century Emyr Humphreys s work as a novelist short story writer poet dramatist and television producer has been extraordinarily impressive This pioneering and stimulating book considers Humphreys s fiction from a range of contemporary critical perspectives and stresses its relevance to the 21st century Drawing on the work of leading modern cultural and literary theorists such as Jacques Derrida and Homi Bhabha psychoanalytic critics such as Melanie Klein and Jacqueline Rose and gender theorists such as Judith Butler Linden Peach brings fresh perspectives to the content structure and developing nature of Humphreys s work employing for example historicist post historicist new geography psychoanalytic and feminist and postfeminist frameworks Through detailed readings which highlight subjects such as gender identity contested masculinities war pacifism strangeness and otherness problematic father and daughter relationships and cultural discourse in complex linguistic environments Peach suggests that Humphreys s work is best understood as dramatic dissident and or dilemma fiction rather than by the term Protestant novelist which Humphreys used to describe himself at the outset of his career Stressing how Humphreys came to see himself as more of a protesting novelist Peach examines how the dilemmas around which his fiction is based originally linked to Humphreys s definition of himself as a protestant writer increasingly become sites in which controversial and often dark themes are explored This approach to Humphreys s work is pursued through exciting readings of some of Humphreys best and lesser known works including A Man s Estate A Toy Epic Outside the House of Baal the Best of Friends salt of the Earth Unconditional Surrender The Gift of a Daughter Natives Ghosts and Strangers Old people are a Problem The shop and The Woman at the Window Unconditional Tanya Eavenson, 2016-04-05

Williams,2013-08-16 Moving through the elegiac ruins of the Berlin Wall and the Yugoslav disintegration Writing Postcommunism explores literary evocations of the pervasive disappointment and mourning that have marked the postcommunist twilight The Routledge Research Companion to Popular Romance Fiction Jayashree Kamblé,Eric Murphy Selinger,Hsu-Ming Teo,2020-08-11 Popular romance fiction constitutes the largest segment of the global book market Bringing together an international group of scholars The Routledge Research Companion to Popular Romance Fiction offers a ground breaking exploration of this global genre and its remarkable readership In recognition of the diversity of the form the Companion provides a history of the genre an overview of disciplinary approaches to studying romance fiction and critical analyses of important subgenres themes and topics It also highlights new and understudied avenues of inquiry for future research in this vibrant and still emerging field The first systematic comprehensive resource on romance fiction this Companion will be invaluable to students and scholars and accessible to romance readers Pediatric Formulations Daniel Bar-Shalom,Klaus Rose,2014-01-30 Until the 1990s it was generally accepted that medicines were first developed for adults and their use in children was investigated later if at all One of the main tasks of hospital pharmacies was the manufacturing of child appropriate formulations in a more or less makeshift way The first change came in 1997 with U S legislation that rewarded manufacturers to do voluntary pediatric research Ten years later the European Union passed legislation that required manufacturers to discuss all pediatric aspects including formulations with the regulatory authorities as a condition of starting the registration procedure In consequence manufacturers must now cover all age groups including the youngest ones So far pediatric formulations were more a focus for academic researchers Through the changed regulatory environment there is now a sudden high commercial demand for age appropriate formulations This book begins by highlighting the anatomical physiological and developmental differences between adults and children of different ages It goes on to review the existing technologies and attempts to draw a roadmap to better innovative formulations in particular for oral administration The regulatory clinical ethical and pharmaceutical framework is also addressed Black Professional Women in Recent American Fiction Carmen Rose Marshall,2015-01-24 The last three decades of the 20th century have marked the triumph of many black professional women against great odds in the workplace Despite their success few novels celebrate their accomplishments Black middle class professional women want to see themselves realistically portrayed by protagonists who work to achieve significant productivity and visibility in their careers desire stability in their personal lives aspire to accrue wealth and live elegantly though not consumptively The author contends that most recent American realistic fiction fails to represent black professional women protagonists performing their work effectively in the workplace Identifying the extent to which contemporary novels satisfy the readerly desires of black middle class women readers this book investigates why the readership wants the texts as well as what they prefer in the books they buy It also examines the technical and cultural factors that contribute to the lack of books with self empowered black professional female protagonists and considers The Salt Eaters by Toni Cade Bambara and Waiting to Exhale by Terry McMillan two novels that function as significant markers in the development of contemporary black women writers texts

Narrative Hospitality in Late Victorian Fiction Rachel Hollander, 2013-01-17 Bringing together poststructuralist ethical theory with late Victorian debates about the morality of literature this book reconsiders the ways in which novels engender an ethical orientation or response in their readers explaining how the intersections of nation family and form in the late realist English novel produce a new ethics of hospitality Hollander reads texts that both portray and enact a unique ethical orientation of welcoming the other a narrative hospitality that combines the Victorians commitment to engaging with the real world with a more modern awareness of difference and the limits of knowledge While classic nineteenth century realism rests on a sympathy based model of moral relations novels by authors such as George Eliot Thomas Hardy and Olive Schreiner present instead an ethical recognition of the distance between self and other Opening themselves to the other in their very structure and narrative form the visited texts both represent and theorize the ethics of hospitality anticipating twentieth century philosophy s recognition of the limits of sympathy As colonial conflicts nationalist anxiety and the intensification of the woman question became dominant cultural concerns in the 1870s and 80s the problem of self and other known and unknown began to saturate and define the representation of home in the English novel This book argues that in the wake of an erosion of confidence in the ability to understand that which is unlike the self a moral code founded on sympathy gave way to an ethics of hospitality in which the concept of home shifts to acknowledge the permeability and vulnerability of not only domestic but also national spaces Concluding with Virginia Woolf s reexamination of the novel s potential to educate the reader in negotiating relations of alterity in a more fully modernist moment Hollander suggests that the late Victorian novel embodies a unique and previously unrecognized ethical mode between Victorian realism and a post World War I ethics of modernist form

Novels and the Sociology of the Contemporary Arpad Szakolczai, 2016-04-14 This book substantiates two claims First the modern world was not simply produced by objective factors rooted in geographical discoveries and scientific inventions to be traced to economic technological or political factors but is the outcome of social cultural and spiritual processes Among such factors beyond the Protestant ethic Max Weber the rise of the absolutist state and its disciplinary network Michel Foucault or court society Norbert Elias a prime role is played by theatre The modern reality is deeply theatricalized Second a special access for studying this theatricalized world is offered by novels The best classical novels not simply can be interpreted as describing a world like the theatre but they capture and present a world that has become thoroughly transformed into a global theatre The theatre effectively transformed the world and classical novels effectively analyze this theatricalized reality much better than the main instruments supposedly destined to study reality philosophy and sociology Thus instead of using the technique of sociology to analyze novels the book will treat novels as a royal road to analyze a theatricalized reality in order to find our way back to a genuine and meaningful life

J.M. Coetzee and the Limits of Cosmopolitanism K. Hallemeier, 2013-11-07 Drawing on postcolonial and gender studies as well as affect theory the book interrogates cosmopolitan philosophies Through analysis of J M Coetzee's later fiction Hallemeier invites the re imagining of cosmopolitanism particularly as it is performed through the reading of literature

Hidden in Plain View Gary Saul Morson, 1987 For decades the formal peculiarities of War and Peace disturbed Russian and Western critics who attributed both the anomalous structure and the literary power of the book to Tolstoy's primitive unruly genius Using that critical history as a starting point this volume recaptures the overwhelming sense of strangeness felt by the work's first readers and thereby illuminates Tolstoy's theoretical and narratological concerns The author demonstrates that the formal peculiarities of War and Peace were deliberate designed to elude what Tolstoy regarded as the falsifying constraints of all narratives both novelistic and historical Developing and challenging the ideas of Mikhail Bakhtin Morson explores Tolstoy's account of the work's composition in light of various myths of the creative process He proposes a theory of creation by potential that incorporates Tolstoy's main concerns the openness of each historical moment the role of chance in history and within narrative patterns and the efficacy of ordinary events hidden in plain view in shaping history and individual psychology In his reading of Tolstoy he demonstrates how we read literary works within the penumbral text of associated theories of creativity
