a useful corrective to the more alarmist accounts favoured by campaign groups and the media

National gender profile of agriculture and rural livelihoods Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2023-08-07 In Angola around 80 percent of farmers are smallholders so the agriculture sector still represents an important source of income employment and food for a large part of the production Women constitute the majority of the labour force in agriculture and are critical agents of change in the fight against rural poverty hunger and malnutrition In Angola 4.8 million women live in rural areas and the 38.3 percent of the country's women have agriculture as their main activity However inequalities in access to land agricultural inputs training and knowledge limit their contribution to agricultural productivity and economic development At community level women have low participation in decision making Angola has made consistent efforts to address existing gender inequalities in the agriculture and labour sectors given the important role that women play in agriculture and the country's food systems

Although gender mainstreaming in agriculture and rural development sectors is in its early stages in recent years progress has been made to benefit women more consistently This assessment revealed that gender inequalities remain widespread and particularly evident in rural areas despite the progress made in establishing a legal and policy framework for advancing women s rights and gender equality

Freedom from Poverty as a Human Right Thomas Pogge,2007 Collected here are fifteen essays about the severe poverty that today afflicts billions of human lives The essays seek to explain why freedom from poverty is a human right and what duties this right creates for the affluent This volume derives from a UNESCO philosophy program organized in response to the first of the Millennium Development Goals MDGs adopted by the United Nations General Assembly in 2000 to eradicate extreme poverty and hunger Publisher s description

Navigating the Complexity Across the Peace-Sustainability-Climate Security Nexus Bernard Amadei,2023-11-28 Promoting peace and sustainability in human development while accounting for the risks associated with the impact of climate change on society has become more imperative than ever when addressing humanity s challenges of the twenty first century There is enough evidence that peace sustainability and climate security are entangled with multiple complex interactions and cannot be dealt with in isolation and independently from the environment and the numerous systems with which they interact Yet the intersection of peace sustainability and climate security or their opposites i e conflict unsustainability and climate vulnerability is rarely articulated with a systemic mindset A multi solving nexus approach is more appropriate to capture the complexity and uncertainty of how the three sectors of peace sustainability and climate security play a role in community development the nature of their causal chains and the feedback on how community development affects the three sectors Navigating the Complexity Across the Peace Sustainability Climate Security Nexus explores the value proposition of using a systems approach methodology and tools to comprehend and model that dynamic Features of the book Explores the interaction between the different components of peace and the relationship between peace sustainability and climate security using semi qualitative and quantitative tools Explains how climate adaptation and mitigation are related to peace or conflict Presents generic system dynamics modeling that can be used in different contexts

The United Nations world water development report, 2017 WWAP,UNESCO,2017-03-15 The United Nations World Water Assessment Programme WWAP is hosted and led by UNESCO WWAP brings together the work of 31 UN Water Members and 38 Partners to publish The United Nations World Water Development Report WWDR series The annual World Water Development Reports focus on strategic water issues UN Water Members and Partners all experts in their respective fields contribute the latest findings on a specific theme The 2017 edition of the World Water Development Report focuses on Wastewater and seeks to inform decision makers inside and outside the water community about the importance of managing wastewater as an undervalued and sustainable source of water energy nutrients and other recoverable by products rather than something to be disposed of or a nuisance to be ignored The report s title Wastewater The Untapped Resource reflects the critical role that wastewater is poised to play in the context of a circular economy whereby economic development is balanced with the protection of natural resources and environmental sustainability and where a cleaner and more sustainable economy has a positive effect on the water quality Improved wastewater management is not only critical to achieving the Sustainable Development Goal on clean water and sanitation SDG 6 but also to other goals of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development

The Fair and Equitable Treatment (FET) Standard in International Investment Arbitration Rumana Islam, 2018-09-18 This book presents comprehensive information on a range of issues in connection with the Fair and Equitable Treatment FET standard with a particular focus on arbitral awards against host developing countries thereby contributing to the available literature in this area of international investment law It examines in detail the interpretation of the FET standard of key arbitral awards affecting host developing countries demonstrating the full range of interpretation approaches adopted by the current investment tribunals At the same time the book offers valuable practical guidance for counsels scholars representing host developing countries in investment arbitration where balancing the competing interests of the foreign investors and the host developing countries in investment disputes poses a complex challenge The book puts forward the pressing need for a re conceptualized interpretation of the FET standard in tune with the developmental issues and challenges faced by host developing countries recognizing these countries particular perspectives as an important and relevant aspect of investment disputes often ignored by the current investment tribunals while continuing to ensure reasonable protections for foreign investors and therefore serving the needs of the system as whole The findings presented here will greatly benefit host developing countries engaged in investment arbitration In addition the book offers an insightful guide for all researchers whose work involves investment law and investment arbitration issues

Smith, 2020-10-21 The COVID 19 pandemic is having far reaching political and social consequences across the globe Published in collaboration with the Society for the Study of Social Problems SSSP this book addresses the greatest social challenges facing the world as a result of the pandemic The authors propose public policy solutions to help refugees migrant workers victims of human trafficking indigenous populations and the invisible poor of the Global South

Displacement, Development, and Climate Change Nina Hall, 2016-03-22 This book focuses on one critical challenge climate change Climate change is predicted to lead to an increased intensity and frequency of natural disasters An increase in extreme weather events global temperatures and higher sea levels may lead to displacement and migration and will affect many dimensions of the economy and society Although scholars are examining the complexity and fragmentation of the climate change regime they have not examined how our existing international development migration and humanitarian organizations are dealing with climate change Focusing on three institutions the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees the International Organization for Migration and the United Nations Development Programme the book asks how have these inter governmental organizations responded to climate change And are they moving beyond their original mandates given none were established with a mandate for climate change It traces their responses to climate change in their rhetoric policy structure operations and overall mandate change Hall argues that international bureaucrats can play an important role in mandate expansion often deciding whether and how to expand into a new issue area and then lobbying states to endorse this expansion They make changes in rhetoric policy structure and operations on the ground and therefore forge frame and internalize new issue linkages This book helps us to understand how institutions established in the 20th century are adapting to a 21st century world It will be of great interest to scholars and students of International Relations Development Studies Environmental Politics International Organizations and Global Governance as well as international officials

Reproductive Health and Gender Equality Guang-zhen Wang, 2016-04-08 Since the late 1990s approaches to women s reproductive health has shifted from a service based model to a human rights approach This approach associates reproductive health with freedom from discrimination and enjoyment of a satisfying and safe sex life and full access to information and services related to reproduction In spite of this shift and the global effort to promote women s reproductive health through the enhancement of human rights and gender equality progress has been very slow In this book the author fills a much needed empirical study of women s reproductive health The author assesses data from 137 developing countries or areas and challenges the prevailing bioscience and public health models by linking women s reproductive health to gender equality measures and development policies Discussion on abortion rights regional variations and reproductive health needs among refugees and internally displaced persons are also discussed This is a timely study which provides a theoretical and social policy basis for monitoring and improving women s reproductive health in developing countries This is particularly important in the light of insufficient research in the field and a lack of analysis on the empirical and theoretical linkages between reproductive health and gender equality The book will be of interest to researchers professionals and students interested in women s health issues gender women s studies and human rights Tourism and Development Richard Sharpley,David J. Telfer,2015 This book explores the relationship between tourism and development and establishes a conceptual link between the interconnected disciplines of tourism studies and development studies This new edition includes updated chapters drawing on contemporary knowledge as well as 5 new chapters that consider emergent themes in tourism and development
