Native English Speakers and Aviation Communication Dominique Estival, 2025-09-30 The increased globalisation of aviation requires a large number of aviation professionals pilots and air traffic controllers who must cooperate and communicate to ensure safety as well as efficiency Native English Speakers and Aviation Communication argues for the need to train and test native English speakers NES as well as non native English speakers NNES in aviation communication While Aviation English is the lingua franca of the skies it is not a variety of English it has no native speakers and NES must learn and practise it Based on the practical experience of the author as a flight instructor and an Aviation English assessor combined with academic research in language and communication this book provides strong arguments for the need to teach standard aviation communication to native English speakers It describes the challenges of aviation communication and the ongoing problems posed by the lack of relevant training or testing for NES reviews the current state of affairs regarding regulations across a range of countries and suggests training solutions to be integrated in the ground school curriculum and during flight training This book is an essential resource for researchers and advanced students working in English for Specific Purposes Aviation English and Aviation Communication as well as for professionals in aviation and aviation training

The Language of Emotions ... Niemeier-Dirven, René Dirven, 1997-01-01 Since the celebration of the 100th anniversary of Darwin's The Language of the Emotions in Man and Animals 1872 emotionology has become a respectable and even thriving research domain again The domain of human emotions is most important for mankind emotions being right in the center of our daily lives and interests A key role in the interdisciplinary scientific debate about emotions has now been accorded to the study of the language of emotions The present volume offers a new approach to the study of the language of emotions insofar as it presents theories from very different perspectives It encompasses studies by scholars from diverse disciplines such as linguistics sociology and psychology The topics of the contributions also cover a range of special fields of interest in four major sections In a first section a discussion of theoretical issues in the analysis of emotions is presented The conceptualization of emotions in specific cultures is analyzed in section 2 Section 3 takes a different inroad into the language of emotions by looking at developmental approaches giving evidence of the fact that the acquisition of the language of emotions is a social achievement that simultaneously determines our experience of these emotions Section 4 is devoted to emotional language in action that is the contributions focus upon different types of texts and analyze how emotions are
