

Developmental Psychology

UNIT OVERVIEW

Developmental psychologists study the life cycle, from conception to death. Unit 9 covers physical, cognitive, and social development over the life span and introduces two major issues in developmental psychology: (1) whether development is best described as gradual and continuous or as a discontinuous sequence of stages and (2) whether the individual's personality remains stable or changes over the life span. The issue of the relative impact of genes and experience on behavior is the subject of Unit 3C. This unit also explores how genes and environment interact to shape both the biological and social aspects of our gender.

There is a great deal of information to learn in this unit, including many terms and a number of important research findings. Pay particular attention to the stage theories of Jean Piaget, Lawrence Kohlberg, and Erik Erikson, as well as to the discussion regarding intellectual stability during adulthood.

NOTE: Answer guidelines for all Unit 9 questions begin on page 253.
