Transforming Higher Education Through Universal Design for Learning Seán Bracken, Katie Novak, 2019-02-21

Providing insight into the background theory and practical applications of Universal Design for Learning UDL Transforming Higher Education through Universal Design for Learning An International Perspective examines and shares best practice in UDL implementation worldwide to provide strategies for strengthening student accessibility engagement and learning outcomes through the development of flexible learning environments Drawing upon insightful research based contributions from educators and student service specialists in Australia Belgium Brazil Canada Ireland Israel Norway South Africa Spain the UK and all across the USA this book considers diversity in the form of disability minority ethnic groups gender identities first generation university students and varying socio economic backgrounds brings together key thinkers and actors in the field of UDL and expertly maps its practices to the higher educational domain explores the multiple means of representation expression and engagement that combine to create a successful UDL framework Each chapter not only provides a different perspective of how UDL has helped meet the needs of all students to ensure that education is accessible culturally responsive and socially just but also considers how this can then be implemented into higher education environments the world over This book is a crucial read for those who want to make a positive difference in higher education provision and outcomes

Financial Inclusion and Digital Transformation Regulatory Practices in Selected SADC Countries Howard Chitimira,Tapiwa Victor Warikandwa,2023-03-28 This book investigates the regulation and promotion of financial inclusion and provides a comparative analysis of the regulation promotion and enforcement of the relevant laws in the SADC in particular South Africa Namibia Botswana and Zimbabwe as well as the challenges of financial inclusion In turn it evaluates financial inclusion in the context of specific challenges faced by unbanked and underbanked customers who are easy targets for cyber criminals because they tend to have lower levels of digital literacy The book presents novel discussions that identify the challenges and flaws associated with the enforcement of financial inclusion laws and related measures intended to promote financial inclusion in the SADC region This is primarily done in order to reveal the current strengths and weaknesses of financial inclusion laws in relation to certain aspects of the companies securities and financial markets in the region For example there is no common financial inclusion instrument law that is effectively and uniformly applied throughout the SADC This has impeded the enforcement authorities efforts to effectively combat financial exclusion across the region The book is likely the most comprehensive study to date on the regulation and promotion of financial inclusion in the SADC region and fills a major gap in SADC and African legal jurisprudence As such it offers a valuable asset for policymakers attorneys bankers securities share holders and other market participants who deal with financial inclusion as well as undergraduate and graduate students interested in the topic Finweek ,2006-07 Sustainable Development in Africa Walter Leal Filho,Rudi Pretorius,Luiza Olim de Sousa,2021-07-09 This book serves the purpose of documenting and promoting African experiences on sustainable development which encompasses both formal and non formal education Sustainable development is very important to Africa but there is a paucity of publication which documents and promotes experiences from African countries Due to their complexity the interrelations between social economic and political factors related to sustainable development especially at universities need to be better understood There is also a real need to showcase successful examples of how African institutions are handling their sustainability challenges It is against this background that this book has been produced It is a truly interdisciplinary publication useful to scholars social movements practitioners and members of governmental agencies and private companies undertaking research and or executing projects focusing on sustainability from across Africa As African nations strive to pursue the UN Sustainable Development Goals it is imperative to cater for the information needs seen across the continent and foster the dissemination of experiences and case studies which may support both on going and future efforts The scope of the book is deliberately kept wide and we are looking for contributions across the spectrum of sustainable development from business and economics to arts and fashion administration environment languages and media studies

Mergers and Alliances in Higher Education Adrian Curaj, Luke Georgiou, Jennifer Cassingena Harper, Eva Egron-Polak, 2015-03-31 This volume casts light on mergers and alliances in higher education by examining developments of this type in different countries. It combines the direct experiences of those at the heart of such transformations: university leaders and senior officials responsible for higher education policy with expert analysts of the systems concerned. Higher education in Europe faces a series of major challenges. The economic crisis has accelerated expectations of an increased role in addressing economic and societal challenges while at the same time putting pressure on available finances. Broader trends such as shifting student demographics and expectations, globalisation and mobility and new ways of working with business have contributed to these increased pressures. In the light of these trends there have been moves both from national or regional agencies and from individual institutions to respond by combining resources either through collaborative arrangements or more fundamentally through mergers between two or more universities. After an introductory chapter by the editors which establishes the context for mergers and alliances, the book falls into two main parts. Part 1 takes a national or regional perspective to give some sense of the historical context, the wider drivers and the importance of these developments in these cases. Included are both systemic accounts for countries as France, Sweden, Romania, Russia, Wales and England and specific cross-cutting initiatives including a major facility at Magurele in Romania and a Spanish programme for promoting international campuses of excellence. Part 2 is built from specific cases of universities either in mergers or alliances with examples from different countries such as France, UK, Romania, Spain, Germany, Denmark, Finland, Switzerland. A concluding chapter by the editors assesses these experiences and indicates the implications and future needs for understanding in this domain.

Bulletin of the National Library of South Africa, 2015 History of South Africa Thula Simpson, 2022-09-01

South Africa was born in war, has been cursed by crises and ruptures and today stands on a precipice once again. This book explores the country's tumultuous journey from the Second Anglo-Boer War to 2021. Drawing on diaries, letters, oral testimony and diplomatic reports, Thula Simpson follows the South African people through the battles, elections, repression, resistance, strikes, insurrections, massacres, crashes and epidemics that have shaped the nation. Tracking South Africa's path from colony to Union and from apartheid to democracy, Simpson documents the influence of key figures including Jan Smuts, Nelson Mandela, Steve Biko, P. W. Botha, Thabo Mbeki and Cyril Ramaphosa. He offers detailed accounts of watershed events like the 1922 Rand Revolt, the Defiance Campaign, Sharpeville, the Soweto uprising and the Marikana massacre. He sheds light on the roles of Gandhi, Churchill, Castro and Thatcher and explores the impact of the World Wars, the armed struggle and the Border War. Simpson's history charts the post-apartheid transition and the phases of ANC rule from Rainbow Nation to transformation, state capture to New Dawn. Along the way it reveals the divisions and solidarities of sport, the nation's economic travails and painful pandemics from the Spanish flu to AIDS and Covid-19.

Fees Must Fall Susan Booysen, 2016-10-01

This book explores the student discontent a year after the start of the 2015 South African FeesMustFall revolt. FeesMustFall, the student revolt that began in October 2015, was an uprising against lack of access to and financial exclusion from higher education in South Africa. More broadly, it radically questioned the socio-political dispensation resulting from the 1994 social pact between big business the ruling elite and the liberation movement The 2015 revolt links to national and international youth struggles of the recent past and is informed by black consciousness politics and social movements of the international left Yet its objectives are more complex than those of earlier struggles The student movement has challenged the hierarchical top down leadership system of university management and it s double speak of professing to act in workers and students interests yet entrenching a regressive system for control and governance University managements while on one level amenable to change have also co opted students into their ranks to create co responsibility for the highly bureaucratised university financial aid that stands in the way of their social revolution This book maps the contours of student discontent a year after the start of the FeesMustFall revolt Student voices dissect colonialism improper compromises by the founders of democratic South Africa feminism worker rights and meaningful education In depth assessments by prominent scholars reflect on the complexities of student activism its impact on national and university governance and offer provocative analyses of the power of the revolt

Advancing Online Course Design and Pedagogy for the 21st Century Learning Environment Chatham, Daniel, 2021-01-08 The current learning environment is substantially different than what existed for most of the 20th century Learners and teachers today must navigate in perpetually changing contexts where education is influenced by technological advancement and obsolescence economic barriers a changing employment landscape and even international politics Studies indicate that employers seek to hire graduates with strong skills in areas coalescing around international awareness creativity communication leadership and teamwork Skills and experiences in these areas are necessary preparation for the current economy and to pursue jobs that do not exist yet while providing some insulation against the obsolescence of industries that lack these characteristics These interpersonal skills are not often the subject of students degrees yet there are opportunities in online education to cultivate them With increased interest in new career options comes the need to reconsider how to teach subjects in the increasingly online environment Advancing Online Course Design and Pedagogy for the 21st Century Learning Environment is a critical reference book that navigates today s dynamic education requirements and provides examples of how online learning can foster growth in skill areas necessary for career advancement through effective course design Moreover it helps educators gain insight into online pedagogy and course design for the 21st century learner and prepares them to convert traditional courses and enhance existing online courses thereby supporting students growth and development in the highly dynamic online learning environment Focusing on specific learning activities assessments engagement communication techniques and more this book provides a valuable resource for those seeking to upgrade teaching and learning into the online environment those that seek better employment outcomes for their students and those seeking to explore contemporary online course design strategies or examples This includes teachers instructional designers curriculum developers academicians researchers and students Landscapes between Then and Now Nicola Brandt, 2020-09-08 In Landscapes Between Then and Now Nicola Brandt examines the increasingly compelling and diverse cross disciplinary work of photographers and artists made during the transition from apartheid to post apartheid and into the contemporary era By examining specific artworks made in South Africa Namibia and Angola Brandt sheds light on established and emerging themes related to aftermath landscapes embodied histories unbelonging spirituality and memorialization She shows how landscape and identity are mutually constituted and profiles this process against the background of the legacy of the acutely racially divisive policies of the apartheid regime that are still reflected on the land As a signpost throughout the book Brandt draws on the work of the renowned South African photographer Santu Mofokeng and his critical thinking about landscape Landscapes Between Then and Now explores how practitioners who engage with identity and their physical environment as a social product might reveal something about the complex and fractured nature of postcolonial and contemporary societies Through diverse strategies and aesthetics they comment on inherent structures and epistemologies of power whilst also expressing new and radical forms of selfdeterminism Brandt asks why these cross disciplinary works ranging from social documentary to experimental performance and embodied practices are critical now and what important possibilities for social and political reflection and engagement they suggest

The Decolonization of Knowledge Jonathan D. Jansen, Cyrill A. Walters, 2022-06-30 In 2015 students at the University of Cape Town used the slogan RhodesMustFall to demand that a monument of Cecil John Rhodes the empire builder of British South Africa be removed from the university campus Soon students at Oxford University called for the removal of a statue of Rhodes from Oriel College The radical idea of decolonization at the forefront of these student protests continues to be a key element in South African educational institutions as well as those in Europe and North America This book explores the uptake of decolonization in the institutional curriculum given the political demands for decolonization on South African campuses and the generally positive reception of the idea by university leaders Based on interviews with more than two hundred academic teachers at ten universities this is an innovative account of how institutions have engaged with subverted and transformed the decolonization movement since RhodesMustFall Policy and Planning in Universities Anthony J. Liddicoat, 2018-10-18 In a world where higher education is increasingly internationalised questions of language use and multilingualism are central to the ways in which universities function in teaching research and administration Contemporary universities find themselves in complex linguistic environments that may include national level language policies local linguistic diversity an internationalised student body increasing international collaboration in research and increased demand for the use and learning of international languages especially English The book presents a critical analysis of how universities are responding these complexities in different contexts around the world The contributions show that language issues in universities are complex and often contested as universities try to negotiate the national and the international in their work In some contexts universities language policies and the ways in which they are implemented may have a negative impact on their ways of working In other contexts however universities have embraced multilingualism in ways that have opened up new academic possibilities for staff and students Collectively the chapters show that universities language policy and planning are a work in progress and that much further work is needed for universities to achieve their language goals This book was originally published as a special issue of Current Issues in Language Planning
