Rachlew,2022-04-05 The world is loaded with information We enjoy immediate access to most of it through laptops smartphones and the Internet There is however a great deal of information that professionals cannot reach unless they talk to their clients patients job applicants and others In fact the number of professions in need of accurate and reliable information through professional conversations is huge The way professionals approach these interpersonal meetings will have profound impact not only on the subsequent decisions the information gathering is intended to support but also equally on the clients trust in the interviewer and their organisations No interview setting has been subjected to more systematic and critical research than police detectives in their interpersonal encounters with victims witnesses and suspects of crime This research has provided the police with innovative interviewing techniques The knowledge and principles underpinning the concept of Investigative Interviewing its models and techniques provide more accurate and reliable information than any other known interview technique It is founded on ethical interpersonal communication theories and informed by cognitive and social psychology Equally important it is designed for practitioners and delivered through a practical step by step model a model we are confident is of great utility value far beyond police stations
