Library Journal. Declan Burke fled Ireland forty years ago and never looked back. Now settled in New York, he thinks he's put the old country behind him until he reads the obituary of one Cathal Murphy. The obituary he sees at once is not about Murphy at all. It is a coded indictment of Burke's own life and an announcement of his impending death. Halifax lawyer Monty Collins investigates the obit with its allusions to Burke's IRA past. From the farms of Ireland to the tenements of New York City, Collins gets no help from Burke, who, good soldier to the end, keeps the silence of the grave. p. 1 margin 0 0px 0 0px 0 0px font 16 0px Times webkit text stroke 000000 span s1 font kerning none Barrington Street Blues: A rich man and a poor man are found dead of from being both a preacher's kid and preacher's wife but mostly from being human. Humanly speaking everyone has a story and the true stories of everyday people found in this book will be an encouragement to your faith. Herein are fourteen sections that explore simple truths of hope for everyday living. Sections include stories of miracles disguised as problems because only people with problems are candidates for miracles. You will encounter people who trusted God enough to raise the umbrella of faith in their storms of fear. Challenges of many kinds became blessings. God wants to help you pick up the broken pieces of your life and allow Him to fit them back together. The same brokenness that shattered your world can be used by God to help heal you. You are God's glorious masterpiece in the making. Being broken does not mean the end; it can mean the beginning of the best of the best. When God's love comes into a heart, everything changes. His love turns the darkness into glorious rays of mercy and grace. When fear is present, faith loses; but when faith is present, fear loses and hope is born. Simple truths from God's Word heal all wounds. And the simple truth of salvation through Jesus Christ delivers peace with God. Do you want to be healed by the truth?
