scholars to reexamine existing frameworks of the international community and individual rules of international law The process of applying international law to states is a dynamic one Rules of international law may and should regulate the behavior of states and provide standards to decide whether a particular act by a state is permissible At the same time however states may change or replace existing rules and a significant event or series of such events may be a strong motivator to create a new legal framework In this regard rules of international law and the conduct of states are in a dialectical relationship International law can both shape a mode of conduct and be shaped by that conduct being its creator as well as its creation The Ukraine conflict is not an exception We can discuss the conduct of the Russian Federation Ukraine other states and international organizations and evaluate their legality and legitimacy from the viewpoint of existing rules However we may also reevaluate the current rules of international law through the lens of the Ukraine conflict and discuss possible changes to those rules in the future Inspired by the latter aspect of the international legal process the present book aims to examine the impact of the Ukraine conflict whether salient or potential on various rules of international law Most of the authors are from Japan and other Asian countries that are geographically remote from the site of the conflict It is often true however and particularly in this case that those keeping an appropriate distance can look at relevant issues in a broader view and from a more objective perspective To what extent and in what manner may the Ukraine conflict have an impact on the legal framework of the international community and the rules of international law This book is the first to answer those questions in a comprehensive manner
