The rise of global Islamophobia in the War on Terror Naved Bakali, Farid Hafez, 2022-09-06 The War on Terror ushered in a new era of anti Muslim bias and racism Anti Muslim racism or Islamophobia is influenced by local economies power structures and histories However the War on Terror a conflict undefined by time and place with a homogenised Muslim Other framed as a perpetual enemy has contributed towards a global Islamophobic narrative This edited international volume examines the connections between interpersonal and institutional anti Muslim racism that have contributed to the growth and emboldening of nativist and populist protest movements globally It maps out categories of Islamophobia revealing how localised histories conflicts and contemporary geopolitical realities have textured the ways that Islamophobia has manifested across the global North and South At the same time it seeks to highlight activism and resistance confronting Islamophobia

Invisible Women Caroline Criado Perez, 2019-03-12 The landmark prize winning international bestselling examination of how a gender gap in data perpetuates bias and disadvantages women 1 International Bestseller Winner of the Financial Times and McKinsey Business Book of the Year Award Winner of the Royal Society Science Book Prize Data is fundamental to the modern world From economic development to health care to education and public policy we rely on numbers to allocate resources and make crucial decisions But because so much data fails to take into account gender because it treats men as the default and women as atypical bias and discrimination are baked into our systems And women pay tremendous costs for this insidious bias in time in money and often with their lives Celebrated feminist advocate Caroline Criado Perez investigates this shocking root cause of gender inequality in Invisible Women Examining the home the workplace the public square the doctor's office and more Criado Perez unearths a dangerous pattern in data and its consequences on women's lives Product designers use a one size fits all approach to everything from pianos to cell phones to voice recognition software when in fact this approach is designed to fit men Cities prioritize men's needs when designing public transportation roads and even snow removal neglecting to consider women's safety or unique responsibilities and travel patterns And in medical research women have largely been excluded from studies and textbooks leaving them chronically misunderstood mistreated and misdiagnosed Built on hundreds of studies in the United States in the United Kingdom and around the world and written with energy wit and sparkling intelligence this is a groundbreaking highly readable expos that will change the way you look at the world

Accommodating Muslims under Common Law Salim Farrar, Ghena Krayem, 2016-07-15 The book explores the relationship between Muslims the Common Law and Shar ah post 9 11 The book looks at the accommodation of Shar ah Law within Western Common Law legal traditions and the role of the judiciary in particular in drawing boundaries for secular democratic states with Muslim populations who want resolutions to conflicts that also comply with the dictates of their faith Salim Farrar and Ghena Krayem consider the question of recognition of Shar ah by looking at how the flexibilities that exists in both the Common Law and Shar ah provide unexplored avenues for navigation and accommodation The issue is explored in a comparative context across several jurisdictions and case law is examined in the contexts of family law business and crime from selected jurisdictions with significant Muslim minority populations including Australia Canada England and Wales and the United States The book examines how Muslims and the broader community have framed their claims for recognition against a backdrop of terrorism fears and how Common Law judiciaries have responded within their constitutional and statutory confines and also within the contemporary contexts of demands for equality neutrality and universal human rights Acknowledging the inherent pragmatism flexibility and values of the Common Law the authors argue that the controversial issue of accommodation of Shar ah is not necessarily one that requires the establishment of a separate and parallel legal system

Architecture, State Modernism and Cultural Nationalism in the Apartheid Capital Hilton Judin, 2021-04-08 This book is the first comprehensive investigation of the architecture of the apartheid state in the period of rapid economic growth and political repression from 1957 to 1966 when buildings took on an ideological role that was never remote from the increasingly dominant administrative legislative and policing mechanisms of the regime It considers how this process reflected the usurpation of a regional modernism and looks to contribute to wider discourses on international postwar modernism in architecture Buildings in Pretoria that came to embody ambitions of the apartheid state for industrialisation and progress serve as case studies These were widely acclaimed projects that embodied for apartheid officials the pursuit of modernisation but carried latent apprehensions of Afrikaners about their growing economic prospects and cultural estrangement in Africa It is a less known and marginal story due to the dearth of material and documents buried in archives and untranslated documents Many of the documents drawings and photographs in the book are unpublished and include classified material and photographs from the National Nuclear Research Centre negatives of 1960s from Pretoria News and documents and pamphlets from Afrikaner Broederbond archives State architecture became the most iconic public manifestation of an evolving expression of white cultural identity as a new generation of architects in Pretoria took up the challenge of finding form to their prospects and beliefs It was an opportunistic faith in Afrikaners who urgently needed to entrench their vulnerable and contested position on the African continent The shift from provincial town to apartheid capital was swift and relentless Little was left to stand in the way of the ambitions and aim of the state as people were uprooted and forcibly relocated structures torn down and block upon block of administration towers and slabs erected across Pretoria This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of architectural history as well as those with an interest in postcolonial studies political science and social anthropology

Pragna Rugunanan, Nomkhosi Xulu-Gama, 2022-05-30 This open access Regional Reader proposes new ways of theorizing migration in Southern Africa by arguing that traditional western forms of theorizing do not adequately fit the South South migration context. It explores the existing definitions of a migrant with a view to conceptualise a definition which will speak to the complexities envisioning a more inclusive Southern African region. The book investigates the various levels of migration moving from the local rural to urban and urban to rural to cross border migration middle class versus working class migrant household livelihoods livelihoods procurement versus wage earning social capital networks and how they make meaning of their circumstances in a foreign space. It also acknowledges the intertwined issues of gender and class as important in analyzing migration processes and the chapters feature both in varying dimensions. As such the book provides a great resource for students academics and policy makers.
