Mergers and Alliances in Higher Education

Adrian Curaj,Luke Georghiou,Jennifer Cassingena Harper,Eva Egron-Polak,2015-03-31 This volume casts light on mergers and alliances in higher education by examining developments of this type in different countries It combines the direct experiences of those at the heart of such transformations university leaders and senior officials responsible for higher education policy with expert analysts of the systems concerned Higher education in Europe faces a series of major challenges The economic crisis has accelerated expectations of an increased role in addressing economic and societal challenges while at the same time putting pressure on available finances Broader trends such as shifting student demographics and expectations globalisation and mobility and new ways of working with business have contributed to these increased pressures In the light of these trends there have been moves both from national or regional agencies and from individual institutions to respond by combining resources either through collaborative arrangements or more fundamentally through mergers between two or more universities After an introductory chapter by the editors which establishes the context for mergers and alliances the book falls into two main parts Part 1 takes a national or regional perspective to give some sense of the historical context the wider drivers and the importance of these developments in these cases Included are both systemic accounts for countries as France Sweden Romania Russia Wales and England and specific cross cutting initiatives including a major facility at Magurele in Romania and a Spanish programme for promoting international campuses of excellence Part 2 is built from specific cases of universities either in mergers or alliances with examples from different countries such as France UK Romania Spain Germany Denmark Finland Switzerland A concluding chapter by the editors assesses these experiences and indicates the implications and future needs for understanding in this domain

Memoirs of a Born Free

Malaika Wa Azania,2018-11-20 Apartheid isn't over so Malaika Wa Azania boldly argues in Memoirs of a Born Free her account of growing up black in modern day South Africa Malaika was born in late 1991 as the white minority government was on its way out making her a Born Free the name given to the generation born after the end of apartheid But Malaika's experience with institutionalized racism offers a view of South Africa that contradicts the implied racial liberation of the so called Rainbow Nation Recounting her upbringing in a black township racked by poverty and disease the death of a beloved uncle at the hands of white police and her alienation at multiracial schools she evokes a country still held in thrall by de facto apartheid She takes us through her anger and disillusionment with the myth of black liberation to the birth and development of her dedication to the black consciousness movement which continues to be a guiding force in her life A trenchant audacious and ultimately hopeful narrative Memoirs of a Born Free introduces an important new voice in South African and indeed global activism
