Vathek with The Episodes of Vathek William Beckford, 2001-05-14 William Beckford's Vathek is a touchstone of eighteenth century Orientalism and of the Gothic novel. Beckford's later work The Episodes of Vathek shares Vathek's irreverent and decadent style and an edition that unites the two has long been overdue. The Broadview edition includes a newly discovered early version of the first episode never before in print that centres on male male love as well as the previously published version that was re-written by Beckford as a heterosexual narrative. Based on the 1823 edition the last one edited by the author himself the Broadview Edition also introduces The Episodes in the order Beckford planned and incorporates his final corrections.

The Acts and Monuments of John Foxe John Foxe, George Townsend, 1870 The Transparent Eye Eugene Chen Eoyang, 1993-02-01 In this remarkably stimulating and erudite series of essays Eugene Chen Eoyang explores many of the underlying paradigms and presumptions in world literature highlighting issues of cultural interchange and cultural hegemony. Translation is seen in this perspective as a central rather than a peripheral factor in understanding the meanings of literary works. Taking concrete examples from Chinese literature Eoyang illuminates not only the semantic collisions that underlie the complexities of translation but also the cultural identities reflected in language and values. The title alludes to a passage from Emerson reminding us that the object on view is not only the vision we see but is also the organ through which that vision is apprehended. The confrontation with a radical other which is for many Westerners what Chinese literature represents is thus both a discovery and a self discovery. Part of the book's originality is that it identifies a new audience one that is incipiently bicultural or knowledgeable about what has been called East as well as what has been called West Readers with an interest in the theory and practice of translation will find this an inspiring and indispensable work one that prepares the way for a comparative poetics that recognizes the intense subjectivities in every culture and at the same time establishes a basis for a comparison that tries to transcend even as it acknowledges provincialities
