Cabanocey Lillian C. Bourgeois, 1999-04-30 Louisiana has sixty four parishes and many of them are as individual and different as the state itself is different from others in the Union St James Parish a small parish of 249 square miles is not only one of the oldest settlements in the state but it is different in its population make up and is important historically Cabanocey is a splendid history of the Parish of St James Lillian C Bourgeois captured the spirit that animates the population which is descended from French Spanish Acadian German and Creole peoples Bourgeois writes of the population s customs beliefs language differences and folklore Cabanocey is not a collection of dry facts and dates rather it vividly describes how more than one hundred years ago the people of St James Parish lived who they were and what they contributed to their parish and their state Before the Civil War St James Parish was the educational center of Louisiana and Jefferson College was the first important college in the state Founded in 1830 it had fine buildings a well equipped laboratory and an impressive library The Convent of the Sacred Heart 1835 for girls was well known by prominent families in Louisiana Mexico and Central America who sent their daughters there Cabanocey contains St James genealogies and thousands of names of early settlers including the soldiers taxpayers officials prominent families and the first settlers and their children From the early censuses and church and court records descent is traced for many names The censuses of 1766 1769 and 1777 are complete and were obtained from the archives in Seville Spain

Robert W. Tebbs, Photographer to Architects Richard Anthony Lewis, 2011-12-05 One of the finest architectural photographers in America Robert W Tebbs produced the first photographic survey of Louisiana s plantations in 1926 From those images now housed in the Louisiana State Museum and not widely available until now 119 plates showcasing fifty two homes are featured here Richard Anthony Lewis explores Tebbs s life and career situating his work along the line of plantation imagery from nineteenth century woodcuts and paintings to later twentieth century photographs by John Clarence Laughlin among others Providing the family lineage and construction history of each home Lewis discusses photographic techniques Tebbs used in his alternating panoramic and detail views A precise documentarian Tebbs also reveals a poetic sensibility in the plantation photos His frequent emphasis on aspects of decay neglect incompleteness and loss lends a wistful aura to many of the images an effect compounded by the fact that many of the homes no longer exist This noticeable vacillation between objectivity and sentiment Lewis shows suggests unfamiliarity and even discomfort with the legacy of slavery Poised on the brink of social and political reforms Louisiana in the mid 1920s had made significant strides away from the slave based agricultural economy that the plantation house often symbolized. Tebb's Louisiana plantation photographs capture a literal and cultural past reflecting a burgeoning national awareness of historic preservation and presenting plantations to us anew. Select plantations included Ashland, Belle Helene, Avery Island, Belle Chasse, Belmont, Butler, Greenwood, L'Hermitage, Oak Alley, Parlange, Ren Beauregard House, Rosedown, Seven Oaks, Shadows on the Teche, The Shades, and Waverly.

Uncle Sam Plantation Papers, 1864      Uncle Sam Plantation Papers, 1901      Uncle Sam Plantation Papers, 1866      Charting the Plantation Landscape from Natchez to New Orleans Laura Kilcer VanHuss, 2021-05-05

Charting the Plantation Landscape from Natchez to New Orleans examines the hidden histories behind one of the nineteenth century South's most famous maps: Norman's Chart of the Lower Mississippi River, created by surveyor Marie Adrién Persac before the Civil War and used for decades to guide the pilots of river vessels. Beyond its purely cartographic function, Persac's map depicted a world of accomplishment and prosperity while concealing the enslaved and exploited laborers whose work powered the plantations. Persac drew. In this collection, contributors from a variety of disciplines consider the histories that Persac's map omitted, exploring plantations not as sites of ease and plenty but as complex legal, political, and medical landscapes. Essays by Laura Ewen Blokker and Suzanne Turner consider the built and designed landscapes of plantations as they were structured by the logics and logistics of both slavery and the effort to present a façade of serenity and wealth. William Horne and Charles D. Chamberlain III delve into the political activity of formerly enslaved people and slaveholders respectively, while Christopher Willoughby explores the ways the plantation health system was defined by the agro-industrial environment. Jochen Wierich examines artistic depictions of plantations from the antebellum years through the twentieth century, and Christopher Morris uses the famed Uncle Sam Plantation to explain how plantations have been memorialized, remembered, and preserved. With keen insight into the human cost of the idealized version of the agrarian South depicted in Persac's map, Charting the Plantation Landscape encourages us to see with new eyes and form new definitions of what constitutes the plantation landscape.

Lost Plantations of the South Marc R. Matrana, 2009-01-01

The great majority of the South's plantation homes have been destroyed over time, and many have long been forgotten. In Lost Plantations of the South, Marc R. Matrana weaves together photographs, diaries, and letters, architectural renderings, and other rare documents to tell the story of sixty of these vanquished estates and the people who once called them home. From plantations that were destroyed by natural disaster, such as Alabama's Forks of Cypress, to those that were intentionally demolished, such as Seven Oaks in Louisiana and Mount Brilliant in Kentucky, Matrana resurrects these lost mansions. Including plantations throughout the South as well as border states, Matrana carefully tracks the histories of each from the earliest days of construction to the often contentious struggles to preserve these irreplaceable historic treasures. Lost Plantations of the South explores the root causes of demise and provides understanding and insight on how lessons learned in these sad losses can help prevent future preservation crises. Capturing the voices of masters and mistresses alongside those of slaves and featuring more than one hundred elegant archival illustrations this book explores the powerful and complex histories of these cardinal homes across the South Louisiana Buildings, 1720-1940 Jessie Poesch, Barbara SoRelle Bacot, 1997-08-01 The only New Deal program to continue into the 1990s the Historic American Buildings Survey has through the years drawn attention to the historical and artistic significance of buildings that contemporary taste might otherwise have ignored Louisiana Buildings 1720 1940 makes easily available the fruit of HABS's important and enduring efforts to record Louisiana's architectural heritage In the 1930s the Louisiana HABS team concentrated on public edifices and grand plantation complexes threatened by destruction Later records of HABS include still other habitations of the common man as well as industrial structures The project has yielded not only graphic and written documentation of the buildings many no longer standing but also new insights into the history of the state's architecture An invaluable part of Louisiana Buildings 1720 1940 is the alphabetical listing of HABS structures in Louisiana both by familiar name and by parish The listing by parish gives the location the date of construction the architect when known and the current status of each building It also presents drawings or photographs of many of the structures over 300 pictures in all There are besides nine chapters by leading architectural historians who cover all aspects of Louisiana architecture its Creole beginnings in the south of the state the Appalachian folk style in the north and developments on the plantation in the seventeenth century urban setting and in the modern era Those chapters form an essential frame of reference for the data in the HABS listings and call attention to many other structures that are a part of the history of building in the Pelican State Anyone interested in the state's architecture or history will find Louisiana Buildings

Rodrigue, 2001-05 In Reconstruction in the Cane Fields John C. Rodrigue examines emancipation and the difficult transition from slavery to free labor in one enclave of the South the cane sugar region of southern Louisiana In contrast to the various forms of sharecropping and tenancy that replaced slavery in the cotton South wage labor dominated the sugar industry Rodrigue demonstrates that the special geographical and environmental requirements of sugar production in Louisiana shaped the new labor arrangements Ultimately he argues the particular demands of Louisiana sugar production accorded freedmen formidable bargaining power in the contest with planters over free labor Rodrigue addresses many issues pivotal to all post emancipation societies How would labor be reorganized following slavery's demise Who would wield decision making power on the plantation How were former slaves to secure the fruits of their own labor He finds that while freedmen's working and living conditions in the postbellum sugar industry resembled the prewar status quo they did not reflect a continuation of the powerlessness of slavery Instead freedmen converted their skills and knowledge of sugar production their awareness of how easily they could disrupt the sugar plantation routine and their political empowerment during Radical Reconstruction into leverage that they used in disputes with planters over wages hours and labor conditions Thus sugar planters far from being omnipotent overlords who dictated terms to workers were forced to adjust to an emerging labor market as well as to black political power The labor arrangements particular to postbellum sugar plantations not only propelled the freedmen's political mobilization during Radical Reconstruction Rodrigue shows but also helped to sustain black political power at least for a few years beyond Reconstruction's demise in 1877 By showing that freedmen under the proper circumstances were willing to consent to wage labor and to work routines that strongly resembled those of slavery Reconstruction in the Cane Fields offers a profound interpretation of how former slaves defined freedom in slavery's immediate aftermath It will prove essential reading for all students of southern African American agricultural and labor history
