"Much as we abhor the war of 'criminal aggression' in the Philippines, greatly as we regret that the blood of the Filipino is on American hands, we more deeply resent the betrayal of American institutions as home Whether the ruthless slaughter of the Filipino shall still bear a mark on our soul year is but an incident in a contest that must go on until the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States are rescued from the hands of their betrayers. There is no dispute about standards of value while the foundation of the Republic is undermined; will be it saved or will it be lost? Is there who would wrangle about the small economies of the household while the house is on fire. The training of a great people for a century, the aspiration for liberty of a vast immigration are forces that will hurt aside those who in the delirium of conquest seek to destroy the character of our institutions."
