Almost Nothing Nora Wendl, 2025-05-20 The iconic Edith Farnsworth House is a singular glass home designed by Mies van der Rohe But the oft told history of the house overwrites Farnsworth's role as Mies's collaborator and antagonist while falsely portraying her as the architect's angry ex lover Nora Wendl's audacious work of creative nonfiction explodes the sex and real estate myth surrounding the Edith Farnsworth House and its two central figures An eminent physician and woman of letters Farnsworth left a rich trove of correspondence memoirs and photographs that Wendl uses to reconstruct her voice Farnsworth's memories and experiences alternate with Wendl's thoughts on topics like misogyny and professional ambition to fashion a lyrical examination of love loneliness beauty and the search for the divine Eloquent and confessional Almost Nothing restores Edith Farnsworth to her place in architectural history and the masterpiece that bears her name

20th-Century American Literature Alice Levick, 2021-05-20 From the paving of the Los Angeles River in 1938 and the creation of the G I Bill in 1944 to the construction of the Interstate Highway System during the late 1950s and the brownstoning movement of the 1970s throughout the mid 20th century the United States saw a wave of changes that had an enduring impact on the development of urban spaces Focusing on the relationship between processes of demolition and restoration as they have shaped the modern built environment and the processes by which memory is constructed hidden or remade in the literary text this book explores the ways in which history becomes entangled with the urban space in which it plays out Alice Levick takes stock of this history both in the form of its externalised concretised manifestation and its more symbolic representation as depicted in the mid 20th century work of a selection of American writers Calling upon access to archival material and interviews with New York academics authors local historians and urban planners this book locates Freud's Uncanny in the cracks between the absent and present invisible and visible memory and history as they are presented in city narratives demonstrating both the passage of time and the imposition of 20th century modernism With reference to the works of D J Waldie Joan Didion Hisaye Yamamoto Raymond Chandler Marshall Berman Gil Cuadros Paule Marshall L J Davis and Paula Fox Memory and the Built Environment in 20th Century American Literature unpacks how time becomes visible in Los Angeles Sacramento Lakewood and New York in the decades just before and after the Second World War questioning how these spaces provide access to the past in both narrative and spatial forms and how at times this access is blocked

The Origins of Dislike Amit Chaudhuri, 2018-09-20 Strategic thinking for a writer articulates itself as dislike and as allegiance In this wonderfully rich and diverse collection of essays Amit Chaudhuri explores the way in which writers understand and promote their own work in antithesis to writers and movements that have gone before Chaudhuri's criticism disproves and questions several assumptions that a serious and original artist cannot think critically in a way that matters that criticism can't be imaginative and creative work contain radical argumentation that a writer reflecting on their own position and practice cannot be more than a testimony of their work but open up how we think of literary history and reading Illuminating new ways of thinking about Western and non Western traditions prejudices and preconceptions Chaudhuri shows us again that he takes nothing as a given literary tradition the prevalent definitions of writing and culture and the way the market determines the way culture and language express themselves He asks us to look again at what we mean by the modern and how it might be possible to think of the literary today

The Exile of Language Libera Pisano, 2025-06-05 The Exile of Language uncovers a hidden chapter in the history of philosophy where early twentieth century German Jewish thinkers such as Fritz Mauthner Gustav Landauer Margarete Susman Franz Rosenzweig and Walter Benjamin grappled with the inherent tension of their intertwined identities The study of these thinkers reveals how a sceptical and diasporic approach to language can question and reshape traditional concepts of belonging purity and nation By confronting the myth of autochthony their critiques of linguistic and national idolatry offer a fresh lens for reimagining politics in our times This narrative blends philosophical depth with groundbreaking insights making it a must read for anyone interested in the dynamic interplay of language identity and community
