Survival in the 'Dumping Grounds' Laura Evans, 2019-05-27 Survival in the Dumping Grounds examines a defining aspect of South Africa's recent past the history of apartheid era relocation While scholars and activists have long recognised the suffering caused by apartheid removals to the so called homelands the experiences of those who lived through this process have been more often obscured Drawing on extensive archival and oral history research this book examines the makings and the multiple meanings of relocation into two of the most notorious apartheid dumping grounds established in the Ciskei bantustan during the mid 1960s Sada and Ilinge Evans examines the local and global dynamics of the project of bantustan relocation and develops a multi layered analysis of the complex histories and ramifications of displacement and resettlement in the Ciskei      The 1840 translation of the Gospel of Luke as a technology of power Itumeleng D. Mothoagae, 2024-07-26 In this book the author aims to explore the impact of 19th century translations of the Bible into indigenous languages with a specific focus on the Setswana translation The translations have had a profound effect on the religious cultural practices of the indigenous people leading to erosion and alteration of their traditions and identities I argue that it is crucial to consider the translator's intentions and the associated literature such as journals and letters to understand the translation process comprehensively The Setswana Bible was the first to be translated in Africa and tracing the intentions of Robert Moffat the first translator is imperative to understanding the impact of the translation on the receptor culture The methodology adopted is interdisciplinary drawing from linguistics African languages history English literature cultural studies black studies and theology I analyse the impact of the 1840 Gospel of Luke in the context of

Setswana culture in South Africa and my findings demonstrate that translations cannot be distinct from the translator To gain a deep understanding of the implications of such texts I adopt a methodology that analyses significant historical literature and primary sources including the records and works of The British and Foreign Bible Society The History of the London Missionary Society and the journals letters and writings of missionaries such as Robert Moffat and John Campbell

The Tunisian Womens Rights Movement Jane D Tchaïcha, Khedija Arfaoui, 2017-07-14 Tunisian women have received significant attention for their active participation in preserving and extending women s rights since 2011 However their activism and latest achievements should be considered not a recent phenomenon but rather part and parcel of a distinctive local history that has included women as agents of change This book examines Tunisian women s lived experiences as individuals and as a group within a sociohistorical framework that uncovers the enduring feminine footprint over centuries and eventually underpins and defines their most recent fight for gender equality in postrevolutionary Tunisia The historic and current presentation of Tunisian women s public and civic engagement distinguishes between different types of women s objectives in order to examine women s activism holistically as it evolved in the local context The Tunisian Women s Rights Movement will be of interest to students and scholars of Tunisia North African and Middle East Studies and gender in the Arab world
