Operads of Wiring Diagrams Donald Yau, 2018-09-19 Wiring diagrams form a kind of graphical language that describes operations or processes with multiple inputs and outputs and shows how such operations are wired together to form a larger and more complex operation This monograph presents a comprehensive study of the combinatorial structure of the various operads of wiring diagrams their algebras and the relationships between these operads The book proves finite presentation theorems for operads of wiring diagrams as well as their algebras These theorems describe the operad in terms of just a few operadic generators and a small number of generating relations The author further explores recent trends in the application of operad theory to wiring diagrams and related structures including finite presentations for the propagator algebra the algebra of discrete systems the algebra of open dynamical systems and the relational algebra A partial verification of David Spivak's conjecture regarding the quotient freeness of the relational algebra is also provided In the final part the author constructs operad maps between the various operads of wiring diagrams and identifies their images Assuming only basic knowledge of algebra combinatorics and set theory this book is aimed at advanced undergraduate and graduate students as well as researchers working in operad theory and its applications Numerous illustrations examples and practice exercises are included making this a self contained volume suitable for self study

Electrical, Information Engineering and Mechatronics 2011 Shaobo Zhong, Fuzhong Wang, 2012-03-14 As future generation electrical information engineering and mechatronics become specialized and fragmented it is easy to lose sight of the fact that many topics in these areas have common threads and because of this advances in one discipline may be transmitted to others The 2011 International Conference on Electrical Information Engineering and Mechatronics EIEM 2011 is the first conference that attempts to follow the above idea of hybridization in electrical information engineering mechatronics and applications This Proceedings of the 2011 International Conference on Electrical Information Engineering and Mechatronics provides a forum for engineers and scientists to address the most innovative research and development including technical challenges and social legal political and economic issues and to present and discuss their ideas results works in progress and experience on all aspects of electrical information engineering mechatronics and applications Engineers and scientists in academia industry and government will find a insights into the solutions that combine ideas from multiple disciplines in order to achieve something more significant than the sum of the individual parts in all aspects of electrical information engineering mechatronics and applications
