

The Cold War Heats Up

1. As you read the passage, fill in the information you discover about the Soviet-American agreement below.

	What the Soviets Wanted	What the Americans Wanted
1. Would it make any sense to build space weapons and launch them?	That U.S. suspend the construction of heavy nuclear arms.	None.
2. Would anyone benefit from the launch and controlled fall of an atomic bomb?	They would surely produce fallout that was worse than the atomic bombs already in use.	They were willing to live in fear of nuclear war, but not to live in a world where both sides feared nuclear war. They would accept nuclear change, planned action, and control of limited strategic nuclear war.
3. Would anyone disagree with this?	No disagreement.	Some might disagree with the Soviet position and the agreement.
4. Would the Americans agree with this?	No disagreement.	No American could see how the agreement would not take a revolutionary step forward.

2. Suppose the agreement simply set up the program to discuss:

• How the two countries would handle nuclear war.

• How the two countries would handle nuclear war.

• How the two countries would handle the nuclear war.

• How the two countries would handle the nuclear war.
