Global Perspectives on Decolonizing Postgraduate Education Gumbo, Mishack Thiza, Gaotlhobogwe, Michael, Pedzisai, Constantino, Jojo, Zingiswa Mybert Monica, Knaus, Christopher B., 2024-05-13 A deep seated issue persists in postgraduate education one that threatens the relevance of academia in our diverse and evolving world The problem at hand is the Western centric nature of postgraduate education where research paradigms methodologies and theoretical frameworks overwhelmingly reflect a Western worldview This rigid adherence to Western ideologies has left indigenous communities on the periphery of academic discourse denying them the opportunity to engage with their knowledge systems and practices Despite the richness and prevalence of indigenous knowledge the existing educational structure remains a barrier to their inclusion This disconnect is not only an academic concern but also a societal one as it hinders sustainable development and stifles the voices of indigenous scholars and students Global Perspectives on Decolonizing Postgraduate Education serves as a compelling solution to the problem at hand It offers a comprehensive roadmap to decolonize postgraduate education infusing it with indigenous approaches paradigms theories and methods Through critical examination and practical strategies this book empowers academics curriculum designers and postgraduate students to embark on a transformative journey

Regionalization of African Higher Education Jane Knight, Emnet Tadesse Woldegiorgis, 2017-04-17 Growth in the scope, scale and importance of higher education regionalization should not be underestimated or ignored. Africa, like Asia, Europe and Latin America, is promoting deeper cooperation among higher education bodies and institutions across the continent and focusing more attention on Pan African and sub-regional harmonization of policies and programmes. This is the first book which brings together diverse scholars and policy experts to examine key aspects and challenges of African higher education regionalization. Chapters examine the progress and prospects of core regionalization issues and strategies such as academic mobility, quality assurance, recognition of qualifications, research centres and networks, curriculum and competencies and regional academic programmes. Other chapters discuss important themes such as the relationship between regionalization, internationalization and Africanization, historical antecedents and perspectives, an analytical model to understand functional, organizational and political approaches to Africa's higher education regionalization and the influence of the Bologna process on the African Union's Strategy for the Harmonization of Higher Education Programmes. Together, these chapters provide a comprehensive overview of efforts by the African Union, sub-regional higher education associations such as IUCEA, SARUA and CAMES, Pan African organizations and actors, key research networks and centres of excellence and the involvement or dependence on external actors and funders, especially from Europe. Fundamentally, the book asks the question whether higher education regionalization in Africa is more rhetoric than reality. It discusses the progress to date on specific themes, identifies historical, political, sustainability and funding challenges and concludes that while the impacts of regionalization efforts have not been fully realized, there is cautious optimism for the future. ECCWS2016-Proceedings for the 15th European Conference on Cyber Warfare and Security Robert Koch, Gabi Rodosek, 2016-06-15 These proceedings represent the work of researchers participating in the 15th European Conference on Cyber Warfare and Security (ECCWS 2016) which is being hosted this year by the Universität der Bundeswehr Munich, Germany, on the 7-8 July 2016.
