Alexander Karp, Gert Schubring

Uneb Curriculum For Sub Maths Students:

Handbook on the History of Mathematics Education Alexander Karp, Gert Schubring, 2014-01-25 This is the first comprehensive International Handbook on the History of Mathematics Education covering a wide spectrum of epochs and civilizations countries and cultures Until now much of the research into the rich and varied history of mathematics education has remained inaccessible to the vast majority of scholars not least because it has been written in the language and for readers of an individual country And yet a historical overview however brief has become an indispensable element of nearly every dissertation and scholarly article This handbook provides for the first time a comprehensive and systematic aid for researchers around the world in finding the information they need about historical developments in mathematics education not only in their own countries but globally as well Although written primarily for mathematics educators this handbook will also be of interest to researchers of the history of education in general as well as specialists in cultural and even social history

Teacher Education in Sub-Saharan Africa Rosarii Griffin, 2012-05-14 In the drive to achieve universal primary education as one of the Millennium Development Goals there is an increasing recognition of the urgency of focusing on teacher education to both meet the demand for more than one million qualified teachers required to achieve this goal within sub Saharan Africa as well as to combat the sometimes poor quality educational experience reported in the school Currently approximately only one third of teachers are qualified to teach This dearth in qualified teachers also means that secondary and tertiary education need to be improved upon to provide an educated cohort of graduates This in turn will ensure that the quality of teacher trained and retained within the profession is of a sufficiently high standard to ensure sustainable progress This volume focuses on the various aspects of teacher education which need to be addressed in order for the wider Millennium Goals to be achieved but more importantly so that each African child living within sub Saharan Africa will have the right to a quality education ensuring they too experience their right and entitlement as children to reach their full potential often taken for granted in Western countries giving African children the necessary tools to build a better future for themselves Of particular interest to the education researcher and policy maker this volume's contributors look at the various issues and challenges around the teacher profession particularly in relation to resources and practices within sub Saharan Africa The contributors examine the issue of building research capacity for educational research within teacher education Colleges and explore the concept of education for sustainable development with the view to improving the development of quality teacher education within the global South In this volume research reports are presented highlighting the various challenges within the structure and provision of teacher education within certain national contexts including assessment and curricula issues which need to be addressed This volume goes from the global to the local and examines teacher educator teaching learning and reflective practice issues within different contexts as well as exploring alternative pre service experiences for western teachers who wish to work within the sub Saharan context as well as some teacher educator exchange programmes between the South and North Case countries explored include Lesotho South Africa Mozambique Uganda Kenya Tanzania and Madagascar to mention but a few Of particular value to the education researcher and policy maker this book provides a timely resource focusing on an area of neglect highlighting the central role of the teacher and teacher education towards sustainable development within the sub Saharan African context Teaching Statistics in School Mathematics-Challenges for Teaching and Teacher Education Carmen Batanero,Gail Burrill,Chris Reading,2011-07-31 Teaching Statistics in School Mathematics Challenges for Teaching and Teacher Education results from the Joint ICMI IASE Study Teaching Statistics in School Mathematics Challenges for Teaching and Teacher Education Oriented to analyse the teaching of statistics in school and to recommend improvements in the training of mathematics teachers to encourage success in preparing statistically literate students the volume provides a picture of the current situation in both the teaching of school statistics and the pre service education of mathematics teachers A primary goal of Teaching Statistics in School Mathematics Challenges for Teaching and Teacher Education is to describe the essential elements of statistics teacher s professional knowledge and their learning experiences Moreover a research agenda that invites new research while building from current knowledge is developed Recommendations about strategies and materials available to train prospective teachers in university and in service teachers who have not been adequately prepared are also accessible to the reader

Decolonizing Philosophies of Education Ali A. Abdi,2012-01-01 Philosophy of education basically deals with learning issues that attempt to explain or answer what we describe as the major questions of its domains i e what education is needed why such education and how would societies undertake and achieve such learning possibilities In different temporal and spatial intersections of people s lives the design as well as the outcome of such learning program were almost entirely indigenously produced but later they became perforce responsive to externally imposed demands where as far as the history and the actualities of colonized populations were concerned a cluster of de philosophizing and de epistemologizing educational systems were imposed upon them Such realities of colonial education were not conducive to inclusive social well being hence the need to ascertain and analyze new possibilities of decolonizing philosophies of education which this edited volume selectively aims to achieve The book should serve as a necessary entry point for a possible re routing of contemporary learning systems that are mostly of de culturing and de historicizing genre With that in mind the recommendations contained in the 12 chapters should herald the potential of decolonizing philosophies of education as liberating learning and livelihood praxes This collection of critical and scholarly analyses provides an insightful and timely resource for decolonizing philosophies of education that continue to shape discourses policies curricula and practices in all levels of educational and social institutions It also usefully challenges versions of postcolonial studies that fail to recognize and demystify the continuity of colonial hegemony in contemporary societal formations in both the global north and south Toh Swee Hin Distinguished Professor University for Peace Costa Rica Laureate UNESCO Prize for Peace Education 2000

Decolonizing philosophies of education edited by Ali A Abdi is a collection of twelve essays by noted scholars in the field who provide strong readings of postcolonialism in education with an emphasis on decolonizing epistemologies It provides a clear and comprehensive introduction to the critical history of colonization postcolonial studies and the significance of education to the colonial project This is an important book that provides a global perspective on the existential and epistemological escape from the colonial condition Michael A Peters Professor Educational Policy Studies University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign

Some Developments in Research in Science and Mathematics in Sub-Saharan Africa Lorna Holtman, 2008 Much attention in late developing countries is given to providing access to studies which allow school leavers to enter science and technology related careers These programmes are driven by the belief that graduates will then substantially contribute to the developmental needs of their countries But is providing access to institutions enough Students in developing countries often come from school environments lacking in resources human physical and financial This book in a number of chapters reviews research related to the crucial dimension of epistemological access to the disciplines of import which students need as much as institutional access in order to improve their chances of success A significant feature of this collection s research studies is that their empirical bases are highly localised covering areas such as research methods access curriculum instruction and assessment and the relevance of science and mathematics education in Zimbabwe Uganda Swaziland South Africa Namibia Malawi Ghana and Lesotho This volume provides invaluable insights and will be of relevance to researchers policy makers and lecturers interested in these research outcomes in Sub Saharan Africa It is the outcome of a doctoral research capacity development project the Graduate Studies in Science Mathematics and Technology Education GRASSMATE

Improving Education Outcomes Samer Al-Samarrai,The World Bank,Blane Lewis,2021-07-23 The majority of the world s children live in countries where local governments are responsible for the provision of basic education services Although subnational governments manage their own education systems they often rely on transfers from the central government for funding The main purpose of this study is to assess how these fiscal transfers affect public funding for education and how they ultimately affect student schooling and learning outcomes Through a careful analysis of how fiscal transfers have affected education systems in different contexts the investigation develops a set of principles to support improvements in the design and implementation of transfer systems with a specific focus on the provision of education services The study is centered on seven country case studies that aim to answer a set of common research questions using a similar approach. Country case studies were conducted in Brazil, Bulgaria, China, Colombia, Indonesia, Sudan, and Uganda. The analysis shows that fiscal transfer mechanisms can improve the adequacy of public education spending, reduce spending inequalities between regions, and improve spending efficiency. Moreover, the study highlights that carefully designed and implemented transfer systems can help raise overall education outcomes and reduce education inequality. This publication was funded by a grant from the Results in Education for All Children (REACH) trust fund at the World Bank. Education - Spirituality - Creativity Tania Stoltz, Angelika Wiehl, 2021-04-30. Education, spirituality, and creativity help to navigate possible courses of action in a life marked by commercialization and loss of meaning. Education that promotes knowledge and managing information while neglecting autonomous cognition and creative action can be found everywhere. On the other hand, education, spirituality, and creativity are essential for a life led with awareness, empathy, and criticism that are reflected upon in the present anthology by authors from Brazil and Europe. They inspire new educational approaches and encourage immersing oneself in undefined and uncertain phenomena. The Editors.
