Quilt Arts of South Africa Marsha MacDowell, 2025-05-27 In the southernmost region of the African continent women have been piecing together materials textile construction techniques commonly used in quilting to create bed coverings throughout the history of the San and Khoi peoples From the late seventeenth century through the early nineteenth century an influx of Dutch French Indian and British military personnel traders miners and missionaries came to South Africa bringing with them their own cultural traditions including making and using quilts Today the making of quilts in South Africa is flourishing Quilt Arts of South Africa stitches together the history production and significance of quilt making from its earliest appearance in the continent s southernmost region to the twenty first century With input from curators linguists art historians activist artists and folklorists this book presents disparate yet connected inquiries into a wide ranging history of the quilt These perspectives connect a rich expressive art to place showing how the quilting traditions in South Africa together reflect a unique cultural history and natural landscape Itself pieced together from diverse voices Quilt Arts of South Africa offers glimpses into the histories and meanings of quilting in South Africa

Remembering Theologians - Doing Theology Dirkie Smit,2013-10-01 Theology for me has always been about friendship whether with students postgraduate students colleagues ministers ecumenical believers from different traditions theologians from abroad or simply books and publications articles and sources This volume is a witness to some of these friends and some of these conversation partners dead and alive near and far like minded or from totally different backgrounds and persuasions I have met over several decades and with whom I have been privileged to engage doing theology Dirk J Smit International Piano ,2007 Public Theology, Religious Diversity, and Interreligious Learning

Manfred L. Pirner,Johannes Lahnemann,Werner Haussmann,Susanne Schwarz,2018-06-14 This book describes the relationship of Christian Public Theology to other religions and their ways of contributing to the common good It also promotes mutual learning processes in public education to strengthen the public role and responsibility of religions in pluralistic societies This volume brings together not only public education and public theology but also scholars from a variety of disciplines such as philosophy cultural studies and sociology and from different parts of the world By doing so the book intends to widen the horizon and provide fresh impulses for public theology as well as the discourse on public religious education

Essays on the Real Church Dirk J. Smit,2024-08-15 The spirit of the Reformation is often expressed in the well known slogan that Reformed churches are always being reformed according to God s Word ecclesia reformata semper reformanda secundum verbum Dei Over the last century the spirit of this slogan motivated someone like Dietrich Bonhoeffer to argue that the visible form and life of the church should reflect the truth and message of the church Already in his doctoral dissertation called Sanctorum Communio the communion of the saints the young Bonhoeffer combined theological claims and traditions with social theory and analysis in this spirit in an innovative way to study the nature and integrity and witness of the church At the time this was a radical claim with major consequences and challenges for Protestant churches Their life which meant their order structure actions statements convictions public presence and role was to be measured by their gospel which meant their message proclamation convictions claims They could no longer proclaim one truth yet live a different life It was this spirit which led to the well known Theological Declaration of Barmen in 1934 and to the formation of the Confessing Church in Nazi Germany Many called this a moment of truth a status confessionis It was this same spirit which later inspired the struggle in South Africa for the integrity and faithfulness of the church and for the credibility of its message proclamation and witness The contributions in this volume 52 papers essays sermons studies were all produced in this spirit Most of them have not been published before They were all occasional pieces written over several decades in different contexts and for different purposes and audiences yet they all breathe this self critical spirit of the Reformation considering whether the real church the concrete every day actual living church that people know and experience and perhaps belong to truly strives to embody the gospel itself the message which it claims and proclaims They all inquire under different circumstances and in diverse ways about different social forms of the real church from worship to congregation from denomination to ecumenical church from individual believers to movements and organisations whether and how they embody the truth of the church or not Together these contributions tell a story the story of this spirit in South African circles over several decades but also in the ecumenical church in our globalizing world They offer one small glimpse into different concrete moments in the story of this spirit in the life of this tradition and community of faith Hopefully some of these accounts may resonate with others who also shared the same spirit and still share it today in new and ongoing ways

Uprooting University Apartheid in South Africa Teresa A. Barnes, 2018-12-07 South Africa continues to be an object of fascination for people everywhere interested in social justice issues postcolonial studies and critical race theory as manifested by the enormous worldwide attention given to the RhodesMustFall movement In this book Teresa Barnes examines universities complex positioning in the apartheid era and argues that tracing the institutional legacies left by pro apartheid intellectuals are crucial to understanding the fight to transform South African higher education A work of interpretive social history this book investigates three historical dynamics in the relationship between the apartheid system and South African higher education First it explores how the legitimacy of apartheid was historically reproduced in public higher education Second it looks at ways that academics maneuvered through and influenced national and international discourses of political freedom and legitimacy Third it explores how and where stubborn tendrils of apartheid era knowledge production practices survived into and have been combatted during the democratic era in South African universities African Migration, Human Rights and Literature Fareda Banda, 2020-12-24

This innovative book looks at the topic of migration through the prism of law and literature. The author uses a rich mix of novels, short stories, literary realism, human rights and comparative literature to explore the experiences of African migrants and asylum seekers. The book is divided into two parts. Part one is conceptual and focuses on art, activism and the myriad ways in which people have sought to write justice. Using Mazrui's diasporas of slavery and colonialism, it then considers histories of migration across the centuries before honing in on the recent anti-migration policies of western states. Achiume is used to show how these histories of imposition and exploitation create a bond which bestows on Africans a status as co-sovereigns of the First World through citizenship. The many fictional examples of the schemes used to gain entry are set against the formal legal processes. Attention is paid to life post-arrival which for asylum seekers may include periods in detention. The impact of the increased hostility of receiving states is examined in light of their human rights obligations. Consideration is paid to how Africans navigate their post-migration lives which includes reconciling themselves to status fracture, taking on jobs for which they are over-qualified while simultaneously dealing with the resentment borne of status threat on the part of the citizenry. Part two moves from the general to consider the intersections of gender and status, focusing on women, LGBTI individuals and children. Focusing on their human rights and the fictional literature, chapter four looks at women who have been trafficked as well as domestic workers and hotel maids while chapter five is on LGBTI people whose legal and literary stories are only now being told. The final substantive chapter considers the experiences of children who may arrive as unaccompanied minors. Using a mixture of poetry and first person accounts, the chapter examines the post-arrival lives of children, some of whom may be citizens but who are continually made to feel like outsiders. The conclusion follows, starting with two stories about walls by Hadero and Lanchester which are used to illustrate the themes discussed in the book. Few African lawyers write about literature and few books and articles in Western law and literature look at books by or about Africans so a book that engages with both is long overdue. This book provides fascinating reading for academics, students of law, literature, gender and migration studies and indeed the general public. Reconfiguring Reproduction Sarojini N., Vrinda Marwah, 2015-01-01

Though commonplace today as a technological quick fix for infertility, assisted reproduction is a complex phenomenon located at the intersection of patriarchy, medicalization and commerce. These technologies create both challenges and opportunities and response to them have sought to balance questions of ethics, rights and politics. The essays in this volume map the journey of ARTs in different countries, examining the global industry and the challenges it poses in the context of markets and look at regulatory frameworks in diverse settings. Together they bring a feminist lens to the examination of the now established ART industry. Sama's longstanding work provides a special focus on India, the spread and features of the industry, the gendered nature of the burden and treatment of infertility, the destabilization of the family as we know it and feminist
