1. Define or clearly explain the meaning of each of the following terms: (1 point each)

a) Thermocline

- Is a layer of water that has a fluctuation of temperature more often than most layers

b) Estuary

- A point in where water from the river and water from the ocean mix

c) Epiphyte

- Is are parasites that grow on trees and support them such as moss

d) Niche

- An area where a species lives

2. What is the intertidal zone? What type of conditions must organisms that live in this area experience/adapt to? (2 points)

The intertidal zone is basically the point where the water touches land

3. What is the difference between a community and an ecosystem? How are they similar (what would they have in common)? (2 points)

Population is based on a one species residing in the same area whereas community is several species populations living in the same area.

4. Why is the mixing of water important in aquatic systems (e.g. lake turnover or upwelling in oceans)? (1 point)

It is important because oxygen and nutrients are able to be dispersed into each layer of water where no nutrients or oxygen typically are.
